See LIFE, B1

In good hands

Wheaton, Cooks give Oregon State 1-2 punch

— See SPORTS, B10

Lovejoy's city work shines in new light

Author brings to life an overlooked leader in Portland's history

By STEVE LAW The Tribune

Bubonic plague struck San Francisco in August 1907, and Portland and other Pacific ports feared they'd be hit next.

One month into her job as the nation's first big-city female public health officer, Esther Pohl Lovejoy moved quickly.

Resisting calls to scapegoat Chinatown, Lovejoy enlisted the news media to expose rotting piles of garbage and open sewers at Portland waterfront businesses. She led a city crackdown forcing the use of enclosed garbage receptacles and screens to keep rats from stockpiles of wheat and other foodstuffs. And she enlisted "Lovejoy professional rat catchers came to and offered believe that residents a internickel bounty for every rat national they brought health, in, dead or social justice alive. The plague and an end to war could only come from the work of women engaged in resistance."

did spread to Seattle that fall, but Portland was spared. During

Lovejoy's tenure as a public health officonstructive cial here, Portland became the first Author Kim city in the nation to con-Jensen, on Esther Pohl duct govern-Lovejoy ment inspections of meat markets — a year before the release of Upton Sinclair's muckracking book "The Jungle" and passage of the Federal Food and Drugs

Lovejoy went on to become a pivotal leader in the 1912 campaign that finally granted Oregon women the right to vote, after five failed ballot mea-

In 1920, she became the first woman to run for Congress in an Oregon general election. And for nearly five decades, Lovejoy was a pioneer in international medical aid, inspiring groups like Doctors Without Borders.

Now Lovejoy, relatively unknown in Oregon, is getting her due, with the release this month of Kim Jensen's new biography, "Oregon's Doctor to

See LOVEJOY / Page 9

SCHOOL'S ARTS GO A LITTLE

Buckman Arts Focus Elementary, a district-wide magnet school, doesn't get extra funding for their arts focus. Third-graders enjoy music class on Monday. TRIBUNE PHOTOS: CHRISTOPHER

Portland author Cheryl Strayed lends hand to Buckman program

By JENNIFER ANDERSON The Tribune

Cheryl Strayed was terrified. She wasn't facing a bear, or a rattlesnake, or a scorching or snowy landscape, as she chronicled in her New York Times bestseller, "Wild," an account of her 1993 solo journey on 1,100 miles of the Pacific Crest Trail. Strayed, a Northeast Portland mom, was thinking about what she'd say to a bunch of grade-schoolers.

Sure, she was a guest of Oprah this summer to talk about kicking off the billionaire's book club 2.0.

Sure, Reese Witherspoon has

PHOTO: JONI KABANA

rights to portray her in a "Wild" movie set to film next summer. But Strayed wasn't sure if the kids at Buckman Arts Focus Elementary School would think she was all that cool. Or if they'd listen.

CHERYL STRAYED

"I've talked to thousands and thousands of people," 44-year-old Strayed said by phone this week from a hotel room in St. Paul,

Minn. "I've given probably 200 talks, signed the movie but none of them have been to children. ... I thought that keeping the attention of a roomful of elementaryschool children, they can get easily distracted. What if I'm boring?"

Strayed somehow managed to keep the crowd at bay at Buckman, where she's sent her second-grade son and first-grade daughter since kindergar-

Despite the adult-only passages in the book, "I actually did tell them a lot of the story," she says. "I told them my mom died and in my sorrow I just didn't know what to do with myself. The two things that made me feel good were walking and being in the wilderness, so I set out on this adven-

For the first time in any of her public presentations, she showed the children a slide show of photos, and brought her backpack and pitched the actual tent she used on the trail back in 1993, when she was 26.

Strayed thinks they got something out of it. After hearing her talk, students returned to their classes to do illustrated writing projects that will be on display the night of Oct. 29, when she lends her star power to a

See BUCKMAN / Page 2

North Plains: Stinkin' plant hurts

Small shops say many driven away by compost pile stench

The Tribune

Portland's aggressive composting policies are raising a stink in North Plains — and critics there are afraid the problem will spread if other cities adopt similar policies.

Nature's Needs, a large composting facility that accepts much of the Portland's commercial food waste and residential yard debris mixed with residential food waste. It is just east of North Plans, the small community north of Hillsboro along Highway 26.

The Washington County Board The controversy revolves around of Commissioners must decide accepting food waste before the end of the year. A work session on the issue has been scheduled for Oct.

Many residents and business owners charge that offensive odors frequently waft from the facility through neighborhoods and commercial areas. Ruth Peterson, who whether the facility can continue owns the Corner Deli less than a mile away, says the odors have driven customers away.

"I've seen people drive up outside, get out of the car, wrinkle their noses, get back in the cars and drive away," Peterson said last week. "They're not going some-

See COMPOST / Page 4

Pssst! What's inside has real mysterious appeal

No sign? No problem for pubs, eateries that like the pull of 'mystique' marketing on customers

By PETER KORN The Tribune

Megan O'Connell never noticed that the sign outside Moonshine advertises a business machine company.

She was just driving past the Northwest Portland pub on Northwest 17th Avenue, noticed the light on inside and what looked like an interesting group of patrons out-

Now a regular at Moonshine, O'Connell likes the misleading

"It feels elite," she says. Rebecca Fontaine, enjoying a plate of fries with O'Connell on this Wednesday evening, learned about Moonshine from friends and now she's a two or three times a week customer.

"I think it's quirky," Fontaine says of the sign. "It adds to the charm of the place."

Moonshine — full name Balls the Cat's Moonshine Kitchen & Lounge — is among a growing

See SPEAKEASY / Page 5

A couple walks

Moonshine Patio

passed the Bar & Grill

before turning back around and going in, missing

the store front

due to a lack of

TRIBUNE PHOTO:

CHRISTOPHER

signage.

Experts expect housing to help timber rebound Oregon's timber industry should see growth as national housing starts pick up, say experts who spoke Wednesday morning. Search word: timber.

Read it first at portlandtribune.com

"Pamplin Media Group's pledge is to deliver balanced news that reflects the stories of our communities. Thank you for reading our newspapers.

- DR. ROBERT B. PAMPLIN. JR. OWNER & NEIGHBOR

Buckman: Arts magnet, but no extra funds

From page 1

fundraiser called "The Arts Have

"My 7-year-old son wrote a poem based on an anecdote she told about a chipmunk," says Sarah Bowen Shea, a Buckman mother of three, a fellow writer and co-founder of the blog "Another Mother Runner."

Starving artists

It was Bowen Shea who came up with the idea for the fundraiser, and Strayed was quick to agree.

As her readers know, Strayed who gained a cult following for her "Dear Sugar" advice columns on a blog called The Rumpus — infuses her life with the arts.

"I've wanted to be writer since I was a little kid," she says. "For me it was those teachers that talked about artists and writers, shared those lives with me — that was the first spark in me that I could be a writer too.'

When it came to her own children, Strayed says she and her husband — filmmaker Brian Lindstrom sought an arts-rich public education for that reason.

As their son, Carver, was about to enter kindergarten three years ago, they lived in the South Tabor neighborhood but tried to get into Buckman through the district-wide

When their son didn't get in, the family decided to rent the South Tabor home and move into the Buckman neighborhood so he could enroll there. A few months ago, they moved from inner Southeast to inner Northeast, still in the school's boundaries.

Private school wasn't an option, Strayed says, because both she school believers, having come from working-class backgrounds and being products of public A school resource schools.

Also, until the recent success of "Wild," she says it was never a financial reality: "We're both starving artists."

Buckman, Strayed says, her kids love to draw, dance and perform in plays.

Buckman students get four classes in the arts each week: six weeks each of visual art, drama, music and which the art teachers bring art into the classroom.

The school is less affluent than people assume: 40 percent of students are eligible for free- or re- positions, in visual arts and dance. duced-price meals. Fifty-seven percent of the students live in the Buckman catchment area; the rest come from across the district.

Strayed also cherishes the community's high value on the arts she wishes all public schools had the means to return to their past glory that way.

A third-grade class sings along with music teacher Regina Pirruccello. Buckman's Foundation is raising money to protect teaching positions.

'It goes back to the arts education I received," she says. "My mother never went out of her way to make sure we went to the best schools. I had an art teacher, a music class, a librarian, a library. Now these things are considered extra."

It's ironic, she adds, that Buckman has to be labeled as an arts magnet school: "I don't think my kids are being immersed in the arts. I think they're getting a basic and Lindstrom are big public arts education that every kid in the world should receive.

Portlanders will vote Nov. 6 on a

"If I can use my something to the really happy to · Cheryl Strayed,

voice to bring school, I'm do it."

general election ballot measure that would provide arts funding for schools and arts organizations. The annual flat tax of $35 for every income-earning resident comes with much support and criticism; Strayed, not surprisingly, is a big supporter.

Buckman Principal Brian Anderson says the school does not re-dance. There's also one period in ceive any extra funds for its arts designation.In fact, like all Portland schools faced with budget cuts this year, he says he was forced to eliminate two full-time art teacher

> The community rallied in the spring, and the foundation came up with the funds to restore both posi> tions. That process, Bowen Shea says, "lit a fire under our feet to organize Portland community, not just the Artwork lines the hallways and lockers at Buckman, where first-grader Sasha Greenway puts away her bag before lunch. An Oct. 29 event features bestselling author Cheryl Strayed, a Buckman parent.

Buckman one. Given Cheryl's immense success and popularity — as well as her generous spirit — it was a logical step to turn to her as a resource we could mine to raise Anderson echoes that thought. We're looking at how to sustain the program if we do lose one of those teachers in upcoming years," Anderson says. "It was a wakeup call.' The Buckman Foundation will event to stave off future cuts. A $100 per person. third of the funds will go to the Portland Schools Equity Fund.

"When they asked me to do this, I said if you think it'll bring money in, I'm happy to do it," Strayed really over hearing myself talk about myself at this point. I've had enough of me. But if I can use my voice to bring something to the school, I'm really happy to do it."

The event will feature a reading and discussion with Strayed, who also wrote two other books: "Tiny Beautiful Things" and "Torch."

The 6 p.m. gathering is an hourlong event for up to 60 people at ENSO Urban Winery, three blocks from the school. It'll include food from Meat Cheese Bread and use the proceeds from the Oct. 29 sweets from Sweetpea. Tickets are

At 7:30 p.m., Strayed will share excerpts from her books in the Buckman cafetorium, followed by a discussion and book signing. Tickets are $30 per person; both events events that would reach the wider says. "I hope it'll be a success. I'm are a package deal of $120, available at theartshavestrayed.org.

Strayed plans 'Wild' vacation

In her pre-"Wild" success, Cheryl Strayed could usually be found at any of her favorite Portland stomping grounds — Powell's Books on Hawthorne, Broadway Books, Laurelhurst and Mt. Tabor Park.

These days, she's in and out of town, and still surprised when people recognize her on the street. Recently, she was in a parking lot in Northwest Portland when a man pulled his car up next to her and rolled down his window. "He says, 'Hey Cheryl, how you doing?" "she says. "I said, 'Oh, I'm great, how are you?' I said, 'I've forgotten your name,' just assumed I knew him. He said, 'Oh, we've never met. Congratulations for your success. We're all so proud of you."

Usually, Strayed says, people will just say, "I loved your book."

Then there was her recent trip to Minnesota. In the airport, a woman stood next to her holding a copy of "Wild." Strayed saw it and wondered if she should say anything. She finally introduced herself, and signed the woman's book.

For the next six weeks or so, Strayed will keep juggling travel and family.

Just before Thanksgiving, she's planning to take a six-week hiatus from her book tour: a family vacation to Australia, Laos, Cambodia and Thai-

"It's the gift I'm going to give to myself and my family for all that we've sacrificed this past year," Strayed says. "My schedule has been positively insane."

She'll pull her kids out of school for 2 1/2 weeks (plus all of the no-school days) during the holiday season as they travel — with no set agenda or reservations.

"I just want to walk along the beaches, see the villages and jungles," she says. "Just play cards, eat good food, savor each others' company in a foreign place.'

They'll be overseas until the new year, spending Christmas at a friend's house in Chiang Mai, Thailand, and making sure to let Santa know to leave their presents at their Portland house, per her kids' instructions.

Strayed says she'd also like to do some writing on the trip, perhaps in preparation for her next projects — a novel she started before "Wild" that she wants to return to, and another

For now, she's enjoying every moment of the fame.

"I obviously have this big thing that happened to me, and I think that as a writer — to be plugging along for so long and have this response — I want to rise to the moment," she says. "This is a really hard, intense year, and it won't always be this way. It's like riding a rocketship.'

— Jennifer Anderson

NEWS CONTACTS

News tips: tribnews@portlandtribune.com Circulation:

circulation@portlandtribune.com Letters to the Editor and My View submissions: tribletters@portlandtribune.com

Web site:

www.portlandtribune.com Main office:

503-226-6397 Circulation: 503-546-9810

Mailing address: 6605 S.E. Lake Road Portland, OR 97222

ADVERTISING CONTACTS

Monthly

223rd & Stark

Advertising phone: 503-684-0360

J. Brian Monihan, Advertising Sales Vice President, bmonihan@portlandtribune.com West Portland: Laura Davis, 503-546-9896

East Portland: Tamara Hollenbeck, 503-546-9894

Cheryl DuVal, Manager, Creative services cherylduval@portlandtribune.com

CORRECTIONS

The Portland Tribune strives for accuracy. Please contact Managing Editor Kevin Harden at 503-546-5167 or kharden@portlandtribune.com, if you see an error.

CommunityClassifieds

KIA MOTORS

(503) 620-7355

Web site: www.community-classifieds.com

Email: info@community-classifieds.com

(503) 620-3433

©2012 Portland Tribune

By PETER KORN The Tribune

Alma Avery Rubenstein is working on a one-woman show and book tentatively titled, "Pain and suffering: dating and depression." But take our word for it, the Southeast Portland resident is much more fun than that title suggests. Her professional name is Date Doctor Alma, organizer of Portland speed dating events, flirting seminars and dating coach at large.

Portland Tribune: When you host a speed dating night, do you get more men or wom-

Alma Avery Rubenstein: I design it to have the same amount

Tribune: How do you do that?

Rubenstein: Very creatively. I'll flirt with whichever sex I have to, to make it right.

Tribune: You've worked in Seattle, Los Angeles and New York. How do Portland singles rate?

Rubenstein: I hate to say it, but Portland needs help, men and women. I'm currently working with a guy client

Alma Avery Rubenstein who grew up with an overan online dating website. We failure, but in fact, it was a great can't even schedule a date bemother and who also was in the military and was pretty much trained to not offend a woman in any way. He's almost afraid to engage and make eye contact. I have to reparent him.

Tribune: How old is this guy?

Rubenstein: Forty-two. Tribune: Re-parent?

Rubenstein: We were out in the field doing our exercise

Tribune: Calisthenics?

Rubenstein: No. Practicing flirting and looking at women. The first woman I could finally get him to do something, she looks down really fast and he's thinking, "Alma, are you sure you know what you're doing?'

Portland women, they say they want love, romance, dating, sex, but they won't put their money where their mouths are. You need to be open to be flirted with.

People say New Yorkers are rude. No, New Yorkers feel, you know what they're thinking. Here it's more repressed. Portlanders will put their biking career over their potential mating career.

cause he's too busy training for some Turboman and he can't get me in between a 5-mile run and a protein eating session.

All his pictures are him on bikes, and I said to him, I asked him, "Could this be why you're still single?" I said to him, "Dude, put the bike down."

I had one guy, I went out with him in the field so he could approach women ...

Tribune: Wait, wait. Just where are you in this scenario? Lurking a few feet away?

Rubenstein: I'm everywhere. Sometimes I'll work as their wing person, sometimes I'll pretend I'm their co-worker, sometimes their sister. Sometimes we'll walk in and I'll say, "Who do you find attractive? I'm waiting outside. You're not leaving until they get your phone number."

Tribune: The one guy? Rubenstein: He was so nervous he threw up at the restaurant.

Tribune: With the woman of his dreams watching?

Rubenstein: He made it to the restroom. He thought that I met this Portland guy on had made him even more of a laugh.

got him to realize your body does react to change and we don't like change, but change is good. He had to realize, "This is what women do to me.'

Tribune: How much does all this cost?

Rubenstein: $175 an hour for a coaching session. And my prices are going up.

Tribune: Worst client? Rubenstein: I had a man take me to small claims court because I made him shave his beard. He wanted to appeal to younger women, but he had a white Santa Claus beard. Tribune: So why was he unhappy?

Rubenstein: I should have known; when I first met him he said he was suing his therapist.

Tribune: He got dates? Rubenstein: He did, but nobody made him happy. The judge totally laughed.

Tribune: Best line you've heard at speed dating? Rubenstein: Do you think these pants make me look fat? Tribune: Oh, come on.

Rubenstein: That was coming from a guy that I coached. He's putting a little flirt into it, and women love to

TRIBUNE PHOTO: CHRISTOPHER ONSTOTT

Alma Avery Rubenstein, aka Date Doctor, organizes Portland speed dating events, flirting seminars, and serves as a dating coach at large.

-SAT.-SUN. ONLY • At All George Morlan Plumbing Portland Area Locations

HUNDREDS OF ITEMS AT ROCK-BOTTOM CLEARANCE PRICES • SHOP EARLY! SELECTION VARIES AT EACH STORE.

Lavatory Faucet

Designer style

With drain!

Lavatory Faucet

Non metallic With drain! Chrome. 210701854

KOHLER Apron Sink

CAST IRON

Undermount

Apron front.

2005/9096

$990.00

White

MSRP:

1 Piece Toilet

Elongated bowl. Seat extra. 200532693 MSRP: $415

KOHLER Bathtub

"VILLAGER" 60"x30-1/4" CAST IRON White MSRP: $544.85

Kitchen Faucet

Chrome. Swing spout. 210701722

KOHLER Sink 33"x22". "EFFICIENCY". White. TOUGH CAST IRON! 20049145 MSRP:

Chrome. 210701919

Economy Toilet

White. 1.6 gal. Round bowl. 200528807 200528815

MSRP:$159.50 extra.

Toilet Seat

Pullout Faucet

Chrome.

210701803

MSRP: $90

Round bowl. White. 200352261 MSRP: $16.26

Shower Head

Shower Faucet

Sleek styling!

Chrome. 1 handle.

With Tub Spout

210701943

MSRP: $123.

Water Saver! 2 GPM flow. Adjustable spray. 210655542 MSRP: $15.00

GROHE Faucet EURODISC Pullout Spray with

Dual Flush Toilet

1.6 & 0.9 gal flush! Round bowl. 20071281 200571303 MSRP: $259.9 Seat

Pedestal Sink

23"x18"x35". Traditional styling. White china. 200444263 200425986 MSRP: $299.

Bathroom Fan

PANASONIC 80 CFM flow. 1.4 sones 42012783 MSRP: $133.

GROHE Faucet

For Laundry sink or Lavatory. Pullout spray. Chrome/white. 210634596 MSRP: $159.

Outdoor Spa

SUNDANCE® "Tacoma" Hot Tub

GROHE

ALL IN-STOCK FAUCETS

Low-Flow Toilet

MANSFIELD Alto

Round bowl.

200588591

MSRP:

$114.47

soap dispenser Chrome. 210687967 MSRP: $583.

MANSFIELD.

22"x18" size.

200590448

Made in USA

Seat

White. 1 hole.

MSRP: $158.88

Counterton Sink

USA

Stainless Sink

25"x22"x5-1/2" Single bowl. 23 gauge S/S. 200540211 MSRP: $59.50

PROMENADE

TOTO quality!

24"x19" top.

200282751

MSRP: $436.

High arc spout.

95

TOTO Pedestal

Corner Bath

JACUZZI® "Capella".

60"x60" corner. White acrylic. WITH SKIRT. 200284304 $2009.

TOTO Eco Toilet

PROMENADE

1.28 gallon flush.

Elongated bowl.

200510568

MSRP: $606

DAH

Soaking Bath

JACUZZI® Superior quality! 60"x42" oval. WITH SKIRT. White acrylic. 200572350 MSRP:$712.

IN TIGARD

Perfect for two!

78"x78" corner.

MSRP: $6100.

1 ONLY IN TIGARD:

1.28 gallon flush. Elongated bowl. 200484508 MSRP: $385.

TOTO Drake Toilet ECO-DRAKE.

TOTO Washlet

Warm water cleansing seat. Fits most toilets. Elongated bowl. Heated seat 200573918 MSRP: $649

TOTO Lavatory

20"x17" oval 4" drilled. Sleek style! White china. 200290827 MSRP: $78

Pfister "Santiago" Lavatory Faucet 8" widespread style.

#210671246 MSRP: $218.35

Pfister ALL IN-STOCK FAUCETS

Bosch Water Heater

ALL IN-STOCK

FIXTURES & FAUCETS

NO TANK! Natural gas. 92% Super Efficient! Compact! Hot water for the whole house! 10028544 MSRP:$2350

Blanco Granite Sink "Silgranit". Resists 500º heat!

33"x22" Black. Self rimming. 200303678 MSRP: $610.00

Artisan Lavatorv

20"x17" oval 4" drilled. White china. 200563610 Artisan brand.

MSRP: $ $65.00

Double Bowl Cast Iron Kitchen Sink

9" deep. #200452673 MSRP: $239

George Morlan Plumbing Supply

SE PORTLAND:

Seat

5529 SE Foster Road 503-771-1145 NW PORTLAND:

2222 NW Raleigh Street 503-224-7000

TIGARD / 99W:

12585 SW Pacific Highway 503-624-7381

SALEM:

399 Lancaster Drive NE 503-375-0200

SALE HOURS: FRIDAY-SATURDAY: 7:30am-6:00pm • SUNDAY: 9:00am-5:00pm • Sale prices limited to stock on hand. Photos for illustration purposes. Ends 10/21/12

Compost: DEQ inspections found violations

From page 1

where else in North Plains to eat. They're leaving town."

Nature's Needs operations manager Jon Thomas admits the facility had difficulty controlling odors in the past, especially last December, shortly after it began accepting Portland's resident yard debris and food waste. The Oregon Department of Environmental Quality even cited the facility for numerous violations of its state composting license in February.

But Thomas says Recology, the large recycling and resource recovery company that operates the facility, has spent millions on upgrades to reduce the problems. Recently completed work includes paving the ground where the composting occurs to better control moisture and installing odor abatement features, including large landscaped earthen berms.

'We believe we've made great progress in recent months," Thomas said last

That's not what the monthly odor complaint log maintained by North Plains shows, however. The log shows odor complaints jumping from a low of 54 in June to 94 in July and an alltime high of 280 in September.

Part of that increase could awareness, however, because of the upcoming county decision. The commission has only given Nature's Need permission to accept food waste until the end of the year. The commission must now decide whether or not to extend the food waste permit — and if so, for how long.

A grassroots group called Stop the Stink is fighting the extension. It has collected letters in opposition from many North Plains business owners and about 500 signatures on a petition calling for it to be de-

Co-founder Marilyn Schulz, an area farmer, says the fight is a regional issue. Some other cities have begun adopting voluntary commercial food waste recovery programs, including Beaverton, Gresham, Tigard and Lake Oswego. Schulz believes they are the first step towards adopting mandatory commercial and residential programs like those in Port-

"If other government go this route, they'll have to site additional composting facilities like Nature's Needs throughout the region," says Schulz.

Stop the Stink

Portland Mayor Sam Adams says his city is not to blame for the controversy. Although his city has aggressively pushed be because of increased public composting — including encouraging residents to mix food waste with the yard debris that has been composted for years Adams says Portland does not determine where the material goes. It is delivered to Metro transfer stations and then taken to facilities with DEQ permits. In Washington Countv. they must also be approved by the county commission.

PAMPLIN MEDIA GROUP: CHASE ALLGOOD

Corner Bistro owner Ruth Peterson says the odor from the nearby composting plant has driven customers away from her North Plains restaurant.

'We have a strong interest in protecting quality of life throughout the region, and we want to see the Nature's Needs impact on neighbors as is practical. But the city (of Portland) itself has no ability to direct where the compost goes or how it is managed," Adams says.

DEQ officials say it is impossible to completely eliminate odors during the composting process, however.

"The materials to be composted have odors, the composting process produces odors, and the finished material has odors," says Stephanie Rawson, the DEQ solid waste complifacility operated with as little ance specialist assigned to Na-

According to Rawson, her agency's goal is to assure the odors are consistent with a properly managed composting operation.

In fact, other companies did composting on the site before Recology leased it in 2009, and there were odor problems then,

"Bad smells would come from there in the past," says Tony Spiering, a Stop the Stink co-founder who owns Valley Machine, a precision manufacturing company just down the road from Nature's Need.

Spiering, Peterson, Schulz and others all agree the odors have gotten stronger and more frequent in recent years, however. Despite the attention focused on Portland's food waste. that may be because Nature's Needs is handling a far larger quantity of material than any of the previous owners. Recology is the seventh largest recycling and resource recovery company in the country.

Thomas admits the facility was inadequate for the workload when  $\bar{R}ecology$  first took it over in 2009. The ground was muddy, some of it requiring hip waders to cross. It was also flat, allowing odors to blow freely toward Highway 26 and populated areas. In December 2011, an inversion layer trapped odors in the areas for weeks, triggering 100 complaints the next month, the previous high.

The DEQ conducted on-site inspections on Jan. 11 and 12, finding numerous violations of its composting permit. It sent Recology a "Warning Letter With an Opportunity to Correct" on Feb. 1, 2012. Among other things, the letter expressed concerns about uncovered piles of material, standing water and poor drainage.

Much work has clearly been done to comply with the letter during the past 18 months. In addition to the paving, a drainage system has been installed in the high-moisture area and wind breaks have been built. Still, when the material is turned during the composting process, musty odors are released with large clouds of steam — which Thomas says is natural.

Environmental benefits

Spiering insists he is not against composting or even Nature's Need. He just believes the facility is too close to a population center.

"I know a composting facility is going to smell," Spierling says. "That's just the nature of the business. But that's why they shouldn't be located on the outskirts of a city. They need to be as far away from people as possible."

Schulz agrees, and says the location issue is going become increasingly important in coming years. Schulz believes other cities want to follow Portland's lead on composting. But if they do, Schulz says, the volume of commercial and residential food waste will increase so much that additional composting facilities will have to be cit-

"It doesn't make sense to site them far out of the region, where emissions from trucks hauling the material reduces the environmental benefits. But if they are cited too close to where people live and work, they're going to have the same problem as North Plains," says

Your Lifestyle Continues Here.

Mark your calendar for this upcoming event!

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Wednesday, October 31st 3:00pm to 4:30pm

Enjoy big band music by the PLUS 5 TRIO and compete to win a prize for best costume!

Call today for more details or to RSVP! (503) 388-4152

Independent Living, Assisted Living, and Memory Care Residences

32200 SW FRENCH PRAIRIE RD, WILSONVILLE

SRGseniorliving.com

BANK OWNED REAL ESTATE TIMED ONLINE INTERNET AUCTION ENDS NOV. 14TH - 1PM PST *** 28 Properties in 5 States ***

Pre-Auction Offers Encouraged - Brokers Invited SWC of N 10th Ave & Holladay St. - Portland: 5-Vacant Contiguous Lots on 3.9 Acres - General Industrial 20508 SW Roy Rogers Rd., Sherwood, 115, 116, 117-Condos: Unit 117=Finished Condo, Units 115 & 116=Shell Condition 23013 Canyon View Loop - Res. Lot -Bend, No Reserve!

SEE WEBSITE FOR INFO. ON ALL 28 PROPERTIES CORBETT BOTTLES REAL ESTATE AUCTIONS WWW.CORBETTBOTTLES.COM 208-377-5700

Children with asthma

Your child may qualify to participate in a clinical research study evaluating an investigational treatment for asthma if they:

- are 6-12 years of age
- · are currently being treated for asthma
- · are using inhaled steroids
  - ~ Qualifying patients will receive study related medical care and study medicine at no cost and and will be reimbursed for time and travel. ~

Call for more information:

Allergy Associates Research Center (503) 238-6233

Clinical Investigator: Michael J. Noonan MD

Burgerville BUILDING STRONG COMMUNITIES

NOMINATE A OCAL HERO

Burgerville and the Pamplin Media Group are looking to recognize people in the community who strive to make their communities a better place to live. People who inspire, give of themselves and are committed to service to others.

Nominate a person, a youth group, a school class, community service club or organization that is a local hero at #### www.thetribonline.net/burgervilleheroes

Nominations can also be mailed to: Pamplin Media / Burgerville Heroes, P.O. Box 22109, Portland, OR 97269. Please include contact information.

Local Heroes will be recognized each month through the Pamplin Media Group and Burgerville Restaurants.

The entrance to Portland's bar and restaurant

Sauvage is their listed the corner.

CHRISTOPHER

newest hip wine

hidden inside an office building on

Southeast Sixth

Avenue, despite address on Ash

Street around

TRIBUNE PHOTOS:

Speakeasy: Marketers warn of backlash

From page 1

number of Portland establishments run by people who seemingly never took Marketing 101 in college. Or so it would appear, since the dozen or so bars and restaurants either don't have applicable signs outside or have put up barely noticeable emblems.

Marketing experts say that retail shops need to get the word out, especially to passersby on the street. They say you want people to come, you have to give them a reason.

That's apparently not the case in Portland, when you're dealing with a crowd that likes to be in the know.

There's marketability in mystery, too.

Gil's Speakeasy on Southeast Taylor Street was the first in town to go the no-sign route, according to owner Brett Gilhuly. The Speakeasy opened in Prohibition-era 1939, when all the places that served alcohol had to stay hidden.

"If you could find it you were more than welcome to come in, and if you couldn't, find something else," Gilhuly says of the attitude back in the days when serving alcohol was illegal.

Gilhuly has owned Speakeasy for only eight years and says when he took over the bar he never gave a thought to the lack of a sign. Nowadays, he sees people walk by and get curious about what's inside, which he figures is a plus.

As for the trend, Gilhuly says he's noticed it too, with Whiskey Room, Dig a Pony, Sauvage and longtime dessert haven Rimsky-Korsakoffee among the no-sign establishments. The distant past has, apparently, assumed a renewed cachet.

Patrons enter Gil's Speakeasy through a door, featuring a classic 1920's era peephole, just below street level in Southeast Portland.

"There seems to be a push for that pre-prohibition cocktail," Gilhulv savs. "People are kind of embracing that underground type of mentality, I guess.'

The mystique beer

With high-priced marketing consultants doing everything they can to gain an edge in this media-saturated era, the nosign approach taps into a number of valued marketing ideas, says Debra Stephens, University of Portland marketing profes-

"Exclusivity. If you know about it then you're in the know. You're cool or whatever the operative word is," Stephens says. "It would also give people a sense of being special because they know something and they can bring their friends to it and also it reminds them of Prohibition. It gives a sense of forbiddenness, secrets. That appeals to people, too.'

The current marketing trend, Stephens says, is away from ing signs, according to Beitel-Moonshine opened a little more spacher, as a way to get the than a year ago, and the deciword out about an establishsion was made to keep the old ment. But that might only work for a while, she adds. Business has grown so fast in "Eventually, these customers will lose interest, and for the the past year that adding a sign restaurants to stay available, hasn't seemed necessary. they will have to advertise,' Maybe, Meacham says, advershe predicts. "Trends are tising to a larger audience would take away one of Moonshine's appeals.

sign "because it's super cool and it looks good."

"I like to be tucked away in my little neighborhood bar, and that's what we are trying to repseems to be working just fine. resent here," she says.

ward what she calls market segmentation — appealing to a specific group of consumers. Of course, an establishment based on attracting only those who are in the know by extension might leave out groups of people who aren't in the know. But Stephens says the no-sign approach is pretty much doing what everybody else does when they try to target a narrow demographic, just more overtly.

"This is what market segmentation is and does," Stephens says. "You have to decide who you're going to target."

"It makes all kind of sense," savs Dan Dickinson, director of advertising management at Portland State University, about the no-sign approach.

Dickinson says companies are always trying to develop mystique around their products, often unsuccessfully.

For years, he says, Coors beer managed it in a big way by not making its suds available in most states, including Oregon. Dickinson remembers driving to California to a little store just across the state border in the 1970s to load up on Coors. In substitutes for the disappeartique beer," Dickinson says. "It was a reason for a party, (bringing) a case of Coors back to Oregon.' No sign, Dickinson surmises, store virtually lived off its sales

"It was definitely the mysof Coors to Oregon customers.

can play into that same irrational attraction. "If you're trying to create some kind of mystery, (no sign) is a good way to do it,'

Tucked away

broad-based appeals and to- fact, he says that cross-border

Lauren Beitelspacher, Portland State University marketing professor, says there could be a danger in creating an air of exclusivity.

'Think about those people who stop listening to a band once the band becomes popular," Beitelspacher says. "Listeners feel like the band sold out and they don't want to listen to them anymore.

Beitelspacher sees the same phenomenon occurring regularly with new restaurants. Customers, she says, like a restaurant they feel they discovered.

Social media in many ways

STOP PAYING RENT!

0 Down/0 Closing You can use your VA Loan benefit more than once! 90% Cash-out Debt Consolidation refinance available

• $417,000 — max. amt. Call Tom Fitkin  Bankruptcies OK VA Loan Specialist Chapter 7 - 2 years 697-7214 Office after discharge trends because they don't last

But for now, says Sepal

Meacham, co-owner of Moonshine, the no-sign strategy forever."

ML-1018

703-5227 Mobile Chapter 13 - Today www.oswegomortgage.com

A popular hipster hangout on East Burnside, Rontom has attracted large weekend crowds despite not having any identifying signage.

A Presentation by Dr. Marci Nemhauser

AND TRANSFORMING IN AN AGE OF DISAPPOINTMENT

Our institutions are letting us down, our Leaders are disappointing, our Minds are distracted...

FIND YOUR WAY OUT OF THE FOG! FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 2012

This one-day workshop will:

- DELVE, Identify and Explore the Impact of Disillusionment,
- UNCOVER Disappointments, • BREAKTHROUGH Personal Barriers,
- CREATE a Personal Plan of Action to take you from where you are to where you want to be now in your life, career, and community.

Workshop will be held at Lakewood Center for the Arts

368 S. State Street, Lake Oswego, OR 97034 $195 fee includes workshop (9-4) and lunch. Space is limited – call today to register! 503-534-3628

Or register online at www.professionalgrowthservices.com

$4,000

Free Groceries

To Enter Just Complete

The Local Shopping Survey at:

www.pulsepoll.com

Win 12 months of

1820 E BURNSIDE • 503 223 2880 • w9yards.com

PORTLAND 832 NE Broadway

MILWAUKIE 17064 SE McLoughlin Blvd. 503-653-7076

Tualatin 8970 SW Tualatin Sherwood Rd 503-885-7800

SIMPLE CREMATION $495 Traditional Funeral $1,675 Immediate Burial §550

No Hidden Costs, Guaranteed Privately Owned Cremation Facility www.ANewTradition.com

every day - all day!

Community Classifieds Portland Tribune COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

503-620-SELL (7355) www.portlandtribune.com

Attention Entrepreneurs, Business-Owners and Innovators!

The 2012 National Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer Research (STTR) Conference will be held in Oregon for the first time featuring:

- Inventors can learn how to gain access to $2 billion in federal government grants that fund small businesses.
- Need-based scholarships available to learn about federal government grants that fund small businesses.
- Entrepreneurs can meet one-on-one for advice with federal program managers.
- Network with women and minority-owned firms that have successful SBIR/STTR programs.

REGISTER AT

Visit our Facebook page to win a chance to attend the event!

Voters should support change | Put Nolan on council to police, fire retirement fund

ortland property taxpayers can save $47 million during the next 25 years if voters agree in the November general election to sensible changes to the city's pension and disability program for police officers and firefighters.

Back in 2006, the city's voters approved significant reforms to put a halt to documented abuses of the Portland Fire and Police Disability and Retirement Fund. Now, they are being asked to consider a narrower set of reforms to ensure that police officers and firefighters get the pensions they have earned — but not more than they are due.

The biggest change being proposed by the city's Measure 26-145 would affect how retirement benefits are calculated. If the measure is approved, this calculation would be based on a police officer's or firefighter's actual salary for the year preceding retirement. Members of the retirement program no longer would be allowed to include retroactive wages. Nor would the fact that some years contain 27 pay periods — instead of 26 — be allowed to influence the pension amount.

Another change that strikes us as more than fair is establishing an eligibility period of six months for the disability program.

Under the current system, newly hired police officers or firefighters can claim lifetime benefits for injuries even if they were still in training and even if their disabilities don't prevent them from earning a living in other occupations. This measure would put new recruits into the state's regular workers compensation system for their first six months of employment.

Portland's City Council referred Measure 26-145 to the voters with the backing of Dan Saltzman, the commissioner assigned to oversee the Fire and Police Disability and Retirement Fund. The police and fire unions have said these type of changes shouldn't be decided by voters, but instead through collective bargaining.

In our view, however, Portland's system of funding the disability and retirement fund - through direct taxation of property owners — means that voters have a vital interest in controlling excessive costs while also treating retired or disabled employees with fairness. For that reason, we believe voters should approve Measure 26-145.

he campaign for Portland mayor — with all its twists, turns and mini-scandals — has likely distracted voters from the other contested city race on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Commissioner Amanda Fritz, who was elected four years ago to Council Position 1, faces a vigorous challenge from state Rep. Mary Nolan. The two candidates don't differ much when it comes to political philosophy, but we believe Nolan has the potential to be the more effective commissioner.

Fritz and Nolan ran against three lesser-known candidates in the May primary, and Nolan was able to keep Fritz below the 50 percent level needed to win outright in May. Now that the two top candidates are facing each other in a runoff, we hope voters will take a second look at Nolan, who is among the most qualified people to run for city commissioner in recent years. Early in her career, Nolan managed two city bureaus, including the Bureau of Environmental Services. She also has been a successful small-business owner and a leader in the Legislature. We have taken issue with some of Nolan's choices in Salem, but her legislative colleagues describe her as someone who can be moved by logic and facts.

Fritz, on the other hand, always has had strong grassroots support in Portland, but we don't believe she has been the City Hall watchdog that her constituents might have expected. The City Council could use a problem solver like Mary Nolan. Voters should give her their support.

Portland Tribune

FOUNDER

Dr. Robert B. Pamplin, Jr.

PRESIDENT J. Mark Garber

MANAGING EDITOR/ WEB EDITOR

Kevin Harden VICE PRESIDENT Brian Monihan

CIRCULATION MANAGER

Kim Stephens

CREATIVE

SERVICES MANAGER Cherul DuVal

PUBLISHING SYSTEMS MANAGER/WEBMASTER

Alvaro Fontán

Jennifer Anderson,

Jim Redden

NEWS WRITERS

FEATURES WRITERS Jason Vondersmith,

SPORTS EDITOR

SPORTSWRITERS

Kerry Eggers,

Stephen Alexander SUSTAINABLE LIFE

Steve Lau

COPY EDITOR Mikel Kellu ART DIRECTION AND DESIGN

VISUAL JOURNALIST

AND PHOTO EDITOR Christopher Onstott

INSIGHT PAGE EDITOR Keith Klippstein

PRODUCTION

Michael Beaird, Valerie

CONTRIBUTOR  $Rob\ Cullivan$ WEB SITE

portlandtribune.com

CIRCULATION 503-546-9810

6605 S.E. Lake Road Portland, OR 97222 503-226-6397 (NEWS)

The Portland Tribune is Portland's independent newspaper that is trusted to deliver a compelling, forward-thinking and accurate living chronicle about how our citizens, government and businesses live, work and play. The Portland Tribune is dedicated to providing vital communication and leadership throughout our community.

MYVIEW Path to PPS bond plan is paved with bad judgment

Focus on education, not new schools

By Teresa McGuire and Kelsey Green Grout

ortland Public Schools is on a misguided mission to pass a construction bond of almost a half billion dollars, the largest in its history. And it's only the beginning.

This bond is planned to be the first of seven, totaling more than $3.35 billion, which could last for 32 years — assuming all seven are passed by you, the voters.

This means we will all pay, homeowners and renters alike.

It's an assumption school district officials have made. In their world, to vote against a school bond is practically un-American.

In the real world, sometimes you have to say no.

PPS needs a history lesson. The last construction bond passed in 1995. The actual construction continued until five years ago. That bond was targeted for earthquake and fire safety, maintenance and upkeep, handicapped accessibility and computer upgrades.

Every high school in the district except Wilson High School had seismic improvements. Seismic work was completed at Franklin, Grant and Roosevelt, which are now proposed for rebuild in this bond. Marshall High School had almost $7 million poured into its campus — and is now closed.

This bond proposes to spend $70 million at Roosevelt, $85 million at Franklin and $95 million at Grant. The construction costs per square foot of $306, $346 and $389, are astronomical compared to tion costs of $220 to $240 per square foot. If we look at the reported capacity of the nine PPS high schools, they are under-enrolled by more than 5,300 students. PPS has 72 buildings at the elementary level with an under-enrollment of more than 10,000 students. Our schools can handle 15,000 more students in the buildings we already have open. That's not even including the 17 PPS buildings sitting idle like Marshall and Smith Elemen-

PPS has a "targeted enrollment" number for its various schools: 1,400 students at the high school level and 500 at the K-5, K-8 and middle school levels. Five of our high schools are below this 1,400-student target, three of them significantly. Twenty-two elementary or middle schools are below 415 students, well below the target of 500.

How many excess buildings do we need?

A Portland State University enrollment study predicts that during the next 15 years we may have student numbers increase as little as 2,000 students, or as much as

An 'arrogant process'

During the 1995 campaign, supporters said passing the bond would enhance the vitality of Port-

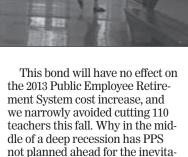

In 2012, Portland cannot call itself a great city when PPS has a graduation rate of 62 percent; English language learners have only a 36 percent graduation rate; Black, Hispanic and Native American students have a 50 percent or lower graduation rate. Fifteen of Portland's schools rank in the bottom 15 percent statewide in terms of student achievement, student academic growth and for high school graduation rates.

The number of instructional days is among the lowest in the nation — 169.5 days this calendar year, with a possible loss of an additional nine school days next

Having a nice, modern building doesn't guarantee an education. Rosa Parks, the newest Portland school, built in 2006, ranks in the bottom 5 percent of Title 1 schools.

If this bond passes, will we have gleaming new buildings with too few teachers and students warehoused in study halls?

ble reduced revenue? Poor long-term planning has led to the elimination of the district's three most recently constructed high schools (Marshall, Adams and Jackson). We cannot afford to waste funding on poor judgment and poor planning.

School district administrators will point to what they call "longrange facilities planning," but this was an arrogant process. It was a series of public meetings where input from outsiders was not always welcome and that were at times poorly attended.

If school leaders could not obtain better results after the last bond, what guarantee is given tnat tnev can manage tnis gargan tuan project? We cannot afford to fail our children. Without a costeffective 21st Century education plan to deal with the dismal 62 percent graduation rate, families will not move to Portland and our economy will suffer.

A Portland Public

Schools bond measure on the general election

ballot will fix school buildings, but some worry that it won't improve education for students.

TRIBUNE PHOTO:

Portland's children need a school district that will implement a 21st Century education plan with an emphasis on improved educational achievement and graduation rates, not a focus on build-

Teresa McGuire and Kelsey Green Grout are part of Restore Education Before Buildings, restoreeducation beforebuildings.com.

MYVIEW Budget woes could put our libraries in a deep hole Library district ends inconsistent funding

By Brian Wilson

ur libraries are wellloved and an essential part of what makes ours a great community. But even more remarkable is that they are so well-used: the secondbusiest in the entire nation — of any size city — after only New York City.

But as central as they are to our day-to-day lives, our libraries are subject to the instability that comes from a system of temporary and unpredictable funding.

Finally, we have a chance to do something about it.

Right now if you show up at the library most evenings, it's closed. On Monday, the library is closed all day. Hours of service are down to 44 a week, from 57 a week. We have the shortest hours of any public library system in the four-county Portland region. And when hours are cut back, so are activities we count on for kids, students, families, job-seekers, senior citizens and Even the budget for new books and materials has been reduced.

The library must make periodic cuts to hours and services because it relies on temporary funding. The roller-coaster system of funding available to the library means we don't know from year to year what hours and services we will have.

Those services make a real difference:

- More than 17,000 different library classes and events were held for youth each year. And more than 255,000 youth participated in library programs.
- Library story times served nearly 120,000 young children last vear.
- Parents are offered classes to show them how to teach their

- The library's School Corps program connects students and educators with the resources of the public library — directly serving 48,000 students in the last vear.
- Library staff create materials, gather books and provide support to more than 1,500 individual teachers. ■ The library serves 26,000 in-
- dividual children and parents at risk for low literacy, and assists in preparing children to start school ready to learn. ■ The libraries provide homework help after school to stu-

- dents, giving them a safe and structured place to go. ■ The library is one of the sole sources of computers for those who don't have them at home,
- use them. ■ Job seekers get important help from the libraries — how to and provides classes for how to search for a new or better job; how to interview and write a resume.

■ Library books are sent to senior citizens and the homebound — more than 200,000 a year.

Services this important need a stable source of funding and that is exactly what a local Library District would provide. Passing Measure 26-143 would restore the library hours and staff needed for services, programs and activities in all 19 libraries. Just as important, it provides permanent, reliable funding for a permanent, important service used by the entire community.

Funds for the library district will replace the current library levy so we won't pay that anymore. The typical homeowner will pay an additional $49 a year above what they already pay for will not create a new layer of government: the Multnomah County Commission remains the library district's governing body.

Approving the library district

It will also retain the accountability and good value we have always gotten from our libraries. Our library system currently receives annual financial audits and periodic performance audits from the independently elected auditor, and so will the library district. And three independent bodies will continue to review the library budget.

It's a straightforward choice: Creating a library district will provide stable, dedicated funding and will both restore the cuts and prevent them into the

So please vote yes, so our library can be there for all of us.

Brian Wilson is committee chairman for the Libraries Yes campaign supporting Measure 26-143.

Portland Tribune editorial board

- J. Mark Garber president, Portland Tribune and Community Newspapers Inc.
- 503-546-0714; mgarber@commnewspapers.com ■ Kevin Harden - managing editor, Portland Tribune 503-546-5167; kevinharden@portlandtribune.com

Submissions

The Portland Tribune welcomes essays on topics of public interest. Submissions should be no longer than 600 words and may be edited. Letters should be no longer than 250 words. Both submissions should include your name, home address and telephone number for verification purposes. Please send submissions via e-mail: tribletters@portlandtribune.com. You may fax them to 503-546-0727 or send them to "Letters to the Editor." Portland Tribune, 6605 S.E. Lake Road, Portland, OR 97222.

{ INSIGHT }

READERS'LETTERS

White 'privilege' is not always what it seems pal at Harvey Scott K-8 School, doesn't have a clue how racist she sounds — and she's a Portland Public Schools educator ("Schools beat the drum for equity," Sept. 6). I will not endorse the system that created her by voting yes on a halfbillion dollar school bond.

If I were a black parent and could afford it, I would be looking around at private school options in Portland. Young, black males are capable of intellectual achievement. They don't need more stereotypes about their musical ability.

Here's an assignment for Gutierrez: Go talk to some white skinheads about why they are the way they are. Don't be surprised if you find out that "white privilege" isn't all it's cracked up to be.

Pamela Fitzsimmons Southeast Portland

Looking for racism? You'll find it

Of course, Principal Verenice Gutierrez finds racism in the PB&J ("Schools beat the drum for equity," Sept. 6), she's looking for racism.

When you are constantly looking for evidence of something, you will find it, whether it is real or not Yevgeni Stepanov Pleasanton, Calif.

Discussion of racism falls flat

Since white people are the ones responsible for almost all of the effects of racism in this country, maybe they should be having this annual "Why can't we talk about race?" (Sept. 6) discussion amongst themselves to figure out how to solve a problem they created in the first place. The minoritized groups on the receiving end of institu-

Verenice Gutierrez, princi- ally works to people who aren't listening anyway.

Gerhard Magnus Northwest Portland

Math team runs into discrimination

Regarding the story, "Schools beat the drum for equity" (Sept. 6), about Harvey Scott School principal Verenice Gutierrez supporting the formation of a black and Latino drum class:

In 2005, when I served as chair of the mathematics department at Benson Polytechnic High School, my principal, Christie Plinski, called me into her office and asked what I would recommend as a means for improving the achievement of African-American students of Benson in mathemat-

I told her that I would sponsor a math club specifically designed to address African accomplishments in mathematics.

It would have the title, the African Math Club, and any one could join, but it would be designed to highlight the undoubted accomplishments of African mathematicians.

(I have an master's degree in the history of science in addition to my master's degree in mathematics.)

My principal refused, not once but several times, to approve such a method of improving African-American students' access to mathemat-

She told me it would be contrary to nondiscriminatory regulations and laws.

I leave the reader to draw his or her own conclusion.

Michael Meo Northeast Portland

Racial dialogue takes more than talk

I greatly enjoyed the Tribune article, "Why can't we tionalized racial bias must be talk about race?" (Sept. 6). getting really sick and tired of However, I have a concern re- talk about race" is due to the explaining how the world regarding it and one important

10/18

53

CROSSWORD

TRIBUNE PHOTO: CHRISTOPHER ONSTOTT

Schwinn bikes are the draw for members of club Belligerante in Northeast Portland that attracts a racially diverse crowd. Letter writers say it's time to have a good conversation about racial relations.

observation.

My concern is that the topic addressed the entire issue of race talk and racism in Portland as though it is exclusively a black/white problem. There was no mention of Latinos, Asians, American Indians and other people of color groups.

Diversity in Portland has become synonymous with "black." When organizations want to increase their diversity, they hire blacks, not Latinos, Asians or others. The majority of minority positions in City Hall have gone to African-Americans; the same goes with Portland Community Col-

Yet, African Americans comprise less than 2 percent of the population of Oregon, while Latinos are at 12 percent. Blacks are 6 percent of the population of Portland; Latinos are 9 percent. The majority/minority population group in Portland is Latino.

None of this came out in the article. We are not going to move forward in this city if racism is seen simply as a black/white problem.

A big reason "why we can't problem of omission versus commission. Whites see racism as acts of commission what you have actually done; while people of color see racism as acts of omission what you failed to do.

As Thomas Kochman says in "Black and White Styles of Conflict" (Chicago), "Whites start from a premise that a situation is not racist until we prove it is. Blacks start from a premise that the situation is until you prove it's not." Thus, whites would rather do nothing when confronted with a "perceived" racist situation than take action, so as to not be regarded as racist.

This is why there is an impasse in dialogue. Thus, no action is taken, because "doing nothing" makes me non-racist.

Yet, in taking no action, the 'bystander" has merely gone along with the status quo and silently supported the prevailing discrimination and racist policies and behaviors.

But, as Ben Franklin reminded us, "Justice will not be served until those who are unaffected are as outraged as those who are.'

Welcome to the conversation. Caleb Rosado

Newberg

Honor Timberline, stop bike park

Every Oregonian needs to extend a thank you to Jon Tullis for penning the essay celebrating the 75th anniversary of Timberline Lodge ("Timberline Lodge still a jewel 75 years later," Sept. 27).

He perfectly explained why Timberline is held in such high esteem, and why we are all responsible for the preservation and protection of our historic mountain home.

At the end of his essay, Tullis even testified to his personal belief in the historic meaningfulness of the lodge.

It is our hope that this a signal that RLK and Co. is withdrawing its proposal for a commercial gravity flow mountain bike park at the lodge since such an enterprise is the antithesis of everything Tullis wrote.

Here is a small sampling of what we know about the proposed pay-to-ride bike park:The elk that have used Timberline for their summer habitat for hundreds of years will be displaced in order that people can recreate with their bicycles.

The miles of bike trails will annually release tons of sediment into the watershed that is the source of Still Creek and the West Fork of the Salmon River, and also introduce invasive noxious plants that will replace the wildflower meadows with a monoculture of weeds unless controlled by herbicides.

The "inspired alpine setting" of the "iconic" lodge will be sacrificed for an adventure park atmosphere on a daily basis, and also to be a venue for the touring Pro-Am race circuit. (Google "mountain bike parks" to view educational videos of these parks in action ) If the core belief of RLK and

Co. is to "honor the Lodge's original rustic charm," then it will cancel this misguided ad-

We can all appreciate another love letter to Timberline, but as we all know, action speaks louder than words.

Dennis Chaney Northeast Portland Chairman of the Friends of Mount Hood

Library district maintains a treasure

Thanks to the Tribune for its insightful endorsement of the library district ("Say yes to school bond, library district,'

Voting yes for the library district will reverse the erosion of resources for one of our most treasured civic assets and provide dedicated and stable funding for years to

I am voting yes for our libraries, yes for an educated and inspired Multnomah County, and yes for our collective future. Tom Mattox

Northwest Portland

School bonds build better future

I believe in a good quality public education for the youth of Portland. An essential first step is to ensure we're providing safe and high quality buildings for them to learn in. Children deserve buildings that are seismically safe, with roofs that don't leak, and with properly heated and lighted classrooms where they will want to learn. Portland's future generations deserve educational facilities with science labs that contribute to skills for a 21st century economy and jobs. It's time to end the era of divestment in public education in this Portland voters have the opportunity to reverse that trend by voting yes on Measure 26-

SOLUTIONS

Brian Hoop Northwest Portland

PortlandTrib

forward, backward, up, down and diagonally. Thursday's unlisted clue hint: TOMMY — SURGERY Kerrigan Rippon Thesz Van Dam Lutz Ruth Walley Hopoate Mendoza Satchow Karelin Pesky Tal Smith ©2012 King Features, Inc.

anllume et lagial là anagid et 3. Bulletin board is Jover, 4. Doorknob is higher, 5. Light switch Differences: It Bed frame is different. 2. Picture is higher.

55

CRYPTOQUIP

OV MBUUOCR KBEW CD CMBEWY AYBTW, O RDZWPKWMW UN OZBFOTW CKWN POYY VYOFKCR BC KBMW-ADMCR Today's Cryptoquip Clue: N equals Y

Challenger ® THE INTERNATIONAL CROSSNUMBER GAME

DIRECTIONS:
Fill each square with a number, one through nine. Market. Horizontal squares should add to totals on right. 10-18 Vertical squares should add to totals on bottom. Diagonal squares through center should add to total in upper and lower right. 30 THERE MAY BE MORE 22 8 THAN ONE SOLUTION Today's Challenge Time 6 Minutes 27 7 Seconds Your Working 23 Minutes Seconds 17 24

©2012 by King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved

Cryptoquip solution:

(घा व व

PORTS. FLIGHTS AT HARE-LHEX MITT HOD BY PLANE, I IMAGINE TRAVEL SOMEWHERE IF RABBITS HAVE TO

9

-01

⊥(Ĥ\∃SZ)

noitulos

λ K S E ∕b

A few changes are in order after deadline

t is a sign of how volatile the Portland mayor's race has become. Jefferson Smith's page in the Voter's Pamphlet lists endorsements from several organizations and elected officials that no longer support him. Smith didn't mean to fool any-

They withdrew their endorsements after the page was submitted and the Voter's Pamphlet went to press.

The endorsements were withdrawn after a more complete version the 1993 incident in which Smith hit a young woman in the face in Eugene finally Groups listed in the Voter's Pamphlet that no longer endorse Smith include the Portland Police Association, the Portland Firefighters Association, state Rep. Carolyn Tomei, Multnomah County Commissioner Diane McKeel and the Mothers' PAC, which advocates on behalf of families.

The timing also affected the page submitted by Charlie Hales, the other candidate for may-

It does not include general election endorsements from the Portland Tribune and The Oregonian because they were made too

Now all those contributions add up

Sources was too quick last issue to say that Clackamas County Chair Charlotte Lehan is losing the fundraising race to challenger John Ludlow.

Although Ludlow outraised Lehan in the primary election, she has so far outraised him in the general election $125,000 to $88,000.

> The most recent filings also show Lehan has more than $48,000 in the bank compared to less than $16,000 reported by Ludlow.

A big reason for the change is the lack of general election contribution to Ludlow from the Oregon Transformation PAC.

The Republican-oriented political action committee gave him more than $115,000 in the primary election but only about $27,000 since then. Ludlow has very few other large supporters, who include brothers Tom and Chris Maletis and the Oregon Small Business Association, a PAC primarily supported by conservative donor and Nevada resident Loren Parks.

In contrast, Lehan has been steadily pulling in large contributions from a growing number of labor, environmental and Realtor organizations.

Resignations hasten food council demise

City/county group could be reformed as independent body

By STEVE LAW The Tribune

Foodies may be a victim of their own success in steering food policy issues to the top of the agenda in Portland. For the past decade, the Food Policy Council, a joint city/ county panel, has elevated the profile of community gardens, farmers markets and other food issues in the city, so much so that the advisory panel has been a model for other communities around the nation.

But now the Food Policy Council is in limbo, or maybe already dissolved depending on who you talk to.

David McIntyre says he and fellow Food Policy Council co-chair, Anita Yapp, "had all kinds of concerns and frustrations" with the group and then resigned together in August, kind of attention."

They did, he says. "It was dissolved."

The group has been less effective in recent years, and pressed the city and county to get "closer to the ground," Mc-Intyre says. Among other ideas, members wanted the members and establishing group to tackle food insecurity, but it took years of fighting the city and county to get people on the panel who had experienced food insecurity, Mc-Intyre says.

Michael Armstrong, deputy director of the Portland Bureau of Planning and Sustainability, says the city and county retain their commitment to sustainability and food Armstrong says. Food issues issues, but there is soul-searching going on among Food Policy Council members about how best to continue their work.

"I think it's a great conversa-tion," he says. "It's not like we set out to disband it at all."

However, that appears to be what's occurred.

Portland Mayor Sam Adams sent Food Policy Council members a thank-vou letter on Oct. 10, suggesting that a replace-

"hoping we could get some ment should be formed that is independent of local government. "I understand that FPC members have frequently expressed a desire to engage in activities such as direct endorsements and grassroots advocacy, autonomy in selecting guidelines, raising funds, and managing projects," Adams wrote. "I also understand that most local food policy councils around the country are independent bodies and able to take on these roles."

the ground." No matter what happens, food pol-- David McIntyre, icies have become Food Policy Council more institutionco-chair alized in city and county work, got considerable attention in the newly adopted Portland Plan, he says

Multnomah County passed a Food Action Plan in late 2010 and has hosted annual food summits. The county also has agreed to sell surplus property at the western foot of the Morrison Bridge for the James Beard Public Market, a planned year-round emporium of locally produced food and drink.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

Oregon homeowners have been targeted with a new tax on the sale or transfer of real estate, a new tax that some have made a legislative priority.

> A YES vote on Measure 79 will stop another tax on your home.

STOP THE DOUBLE TAX ON YOUR HOME

Oregonians already pay property taxes to fund schools and local government. A new tax on the same property is nothing more than a double tax on your home.

HOMEOWNERS ALREADY PAY THEIR FAIR SHARE

Oregonians pay an average property tax of $2,200 per year. A new transfer tax would place a big burden on homeowners, many of whom are already struggling. It's a double tax.

Yes on 79 is endorsed by:

PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT

Families are struggling and home loans are tougher to get. A double tax on homes is especially hard on homeowners selling their home for less than they owe. This will hurt the housing market and drive your property values down further.

WE SHOULD ENCOURAGE HOME OWNERSHIP

A new transfer tax would put home ownership out of reach for many, especially first-time homebuyers who are so important to a healthy housing market.

- Alliance of Minority Chambers Associated Oregon Industries
- · Wilsonville Chamber of Commerce
- · Chehalem Valley Chamber of Commerce
- · National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB)
- · Oregon Association of REALTORS®
- Oregonians in Action
- Oregon Small Business Association
- · Portland Metro Association of REALTORS®
- Taxpayer Association of Oregon
- Oregon Farm Bureau

VOTE YES ON MEASURE 79 TO STOP ANOTHER TAX ON YOUR HOME.

For more information please visit:

YesOnMeasure79.com

PUBLIC NOTICES

The group has been less effective in recent years, and pressed the city and county

to get "closer to View legals online at: http://publicnotices.portlandtribune.com

PUBLIC AND LEGAL NOTICES

These notices give information concerning actions planned and implemented by attorneys, financial institutions and government agencies. They are intended to keep you and every citizen fully inform Space-reservation deadline for all legal notices is Thursday 5 pm prior to publication. Please call Louise Faxon @ (503) 546-0752 or e-mail legals@commnewspapers.com to book your notice.

> SUMMONS (CITATION JUDICIAL) CASE NUMBER: (Numero del Caso) 30-2012-00564772-CU-BC-CJC

NOTICE TO DEFENDANT (AVISO AL DEMANDADO): JOAN JEONGHUI KOO, dba Young's Beauty Supply, an individual; EDWARD K. YOO, an individual; and DOES 1 through 20, inclusive

YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF (LO ESTA DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE): WILSHIRE STATE BANK, a California Banking Corporation

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court. There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo. ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case. ¡AVISO! Lo han demandado. Si no responde dentro de 30 días, la corte puede decider en su contra sin escuchar su versión. Lea la información a continuación.

Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte. ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.

Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remisión a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisites para obtener servicios legales gratuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www. lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.sucorte.ca.gov) o poniéndose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales. AVISO: Por ley, la corte tiene derecho a reclamar las cuotas y los costos exentos por imponer un gravamen sobre cualquier recuperación de $10,000 ó más de valor recibida mediante un acuerdo o una concesión de arbitraje en un caso de derecho civil. Tiene que pagar el gravamen de la corte antes de que la corte pueda desechar el caso.

The name and address of the court is: (El nombre y dirección de la corte es): Superior Court of California, County of Orange,

700 Civic Center Dr., West, Santa Ana, CA 92701 The name, address, and telephone number of plaintiff's attorney, or plaintiff without an attorney, is: (El nombre, la dirección y el número de teléfono del abogado del demandante, o del demandante que no tiene abogado, es): John H. Choi, Esq. Kim Park Choi & Yi, APLC 3435 Wilshire Blvd., #1720, L.A, CA 90010 (213)384-7600. Date: 04/25/2012. ALAN CARLSON, Clerk of the Court (Secretario), by Maria Gina Barr, Deputy Publish 10/11, 10/18, 10/25, 11/01/2012.

PT1151

Paid for by Yes on 79 • PO Box 4750 • Tualatin, OR 97062

Lovejoy: Activist plays key role in suffrage

From page 1

the World: Esther Pohl Lovejoy

and a Life of Activism." Jensen, a history and gender studies professor at Western Oregon University, decided to write the biography after Oregon Health & Science University opened its historical archives about Lovejoy. Finishing the book took eight years of combing OHSU's archives and others in London, P e of one of Portland's most remarkable citizens, who rose to a leader of international stature and remained an activist until the age

Throughout her career, Lovejoy practiced what she called "constructive resistance" to battle "the interests," Jensen says. A product of the Progressive Era in the first decade of the 20th century, she was a reformer until she died in 1967.

"Lovejoy's life in activism moved from the local to the national to the transnational," Jensen writes. "Lovejoy came to believe that international health, social justice and an end to war could only come from the work of women engaged in constructive resistance, above and across national boundaries.'

Skipping town

Lovejoy moved here at age 13, with her mother, who had spirited the two of them from Lovejov's abusive father in the Puget Sound lumber town of Seabeck.

Using savings stashed under nests in their henhouse, which Lovejoy later called a "nest egg if there ever was one," her mother bought passage for two on a ship and then a train to Portland.

Despite her working class upbringing and little formal schooling, Lovejoy managed to enroll at the University of Oregon Medical Department, now known as Oregon Health & Science University.

Lovejoy paid her way by working as a clerk at a downtown department store, smuggling in "Gray's Anatomy" to study during quiet spells at the store. One day she was caught by a supervisor, who was shocked to find a dead man's bones, used for her studies, hid-

Public reading

What: Author Kim Jensen speaks at a book launch for "Oregon's Doctor to the World," published by the University of Washington Press. When: Monday, Oct. 22, 7 p.m. Where: Oregon Historical Society, 1200 S.W. Park Ave. Price: Free, but call 503-306-

More information on Lovejoy: Oregon centuryofaction.org/index.php/main_site/ Collections/esther_pohl_lovejoy_ den under some women's underwear.

Lovejoy would have been the first woman to graduate from the Portland medical school but wound up second, finishing in 1894, when money woes interrupted her studies.

Lovejoy got her first customer when a friend working for the telephone exchange eavesdropped on a telephone call, hearing a man fretting that he couldn't find a doctor for his wife in labor.

Soon Lovejoy could be seen pedaling around Portland on her bicycle making house calls, carrying an obstetrical case.

She later graduated to a red Cadillac, and, Jensen says she was the only woman in Portland driving to work regularly

Family life, tragedy

Lovejoy married fellow med student Emil Pohl shortly after she graduated. But he often left town to work, and sought his fortune in the Alaska gold rush.

Lovejoy mostly remained at home in Portland, and in 1901 bore her first and only child, Lovejoy networked with other women in the health care field. They understood that the health of children, families and cities were intertwined, and gravitated to the public health movement of the Progressive Era. She campaigned for children's health, meat inspections and a crackdown on spitting in the streets as a way to counter tuberculosis.

Portland's progressive mayor, Democrat Harry Lane, first appointed Lovejoy to the Port-

Do you want to see America again become the industrial is the iron law of economics. A surplus of labor always produces mass ployment, employers must compete for your skills, driving wages more money, thereby creating more business opportunities.

I pledge to: end off shoring, end port cheap and abundant energy, and support the Constitution with emphasis on the First, Second and Fourth Amendments.

outsourcing, restore tariffs, sup-powerhouse, the light and hope of the world?

land Health Board in 1905, and hired her to work as city health officer in 1907.

In the middle of her two-year stint on that job, Freddie died, a tragedy blamed on tainted

Lovejoy had been calling for a cleanup of the dairy industry in what was called a "war on bad milk." Now the issue grew personal for her

But in contrast to her success at winning business support for the anti-bubonic plague campaign, Lovejoy found Portland's business interests indifferent, reluctant to take on the dairy industry.

Mothers cared deeply about feeding bad milk to their children, so Lovejoy worked with women's organizations to press for change. In 1909, a year after her son died, she prevailed upon the City Council to pass a dairy inspection and licensing ordinance.

Suffrage movement

In 1906, Lovejoy and other younger professional women emerged as a new breed of activists fighting for women's suffrage. They introduced new campaigning styles that stressed coalition-building and grassroots organizing. Jensen's research for the book helped highlight the role of Lovejoy and others during this year's celebration of the Oregon centennial of women's suf-

When longtime Portland suffrage leader Abigail Scott Duniway became ill in 2012, Lovejoy took a leading role in what was Oregon's sixth and final ballot measure for suffrage.

VOTE `

3rd District

Ronald Green

groups required dues that made them off-limits to working-class members. Lovejoy organized Everybody's Equal Suffrage League, which brought together men and women of all stripes.

Lovejoy also help introduce mass advertising techniques, which became a model for suffrage and other political campaigns around the nation. She organized the Suffrage Lunch Wagon, a flatbed truck filled with women who rode in the Portland Rose Festival parade.

"It was all spectacle and street performance ballyhoo," Jensen writes, "that made for unequaled and unforgettable publicity.

A little more than a year after Emil Pohl died in 1911, Lovejoy married Portland businessman George Lovejoy.

When World War I ravaged Europe and the United States entered the war, Lovejoy turned her attention overseas, trying to bring medical relief to French mothers and children. Ever the strong feminist, Lovejoy spoke out against men who advocated banning abortion

The prevailing suffrage and other measures designed to boost the French birth rate. Lovejoy understood why women who could not afford to feed their children were reluctant to bear more. And she began realizing how women were in many ways the biggest victims of war, suffering from rape, starvation and other deprivations.

Political ambition

in the first

she was a

she died in 1967.

decade of the

Lovejoy came home in 1920, the same year the national suffrage amendment took effect, to run for Congress in the Portland-area House of Representatives district. Just four years earlier, A product of the Montanans had elected Jeannette Progressive Era Rankin as the first woman in Congress. At a time when

20th century, the post-Russian Revolution Red Scare had doused reformer until the pre-war reform fervor of the Progressive Era, Lovejoy ran as an unabashed progressive against conservative Republican incumbent Clifton "Pat" McAr-

Lovejoy was charged with being a "Red" and siding the Bolsheviks in the Russian Revolution. In a year of a national Republican tide, in a state then dominated by the GOP, Lovejoy won 44 percent of the vote.

After her loss, Lovejoy spent the rest of her years in New York City and overseas. She was called upon to lead the American Women's Hospital nonprofit for one year, to resolve a bitter internal split, and wound up staying 48 years.

The group provided refugee assistance and other foreign assistance in 28 nations. She also became president of the Medical Women's International Association.

Under Lovejoy's leadership, the groups eschewed the idea of U.S. or European experts going abroad to provide direct aid. Rather, the organization and affiliated groups linked with women doctors and health practitioners in the affected countries, relying on their expertise to build programs.

"She believed that empowering people at a local level was the way to do that," Jensen says. "She had worked for that locally in Portland."

Despite her decades away, Lovejoy always considered Portland home, Jensen says. Her large cash donation to OHSU still provides scholarships there.

When she died in August 1967, Lovejoy was buried at Southeast Portland's Lone Fir

At PNC MORTGAGE, we're committed to making the buying process simpler and getting you into a home faster. We'll walk you through the steps one by one, bringing clarity to the process and to your home financing experience with PNC. With more confidence in your lender, there's no telling what you can achieve.

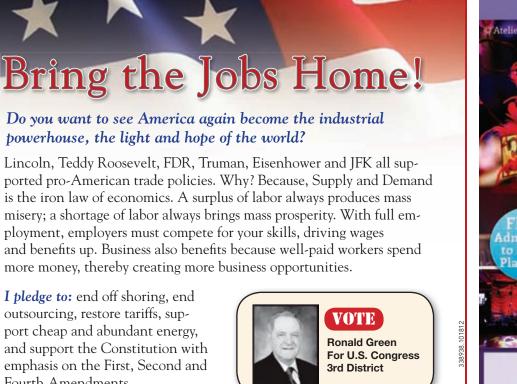

For more information contact Darryl Woods 503-656-2410 pncmortgage.com/darrylwoods 1800 Blankenship Rd. Suite 448 West Linn, OR 97068 NMLS #577081

for the ACHIEVER in you'

ACHIEVEMENT and PNC are registered marks of The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. ("PNC"). PNC Mortgage is a division of PNC Bank, National Association, a subsidiary of PNC. All loans are provided by PNC Bank, National Association and are subject to credit approval and property appraisal. ©2012 The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. All rights reserved.

Oregon and Southwest Washington's premiere hospitality and meeting industry showcase!

Planning an Event?

Attend Bravo! live with over 200 event industry experts

- Explore new venue and décor ideas
- Experience interactive entertainment from live musical acts to a zip line ropes course
- Taste test new menu items from over 30 caterers
  - Win Great Prizes

Take your events from ordinary to EXTRAORDINARY ...

CONNECT WITH INDUSTRY EXPERTS AND BOOK ALL YOUR BUSINESS IN ONE LOCATION:

Décor & Lighting • Catering • Photography & Videography Team Building . Client Appreciation Ideas . Venues Transportation • Entertainment and more!

Plan your entire event in one incredibly FUN afternoon on us! GET YOUR FREE COPY OF THE 2013 EVENT RESOURCE GUIDE AND ... Admission is complimentary to event & meeting planners!

Sponsored by:

Frequent BATHROOM TRIPS? Bell Ezee Flow Herbal Tea #4a

■ Men Natural nutritional support for urinary ease & comfort. Relief within 3-5 days from dribbling, discomfort, urgency, poor flow. Instead of getting up many times most need to get up only once or not at all each night. For many years a favorite for mature men. Good sleep helps to have more energy all next day. Also blood flows more easily where it counts for better sex life. Thousands of satisfied repeat customers. No side effects. We have literally hundreds of testimonials.

■ I was skeptical. I bought a box and it worked as advertised. Within a week I had relief. Howard Toy, 69, Henderson, NV It's heaven to sleep through the night. For many years I had 6-7 sleep interruptions every night. Had urgent trips to the bathroom day and night with discomforts. I enjoy my new life. Angus Pike, Oshawa, ON I am truly amazed and relieved. After 2 weeks I no longer have to get up during the night. I'm enjoying a normal sex life again. I hope a lot of men with a pride issue give this tea a shot. It's difficult to express how delighted I am. Clarence A. Rehrig, 58, Allentown, PA Know the truth. This is my third year of drinking the Ezee Flow Tea. I highly recommend it. A real life saver. Thomas M. Thurston, Forsyth, GA. • Women suffering with incontinence, UTIs ask for Bladder Control Tea for Women #4b. Guaranteed relief within days. No need to make claims. Bell relays 100% truthful user's free speech. No money is paid for it. No questions asked guarantee.

Blood Pressure

nutritionally support the body's normal blood pressure function. *A science-backed herbal phytonutrient. Promotes flexible, relaxed blood vessels in healthy persons. *A one-of-a-kind formula that offers unprecedented nutritional support for your overall health and well-being. *We have thousands of repeat customers. Blood pressure is a focal point of cardiovascular wellness. *Achieve your balance and maintain your balance and a healthy range.

Bell Blood Pressure Formulation helped me feel great. Thank you for this wonderful product. William Oliver, Portsmouth, VA I have been taking Bell #26 now for one year. My mom and brother started taking it as well. Even my pastor is on it now. Thanks! Mary Earl,

Longview, TX I started to take Bell Blood Pressure Formulation Formulation #26. After about 30 days my blood pressure was normal. My doctor was very happy with me. Irene Surridge, 67, Owen Sound, ON A friend recommended Bell BP Formulation! When a friend had good results I decided to try it. After taking Bell Blood Pressure Formulation #26. It made a difference in my life. Milton Perdomo, 68, Rego Park, NY. No need to make claims. Bell relays 100% truthful user's free speech. No money is paid for it. No questions asked guarantee.

Dr. C. Hammoud, Master Herbalist, PhD, guarantees satisfaction. Helps to maintain healthy skin from the inside simply by cleansing the blood, instead of attacking the skin from the outside with creams or washes. * This makes sense. Usually you can see how it benefits your skin within days. * Many people wrote they were surprised how fast it worked. Lots of testimonials from pleased users on our Bell website. There is absolutely no risk for trying Dr. Hammoud's product

■ Last couple of years I tried everything. Results with Bell Skin Disorders #60 were unbelievable. I have beautiful skin again. Thanks for giving back my self-esteem. Nelisa Royer, 28, Doral, FL My mom bought Bell #60. I was skeptical. It did work quickly and better than anything else. Christopher Seraphin, 14, Brooklyn, NY. It worked. I no longer have to hide at home, because I was ashamed to be seen. Agnes Casillas, 60, New York, NY = Can #60 wear again dresses that are backless. My skin looks fantastic. Thank you from the bottom of my heart. Yvette Maclean, 40, Lodi, CA I was trying everything for years and nothing worked. I felt physical and emotional pain having to hide. Finally I found your Bell #60. I'm so grateful and impressed about how fast it worked with amazing results. Eulalia Isabel Sanchez Martin, 30, Brampton, ON Skeptics can call everybody. All are real people like you or your friends.

As recommended by Dr. Gifford-Jones M. D.

Here is proof that snoring can be corrupting your health and your marriage. Three out of 10 snoring husbands that have snoring wives or vice versa. Snoring is caused by slack muscles in the throat. A common complaint is that people feel that they are not well rested in the morning. Many people wrote they are now sleeping like a babies. Their partners are delighted. This natural health product Sound Sleep #23 usually helps the first night. No side effects.

College professor had lack of good sleeps with many interruptions for last 8 years that made her tired during the day. Within 3 days taking Bell Sound Sleep #23 the terrible snoring stopped. I wake up feeling refreshed and energized. I can concentrate in a focused, happy manner. I feel delighted with this natural product. Dr. Anele E. Heiges, 77, New York, NY A life changing product. The very first night I took the capsules and every night after I had a restful and wonderful sleep. It has been a God send and blessing. I am by nature a skeptic. The money-back guarantee convinced me to try it. Jimmy Pay, 53, Gardendale, AC 3 Years on Bell Sound Sleep #23. My wife and lare entirely satisfied. Snoring episodes have completely disappeared. This has improved our lives enormously. Leo Fortin, 60, St-Georges, QC Basically you saved my husband's life. For the last 5 years my husband had very bad nights. Bell #23 was nothing short of a miracle. I have my husband back. No more snoring. No more napping during the day. I am telling all our friends. Bonnie Johnson, 64, Wichita, KS My life changed. Sleep now 7-8 hours. I am a retired college professor and author of books. I have no more need to nap during the day. Nothing I tried helped until I started Bell Sound Sleep. I am so delighted with this product I would like to make motivational speeches to help others. Carmen V. Caruso, 66, Ann Arbor, MI On the Bell Website we list phone numbers or email addresses of actual users of formula #77

Has been used successfully for many years KING SIZE - 2 months supply

Natural Superior HAIR

Recommended by Dr. C. Hammoud, Ph.D.

- for fuller, thicker hair for men and women. Promotes stronger, shinier, healthier hair.
- Unique combination of ingredients make it a guaranteed
- Helps to rejuvenate your hair for a fuller and thicker appearance.
- Feeds the roots of the hair by supplying them with the best hair nutrient ever discovered.

Pleased users wrote us:

Hair issues were noticeably reduced with first bottle! I tried many things that didn't work. After having good results with another Bell product, I was happy to see that Bell now has this product. It worked well. Thanks! Cheryl Quick, 79, Naperuille, IL

I was skeptical! After throwing my money away for years on other products and supplements I was skeptical. Your Natural Superior Hair Formula #77 is worth every penny. I referred it to others I see who could benefit from it. Very pleased. Richard Rawls, 51, Houston, TX

*These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. This product is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease.

AVAILABLE IN PORTLAND: Lloyd Center Pharmacy 438 East Burnside; The Way Herb Shop 1516 NE 111th Ave.; Herbal Health Center 829 SE 182nd #101.; General Nutrition Centers 7545 SW. Barnes Rd. Suite 116; General Nutrition Centers 527 South West Alder St.; Super Supplements 1016 W. Burnside St.; Health Basics 4326 South East Woodstock PMB 465. MCMINNVILLE: Parkway Natural Foods 1351 NE. Hwy. 99W. ■ OREGON CITY: Hippocrates Secrets S 19142 Molalla Ave. ■ CLACKAMAS: Super Supplements 9919 SE Sunnyside Rd. SILVERTON: Silverton Pill Box 302 N. 1st. St. CANBY: Vitamin Plaza 121 North Grant St. ALSO AVAILABLE IN EUGENE: Evergreen Nutrition 1653 Willamette St.; Gregory Kahn DC PC. 642 Lincoln St. (541-342-3001). FLORENCE: The Herb Jar 2285 Hwy. 101 Ste. L.; Better Living Center 85134 Highway 101. SPRINGFIELD: Wynant's Family Health Foods 722 South A St. LEBANON: Lebanon Pill Box 185 Main St. ENTERPRISE: Hone Chiropractic 68623 Eden Lane 541-398-2278. NORTH BEND: Bailey's Health Food Center 2235 Newmark St. BROOKINGS: The Health Shop 604 Railroad Avenue GOLD BEACH: Health Gallery Nutrition Center 29820 Ellensburg Ave. ■ GRANTS PASS: R & D Labs 4488 Williams Hwy. ■ LA GRANDE: Nature's Pantry Natural Foods 1907 4th St.

In other towns try your local health food stores first. If they don't have it and don't want to order it for you, order on our website or call us with Visa or Mastercard. S & H $9.95.

www.BellLifestyle.com 1-800-333-7995 Bell uses the power of nature to help put life back into your lifestyle

Hayden terminal not healthy for neighbors

Port disputes findings as residents worry about development

By STEVE LAW The Tribune

The Port of Portland's proposed marine terminals on west Hayden Island are likely to increase alreadytoxic air pollution and reduce home property values on the populated east side of the island, according to a draft health analysis released this week.

The report by Multnomah County Health Department and two local health nonprofits, was commissioned to provide more data about how marine terminals on the largely undeveloped western side of the island will affect some 2,300 residents of the eastern half. The report also cites health public recreation access to the west side of Havden Island, and hundreds of familywage jobs likely to provide health insurance bene-

A variety of studies have been done to examine land-use, economic and environmental considerations of replacing a forested part of the island with marine industrial terminals. This is the first look at hicles. how the project could affect the health of nearby residents.

Port of Portland officials say the health report relies on flawed data and thus overstates the potential air quality

New health analysis shows industrial development of west Hayden Island will come with a cost to public health on the east side of the island.

ture development.

Hayden Island residents and environmentalists say benefits associated with the the report provides more fodport proposal, including new der to reject city annexation of some 800 acres of port-owned

in a mobile home park near the proposed development that includes 440 mobile homes and 160

recreational ve-

"One of the property, which would lay the tricky parts of groundwork for this project is future marine terminals there. that the people "I'm excited who benefit and because it gives us a chance to the people who get ourselves it impacts are heard," says Tom Dana, who lives not the same

— Eric Engstrom, principal planner for city of Portland people."

"The air toxics level currently is 20 times the state benchmark for cancer prevention," Dana says. "This'll triple that. That's crazy."

Dana, an alternate member of the city's advisory commitland proposal, says he hadn't considered before that the development would lower property values at his mobile home community and at nearby floating homes. That could make people unwilling to buy into the community, he says, causing empty homes that will mar community life. That means the port's project conflicts with the city's oft-stated goals of preserving affordable housing, says Bob Sallinger, conservation director for the Portland Audubon Society.

Port of Portland staff say the health report overstated the impact on air quality because it used numbers based on an 840-acre industrial development, when the city has proposed limiting the development to 300 acres.

The report also didn't take into account 2010 Environmental Protection Agency requirements that will slash future diesel emissions from rail locomotives and marine vessels, according to Sam Ruda, the port's chief commercial officer.

Technical experts will review the draft report Monday, and the port hopes to get changes made that will more accurately reflect the project's impact, says Susie Lahsene, the port's transportation and land use policy man-

The health analysis clearly shows there are health benefits as well as health burdens associated with the development.

"One of the tricky parts of this project," says Eric Engstrom, principal planner for the city, "is that the people who benefit and the people who it impacts are not the same people."

To register visit www.gotomyncf.com

Portland.Life

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 2012

COURTESY OF BEN Z. MUND PHOTOGRAPHY

Vagabond Opera has released four albums and toured throughout the United States and Europe. Band leader Eric Stern says he draw influences from many genres, starting from a foundation of Eastern European klezmer.

VAGABOND OPERA

By JASON VONDERSMITH The Tribune

t was born Oct. 31, 2002, at Bella Faccia Pizzeria on Northeast Alberta Street.

Dressed as a giant oven mitt, Robin Jackson walked in and noticed Eric Stern, an accordion player wearing a top hat with bats on it. Not real bats, but paper-mache, Stern says now.

Vagabond Opera had already come to life through the creativity of Stern and friends, but it solidified itself when he and Jackson met at the pizza place and later jammed strong, a band built on klezmer music and evolving into an eclectic group with belly dancers and cabaret stars.

We could tell immediately we were simpatico," Stern says.

Vagabond Opera will put on its sixth annual Transylvania Voodoo Ball while also celebrating its 10-year anniversary, Wednesday, Oct. 31, at Star Theater. It should be a heck of a party, given the fun nature of Vagabond Opera, with its costumes and range of music that can be hard to define.

Trained in opera and schooled in Eastern European Jewish klezmer, Stern says Vagabond Opera has been perfectly at singers, featuring 15 languages) has home in Portland, which he calls "a labora- changed characters during the years, but tory of music.'

He adds: "Klezmer is such a gateway

Nearly 10 years later it's still going drug of music. We've gone to a place in the past two or three years where we've learned from every music from around the world, that we use as tools and colors for our palette. We're more interested in creating our original music. A lot of people say it's Eastern Euro cabaret. It's obviously not a rock band. We're not a jazz band. We're not an opera company, although sometimes we think as opera, with our voice still taking shape. So, hopefully it's a unique thing. It's definitely an ensemble project, even though I lead it."

See OPERA / Page 4

TRIBUNE PHOTO: ALVARO FONTAN

Retired and living in La Paz, Mexico, author R.J. Archer remains fascinated with the topic of ancient civilizations. He has penned seven books, with an eighth planned for 2013 release.

Author digs into mystery of archaeology

R.J. Archer sees fascinating plots in underwater sites

By JASON VONDERSMITH The Tribune

Author R.J. "Dick" Archer admits to being "a conspiracy theory fan."

After all, his two series of books, "Seeds of Civilization" and "Parallel Ops," examine mysterious archaeological finds and explore the possibility of ancient civilizations — in a fictionalized manner. But even he seriously doubts that things will change on Dec. 21, 2012.

The Mayan calendar supposedly ends then, and the fantastical among us believe our lives will be dramatically altered.

Archer laughs.

"I really don't believe that, and neither do the Maya," he says. "A lot of articles have been written by college-educated Maya, who say we made all that up. I don't think the poles will shift and the Earth will tip over."

Archer had originally targeted Dec. 21 as the release date for his fourth and final "Parallel Ops" book, "The Teachers," but it'll still be in the works well into 2013. So, clearly, he's counting on our lives not changing forever on Dec. 21.

A nice niche

A technical writer and computer consultant by trade while living in the Portland area for four decades, the 66-year-old Archer has delved into fiction writing in recent years, and moved to La Paz, Mexico, upon retirement three years ago.

He has always been fascinated by the oceans, being a diver and snorkeler — so, the Baja peninsula of Mexico is a comfortable and convenient place to call home. He lives there with his wife (and publicist/marketer/designer), Marty, and their children and grandchildren also live in the country.

He has carved out a nice niche for himself, as an author bent on furthering the discussion of who inhabited the planet thousands of years ago, where they went and what they left behind — a version of "Ancient Aliens," the popular series on The History Channel. The oceans hold many an-

See ARCHER / Page 2

THE SHORT LIST

"FrightTown"

It's three haunted houses at Veterans Memorial Coliseum's Exhibit Hall, co-produced by 1031 Community Theatre. Last year's monster-filled darkness maze, "The Black Box," returns with new monsters, new rooms and an all-new finale, and "Baron Von Goolo's Museum of Horrors" revs up with overhauled trademark rooms.

Through Oct. 31, Veterans Memorial Coliseum, rosequarter. com, frighttown.com, $20

Distillers conference

The eighth annual Great American Distillers Festival is a celebration of American spirits, with vendor product tastings, handcrafted cocktails and takehome recipes. Distillers will display the unique qualities of rum, bourbon, whiskey, vodka and

5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19, 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, Tiffany Cen-ter, 1410 S.W. Morrison St., distillersfestival.com, $15-$25, $25-$40 two-day pass

"Flow State"

Warren Miller Entertainment presents its 63rd annual winter sports feature film and U.S. tour, which stops in Portland. Hosted by Jonny Moseley. The film features sites in Norway, Austria, California, Switzerland, Japan and beyond.

5 and 9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 21, Bagdad Theater, 3702 S.E. Hawthorne Blvd., cascadetickets.com, 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 26, Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall, 1037 S.W. Broadway, ticketswest. com, $18-$20

Portland Cocktail Week

The craft cocktail culture is celebrated with a gathering of bartenders, cocktail luminaries and industry enthusiasts for classes and tastings. More than 25 bars and restaurants are participating.

Sunday-Thursday, Oct. 21-25, various locations (headquarters Jupiter Hotel), portlandcocktailweek.com (check for info)

Sister Helen Prejean

The bestselling author of "Dead Man Walking" and human rights activist will speak in Portland.

4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 22, Chiles Center/University of Portland, 5000 N. Willamette Blvd., 503-943-7702.

"Mother Courage and Her Children"

Theatre Vertigo kicks off its 15th season with Bertolt Brecht's passionate and profound statement against war, set in 17th century Europe, translated by Tony Kushner and directed by Third Rail vet John Steinkamp.

7:30 p.m. Thursdays-Saturdays, through Nov. 17, Theater! Theatre!, 3430 S.E. Belmont St., theatrevertigo.org, $15

"Duck For President"

Why not, right? Oregon Children's Theatre's election production pits the Duck against Farmer Brown for president.

2 p.m. Saturdays-Sundays, 5 p.m. Saturdays, through Nov. 4, Newmark Theatre, 1111 S.W. Broadway, ticketmaster.com, $18-$30 adults, $15-$26 children

"BloodyVox: Fresh Blood"

BodyVox celebrates the company's favorite holiday frightful fun, a Halloween classic with debuts of new choreography and film elements from Jamey Hampton and Ashley Roland, artistic directors.

7:30 p.m. Thursdays-Saturdays and Halloween, 2 p.m. Saturdays, Oct. 18-Nov. 3, BodyVox Dance Center, 1201 N.W. 17th Ave., bodyvox.com, starting at $36

MUSIC

Portland Gay Men's Chorus

The group, opening its 33rd season, puts on its "Classical Matinee" with the theme "Love and Marriage.'

3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 21, Kaul Auditorium/Reed College, 3203 S.E. Woodstock Blvd., pdxgmc. org, starting at $17

Tony Lucca

A big fan of NBC's "The Voice?" The Season 2 winner and former Mickey Mouse Club member alongside Christina Aguilera and Britney Spears will perform in Portland. He and Diego Boneta ("Rock of Ages") are part of the same record company, 222 Records, and Lucca will be joined by Tigard's Justin Hopkins, another contestant on "The Voice," at Alberta Rose.

8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24, Alberta Rose Theatre, 3000 N.E. Alberta St., albertarosetheatre. com, $15, $17 day of show

Playful Market doesn't mess with success

A biweekly restaurant or bar review

I get this question everv time I mention Market, the new restaurant in the old Carafe Bistro space. And I'm not sure how to answer.

Words like "market-driven,"
"Continental," and "contemporary" look OK in print, but they don't carry much meaning. It's better just to take a look at the

Prawns with bacon and Brussels sprouts. House-made pasta

'hat kind of with sausage, broccoli rabe and food is it?" with sausage, broccoli rabe and creme fraiche. Roast chicken. Grilled hangar steak with arugula pesto.

It all sounds good, and for the most part the kitchen delivers with an improvisational style that I would call Pacific Northwest bistro — playful, but stopping well short of jokey.

Fried cheese curds, for instance, are taken out of casual Friday mode and dressed in cocktail attire of crisp, airy tempura. The curds are a creamy, elastic mozzarella, mingled with mild, bright green padron peppers to keep things interesting.

For something more seasonal, there's a changing crostini selection. Lately, they've been topped with either pears or beets.

Slices of poached pear worked surprisingly well with brittle chips of prosciutto, cleansing arugula, and candied walnuts. It was a play of sweet and bitter, right down to the dressing, a burnt honey gastrique.

Oddly enough, the beet crostini were the ones that were too sweet — the sugar in golden beets overwhelmed a layer of mild house-made ricotta.

In all cases, though, the bread was crisped and chewy, not overtoasted. Bread to start a meal was also handled with care. It was charred just enough to add some flavor, with a subtle gleam of butter, served in a cute little cast iron pan.

It was followed by Market's homey version of surf and turf: a rack of pork with two roly-poly prawns. They were united in a rustic serving dish with savory pork fried rice, with many chunks of tender, meaty mushroom. To one side was a creamy version of a Mexican salsa verde, which tasted of tomatillos, green chiles, and salt — mostly salt, unfortunately.

Overall, it was a satisfying, self-contained meal, eclectic without feeling over-thought. The menu is quite concise, offering about five starters and as many entrees. Desserts are sim-

TRIBUNE PHOTOS: CHRISTOPHER ONSTOTT

The newly redesigned Market restaurant in Southwest Portland features a friendly staff and a rotating menu by executive chef Troy Furuta.

house-made ricotta, toasted almonds and ple, too: ice cream, sorbet, cus-

Stylishly classic cocktails

The chef is Troy Furuta, who has worked at Clyde Common and Ping. Behind the venture is ChefStable, the great and powerful wizard behind many of Portland's most high-profile restaurants. They've taken a gamble, here, on a difficult location in a bleak part of downtown that always feels about 10 degrees colder than the rest of watercress on a crostini. But the restaurant is warm and glowing, with an ivy-draped roof, Parisian café chairs along the sidewalk, and candles flickering inside. Periodically, events at the Keller Auditorium bring swarms of theater-goers to the hour dish of roasted beets,

Market's happy

vicinity, and Market appears ready to oblige them. With the exception of its Google-baffling name, it's user friendly, with free valet parking after 5 p.m. and substantial happy hour discounts, both before and after the dinner hour. From 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays, and after 8 p.m. every day, you can sit in the bar and have a surprisingly flavorful chicken burger with mushrooms and Swiss cheese for $5. Add waffle fries and a cocktail and your nighton-the-town restaurant becomes an after-work hangout.

Cocktails are stylish classics with little extra touches. There's fresh nutmeg atop a Holland gin punch, and a sazerac becomes exotic and spicy with the addition of sriracha hot sauce. My favorite was the Brooklyn cocktail, a bitter, forgotten cousin of the Manhattan. It's a vintage recipe, a sign that Market knows when to innovate and when to leave well enough alone.

Market Restaurant, 11 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Monday, 11 a.m.-10 p.m. Tuesday-Friday, 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, closed Sunday, 200 S.W. Market St., 503-248-0004, market-pdx. com, entrees $22-$26 portland tribune food@gmail.com and on Facebook at Bread & Brew

PETLESSNESS

OREGON HUMANE SOCIETY

www.OregonHumane.org

Archer: Series looks at unknowns

From page 1

swers, Archer says, and just as the ocean remains the great unexplored area of our inhabitable sphere, he expects clarity in questions as time goes on.

archaeology is derived from the mids. et," he says. "There's still 70 percent (the oceans) that archaeologists haven't looked at. Because of the rise in oceans since the last Ice Age, there are millions of miles of coastline that are now underwater that would have been inhabitable 20,000 years ago. That would have been the logical place to build communities back then.

"Whatever was there, and I believe there were a lot of sites, those are all underwater and they haven't been explored."

His debut book in the first series, "Tractix," introduces his four characters and how the Maya could predict solar eclipses to the minute, yet lived without the use of wheels to move out. (For info on books, go to

'Why were they so advanced in one area and so primitive in other areas?" Archer asks.

"Tsubute" centers around the Yonaguni pyramid in the waters off Japan. Subsequent discover-"Everything we know about ies were made of other pyracher says.

And, "Triangle" is about contemporary work near Bimini Island (the Bahamas), "where they've demonstrated there was an advanced culture there about 15,000 years ago, thousands of years before they thought the Indians first came to North America, and three times as old as the pyramids in Egypt," Archer says. "They were an advanced maritime culture that built harbors and structures to protect the harbors. ... A lot of things left unexplained. ... I think Bimini is the tip of the iceberg."

The "Parallel Ops" books are "The Scientists," "The Informants" and "The Guardians," the latter his newest release, and the second series follows the four fictional characters and their attempts to figure things riarcherbooks.com).

Archer says archaeology has been "a big yawn" for him in the past, but writing the books has piqued his interest. He's curious to see what researchers and academic types choose to explore and acknowledge in the future; he says findings and theories disper accepted beliefs and truths among academics. "Archaeologists like to dig in the dirt and not in the mud," he says. "Like with the Bahamas, there are enough people who have published articles about what's there, or think is there, vou would think someone would have got interested and mounted a major expedition. It doesn't seem to be happening.

"And there are sites in India and all over Asia, especially near the equator, where they've found underwater strange things."

He understands that people dispute the existence of ancient civilizations, especially when considering an influence from

"I'm not sure I believe that myself," Archer says. "But, the archaeology is all real and all mys-

Beautiful heat for your home

With winter just around the corner, now is the time to consider a fireplace or stove for your home.

BY SCOTT KEITH

efore you know it, thoughts will turn from grilling a succulent salmon steak on the outdoor barbecue to plopping in front of a snapping and crackling fireplace with a cup of hot chocolate and the latest best-

A business that has been in Portland's West Hollywood neighborhood since 1991, Homestead Stove Company, is ready to offer customers electric fireplaces, wood fireplaces, gas stoves, wood stoves and many other items that will make your home warm and comforting.

Owner and president Sherry Woods said her store's motto is "Beautiful Heat," adding that she carries many great fireplace and stove product lines.

"You'll find others out there, but my specialty is something that would be in your home for many decades," Woods said, noting that over 30 percent of her business is referrals.

Whether her customers want new fireplaces or simply inserts, Woods is ready to offer her expertise. "Since most homes have existing fireplaces, the majority of my business is inserts. But I also have a fair number of new construction jobs fireplaces)," (needing Woods said.

Homestead Stove Company offers brand-name products.

"Our most popular gas fireplace is Valor. It's Canadian made. It originated in England. It's been around since the 1800s," Woods said. "It's a well-made, beautiful product and it has my highest customer satisfaction."

If you're not sure of the type of product to invest in, Woods encourages you to drop by Homestead Stove Company. When you're ready to make a decision, her store will offer a free home visit.

"If I have a product that they are considering buying, then it's almost mandatory, I feel, to go out and take a look at their home - to make sure that the product is going to fit and work," Woods said, pointing out that Homestead Stove Company can also help answer questions for do-it-yourselfers.

Woods loves to see customers bring in floor plans or remodel projects. "I want them to know that I'm not a high-pressure sales outfit. I am here to help them put a beautiful focal point in their home...I have a lot of options for people."

TOP: In addition to carrying stoves and fireplaces for inside your home, Homestead Stove Company also features models perfect for the outdoors, like this linear gas fireplace. BELOW: Sherry Woods, president and owner of Homestead Stove Company, carries many lines of fireplace inserts including this Valor Legend 3 gas insert for your fireplace.

etcetera...

Accessories

Many accessories are available at Homestead Stove Company:

- Fireplace tools Axes ■ Steamers
- Humidifiers Chimney cleaning
- supplies Cooking woods.

Contact Check out their informative website at www.homestead stove.com

Address: 2729 N.E. Broadway, Portland, Oregon 97232

Call them at 503-282-3615 or go to facebook.com/ HomesteadStove their areas of retail expertise.

STYLE highlights the best and brightest of what our local business community has to offer. We discuss current trends, fashion ideas, beauty & design tips and much more.

Read STYLE and discover great deals and new ideas that will educate, entertain and inspire!

To advertise contact your Portland Tribune advertising representative.

Laura Davis - 503.546.9896 Levi Downey - 503.546.9898 Tamara Hollenbeck - 503.546.9894

Portland!Life ———

Opera: Dancers bolster lineup

From page 1

has enjoyed the same lineup for almost five years: Stern, tenor/ accordionist/pianist/composer; Jackson, saxophonist; Jason "Krivo" Flores, upright and electric bassist/gypsy and Mexican guitarist/melodica; Ashia Grzesik, vocalist; Mark Burdon, drummer/composer; Skip vonKuske, cellist. Dr. Xander Gerrymander serves as manager and "Diva Handler." Ursula Knudson often joins the band as guest artist.

But, "winds of change are blowing," Jackson says. Grzesik plans to head to Europe to sing with the Berlin Circus. The band has hired a new singer, Sophie Bloch, who will perform during the Halloween show; she and Jackson attended high school together in Eugene.

Vagabond Opera has put out four albums, including "Sing For Your Lives" last year. It has toured throughout the U.S. and Europe.

"I've never found anything that close to us (in style)," Jack-

"We've toured enough that a scene has picked us up," he adds. "Cabaret, Steampunk, burlesque, Vulcan groupies ... we are more known than we actually tour. We've worked hard at it."

The band has picked up international influences — Bohemian neo-cabaret gypsy-pop, tango, Balkan beats, Arab music, Parisian hot jazz—and plans to tour again, while also expanding its appeal. Belly dancers Rachel Brice and Karolina Lux will join Vagabond Opera at its Oct. 31 show.

"We continue to reach out to who we think are the best in our community, especially in Portland," Stern says.

Vagabond Opera will be joined by Russian party band Chervona and Dum Spiro Spero with Flip Cassidy and the Junkyard Gospel, as well as dancers Rachel Brice and Karolina Lux for its Halloween gig, 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31 at Star Theater, 13 N.W. Sixth Ave.

Tickets are $16, $20 at door (startheaterportland.com). For information, go to vagabondopera.com.

Want tickets to "Book of Mormon," the Broadway hit coming to Portland in January? Good luck. There'll be a lottery for tickets the day of each show.

Bits&Pieces

By JASON VONDERSMITH The Tribune

Book of Money

Trey Parker's "South Park" musical, "Book of Mormon," has taken the theater world by storm lately. And, the storm enters Portland Jan. 1 to 6 at Keller Auditorium.

Tickets went on sale Oct. 5 and if you weren't quick enough, nearly all of them sold without you bagging good

Just like with any big event — theater, music (Bruce Springsteen), sports — there will be offers on the secondary market. While regular tickets go as high as about $100, a look at scalper sites show that tickets for "Book of Mormon" are going for twice to five times the regular price.

But local promoters warn: Buyer beware. A lot of times online scalper tickets are not guaranteed; they are e-tickets, and often they do not translate to you getting through the turnstile at Keller.

Broadway Across America, which conducts the musical tours that stop at the Keller, will hold a lottery for tickets for each of the eight "Book of Mormon" shows. Details will be released later, but it's expected that a limited number of tickets — likely orchestra level will be released for the lottery the day of each show. Basically, scores of people will stand in line at the Keller Auditorium box office and be given numbers if your name/number is called, you get into the show.

Also, some limited view seats are still available, and there could be cancellations (visit Portland Opera box office. 211 S.E. Caruthers St., or call 503-241-1802). The only place to get guaranteed tickets online: broadwayacrossamerica.

com and pcpa.com, the latter the Portland Center for the Performing Arts

About 3,000 people will attend each of the eight shows, meaning 24,000 lucky folks will get to see "Book of Mormon" in Portland. And, there are 10,000 subscribers who had early dibs on tickets.

Each time "Wicked" has come to Portland, it has resulted in a lottery for each show. "Rent" also had lottery tickets.

All Gaga

Tickets for Lady Gaga's "Born This Way Ball" tour stop at the Rose Garden, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 15, go on sale at 10 a.m. Friday, Oct. 19. Again, get on the phone early (1-877-789-7673), or online (rosequarter.com) or stop by Rose Quarter box office or Safeway/Tickets-West outlets. Tickets are $49.50 to $175, plus service charges.

GuignolFest

The fourth annual GuignolFest Horror Movie Contest, a do-it-yourself event, will be held in October, starting at 9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19 at Red Flag, 344 N.E. 28th St.

Portland horror filmmakers will produce movies, seven to 10 minutes long, starting at midnight opening night, and drop them off 72 hours later at Red Flag. Screenings will take place at 9 p.m. Oct. 28.

A panel will judge the films. Last year's panel included Jedediah Aaker ("Portlandia"), Tres Shannon (VooDoo Doughnuts) and David Cress ("Portlandia").

For info, go to dylzone.wix.com/ grandguignolpdx.

Jack Daniel's competition

Movin' The Chains, a professional barbecue team from Beaverton, has qualified for the 24th annual Jack Daniel's World Championship Invitational Barbecue, Oct. 27 in Lynchburg, Tenn.

LiveMusic!

By ROB CULLIVAN

Pamplin Media Group

The girls are back in town

In September, the Japanese all-female rock 'n' roll trio Akabane Vulgars put on a killer show at Slabtown that most of you missed. Now you have a chance for redemption by checking out this powerful semi-thrashy punk-blues-a-billy trio featuring sisters Yumi Uchinozo, on guitar and vocals, and Miki Uchinozo on bass and vocals, as well as Kei Sofue, on drums and vocals. The group explodes like oldschool punk rockers on stage, and eschews pretty soprano vocals that often characterize female bands for straight-on, almost guttural alto-flavored attack.

Akabane Vulgars, You Guys, DJ Ken Dirtnap, The Cry! 9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 18, Slabtown, 1033 N.W. 16th Ave. $5. Info: 971-229-1455.

Oct. 19

Different kind of duo

We've got lots of guitar-drum duos these days, so it's time for other instruments to take the stage, and Big Gigantic does just that with Dominic Lalli's lyrical saxophone, which would not sound out of place on a 1980s cop movie soundtrack. Lalli and his musical partner, Jeremy Salken, also use electronic beats and sampling to augment their flamboyant attack, which would appeal to fans of hip-hop, smooth jazz, dubstep, house and funk.

Big Gigantic, Griz, 9 p.m. Friday Oct. 19, Wonder Ballroom, 128 N.E. Russell St. $16. $20. All ages. Info: 503-284-8686, wonderball room.com.

Oct. 20

Barry good Portland singer-songwriter Barry

Brusseau is reportedly somewhat insecure about the "imperfections of my voice." It's not clear why since it's got a great timbre and nice range, and works well within the demands of his style, which evokes that of Leonard Cohen and other similarly minded poetic, conversational writers. His second album "Royal Violent Birds" features his brother, Tim Ward, who played with Brusseau in poppunk band The Jimmies, as well as Sally Ford and the Sound Outside's Tyler Tornfelt, Double Clicks' Aubrey Webber on cello, and jazz horn player Michael Paul.

Barry Brusseau, Jon Ransom, Cait Olds, 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, Secret Society Ballroom, 116 N.E. Russell St. $5. Info: 503-493-3600, secretsociety.net.

Grass with class

The Eastside Bluegrass Series takes place at Freedom Foursquare Church, 660 S.E. 160th Ave., every third Saturday of the month. The first concert of this year's series is from 7-9:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20. Jamming takes place in the lobby starting at 5:30 p.m. This week's acts are Coral Creek, which plays gospel and bluegrass; Seth Moran; and Bass Mandolin, featuring Josh Feinberg on upright bass and Brian Oberlin on mandolin. The duo plays a combination of classical, jazz, Indian, bluegrass and swing.

Suggested donation is $10. Children are admitted free. For more information, visit eastsidebluegrass.com, or write eastsidebluegrass@yahoo.com.

Oct. 21

Brothers' benefit

Portland's Brothers of the Baladi play Middle Eastern and world music in Arabic, Turkish, Spanish, Farsi, Armenian, French and English, mixing exotic rhythms with familiar grooves and traditional instruments, including Middle Eastern percussion and reed instruments alongside guitar, bass and drums. The quartet will feature music from their 2008 Grammy nominated CD "Just Do What's Right" as well as from their other 10 CDs, at this 11th annual Daniel Pearl World Music Days.

Brothers of the Baladi, Grace Constantine, Deviant Duet, 7 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 21, Tony Starlight's Supper Club, 3728 N.E. Sandy Blvd. $10. Info: 503-288-4684, 503-517-8584, danielpearlmusicdays.org.

Big Gigantic's melodramatic dance party hits Wonder Ballroom on Oct. 19. COURTESY OF BIG GIGANTIC

It doesn't matter what the piece is, or how you plan to distribute. Simply choose the paper, ink colors and the quantity. Whether we design it for you, or use your press-ready artwork, you can be sure your printed piece is exactly what you want. We can even direct mail to a targeted area, or even to a targeted sort of individual. You decide who should get your message, we'll take care of the rest! We want to be your printer!

Contact Don Atwell for a quote today! DAtwell@CommNewspapers.com

Community Classifieds

Your Neighborhood Marketplace

CommunityClassifieds

PLACEMENT INFORMATION

Telephone: (503) 620-SELL (7355)

Fax: (503) 620-3433

E-Mail:

info@ Community-classifieds.com

> Address: 6606 SE Lake Road Portland, OR 97269

> > Office Hours: 8 am - 5 pm

PortlandTribune

Help

Wanted

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH & SAFETY MGR. Clark College, Vancouver, WA is seeking to fill FT po-sition. Reports to Dir. of Risk Mgmnt. & is responsible for directing, develop-ing, planning & managing the Environmental Health & Safety Program. Salary is $52,836 annually. Clos-ing date is 3:00 p.m., Nov. 2, 2012. For complete position description, require-ments & to apply go to: www.clark.edu/jobs

Clark College HR, 1933 Ft. Vancouver Way Vancouver WA 98663. (360) 992-2105

AA/EO Employer

GENERAL LABOR

Fabricating panels and materials. Forklift exper helpful but not required, Clean

Fax: (253)863-0385

DMV printout required. Call 253-863-0348 or

HELP WANTED

OUTLOOK

Advertising Marketing Consultant

Community Newspapers has an immediate opening for a full time Advertising Marketing Consultant. The successful candidate must be self-motivated, possess the ability to multi-task, work in a fast paced environment and meet deadlines. You will work with existing customers as well as seek out new business. You will be driven, like to work with people and have a desire to be successful. Sales experience preferred but not necessary. Our marketing consultants meet with local businesses to develop marketing plans and strategies to grow their business.

This position reports to the Advertising Director at the Gresham Outlook. We offer an above average base medical, 401(k) plan, vacation and more. A valid driver's license and reliable vehicle with insurance is required

If you are looking for a an opportunity with a growing company that values its people and has a strong community service ethic, please submit your resume to:

Cheryl Swart, Advertising Director, The Gresham

Outlook, 1190 NE Division, Gresham, OR 97030 or e-mail your resume to: cswart@theoutlookonline.com

Business Development Professional

We are seeking a dynamic, organized and self-driven professional to join our team selling print advertising to regional and national accounts. This position is responsible for acquiring new accounts, as well as maintaining relationships with existing clients. We're looking for someone who can identify advertising opportunities and go after them, find unconventional ways to explore new revenue ideas, and keep the new accounts coming in. Experience in print sales is essential, while media buying, selling and financial forecasting is preferred.

Ours is a fast-paced work environment, and we depend on the effort of each member of our team. In return, we offer a base salary plus commission, health benefits, 401k, life & disability insurances and a 125 plan. For consideration please send a resume, including salary requirement, to: Box 354, c/o: Community Classifieds, PO Box 22109, Portland, OR 97269.

rous commission plan and benefits including

Help Wanted

CAREGIVER Compassionate and reliable care. Assist with AM HS care & showers. Relief/Part-Time needed. Good references. Call (503) 543-3747. TVH/AFH.

Grapple Truck Operator

Wanted. Must have valid Class A CDL, with 2 year verifiable exp. Must pass drug & background checks. Please call Greg @ 678-576-8151, or Dan @ 515-557-0299.

Help Wanted

NEED HELP WITH YOUR CLASSIFIED AD?

Call Mindy!

503-546-0760 for ad rates, general information or help writing your ad in any one of our Community Newspaper Publications and get the RESULTS you want

Community Classifieds Portland Tribune Sewsensely

Help Wanted Job Opportunities

DRIVER: $0.03 enhanced quarterly bonus. Get paid for any portion you qualify for: safety production, MPG, CDL-A, 3 months current OTR experience. 800-414-9569 www.driveknight.com

DRIVERS: Get on the ROAD FAST! IMMEDIATE OPENINGS! TOP PAY, FULL BENEFITS, CDL-A, Hazmat, Doubles Required! Haney Truck Line, CALL NOW! 1-888-414-4467 www.GOHANEY.com

DRIVERS: Inexperience/Experienced Unbeatable career oppor-tunities. Trainee, Company Driver, Lease Operator, Lease Trainers (877)369-7104

PLEASE NOTE: Abbreviations destroy the of your advertise-Your advertisement ment. Your advertisement should be attractive and easy to read. Let us help you put together your advertisement. Call us today

503-620-SELL(7355)

BOARD

Community Calendar

WILSONVILLE: Sts Brendan & Bridgid

Catholic Mission An inclusive, contemporary & ecumenical Catholic congregation.

First Mass:
Sun, October 21, 2:00 PM
Communion Table open to ALL baptized Christians.
No one excluded because of baller conscience or life. of belief, conscience, or life of belief, conscience, or life circumstances. www.catholicswithadifference.com Meeting at St Francis of Assisi Episcopal Church 8818 SW Miley Road Wilsonville, OR 97070 (Take Charbonneau Road exit off I-5)

Personals

◆ADOPT◆ A loving family longs to provide everything for 1st baby. Playful pup, Beaches, laughter, Security. Expenses paid. Robin, ◆ ◆ 1-800-990-7667◆ ◆

Business Opportunities

LOOMIX FEED supplements is seeking dealers. Motivated individuals with cattle knowledge and community ties. Contact Bethany @ 800-870-0356 / becomeadealer@adm.com to find out if there is a deal ership opportunity in your

HELP WANTED

SALES ASSISTANT Part-Time

We're seeking a dedicated team player for 15-18 busy hours each week. This person should be able to handle heavy deadlines while working as part of a busy sales team. Basic computer skills for data entry, strong communication skills and a customer service orientation are required. We are open M-F, days, but would offer flexible hours within that timeframe to the right candidate. Compensation is $15 per hour. Benefits are candidate. Compensation is $15 per hour. Benefits are not available to part-time employees. For consideration, please send a resume to: Box 355, c/o: Community

COMMUNITY JEWSPAPERS

SALES ASSISTANT

Community Newspapers and the Portland Tribune publish eighteen newspapers in Portland and suburban markets. We are currently seeking a skilled support person to join our busy retail advertising team

The selected individual will work with a group of advertising executives to assist with scheduling, preparing ad copy, proofing and other day-to-day activities. This person will also support the entire department in a variety of ways, including booking ads, dummying newspapers, coordinating with creative services, reconciling billing issues and more. We're looking for someone who is good at working with a variety of personality types, has strong computer skills, is great on the phone and is very organized. Knowledge of the newspaper business is a plus.

This is a part-time position (25 hours per week) with potential for future full-time employment. For consideration, please forward a resume with cover letter and salary requirement to: cmoore@commnewspapers.com No phone calls, please

Business Opportunities

ATTENTION READERS

Due to the quantity and variety of business opportunity listings we re-ceive, it is impossible for us to verify every oppor-tunity advertisement. tunity advertisement. Readers respond to business opportunity ads at their own risk. If in doubt about a partic-ular offer, check with the Better Business Bureau, 503-226-3981 or the Consumer Protection Agency, 503-378-4320, BEFORE investing any

Loans

It is illegal for companies doing business by phone to promise you a loan and ask you to pay for it before they deliver. For more in-formation, call toll-free 1-877-FTC HELP. A public service message from Community Classifieds and the Federal Trade Com-

Appliances

WASHER & DRYER: GE, 5-speed, lightly used, need the room, $50/each. Call, 503-563-5947.

Cemetery Lots

CEMETERY PLOTS: 2. cemerient PLOTS: 2, side-by-side at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Gresham. Endowment care included, $2,900. Call 503-666-1109.

Christmas Trees & Trim

U-CUT Christmas

OPEN: Nov 25th - Dec 23rd 8am - Dusk 1-1/2 Miles E of Milwaukie on Lake Road at Freeman Road

Firewood/ Heating Supplies

FREE FIREWOOD: U-Cut, haul & clean site. Oregon City area. Call for info: 503-656-8147.

Furniture/ Home Furnishings

NEW PILLOW TOP SET Full or Queen Mattress Set Call for Info: 503.775.6735

Made of hardwood, ALL NEW! $199 Queen or Full, 5 finishes. Mattress extra. Call for info. 503-775-6735

CHAIR: Large Tan/Gold Microfiber Chair, Like New! New Lower Price, $100/OBO. 503-659-1637

DINING SET: Drexel table

& 6 ivory colored uphol-stered chairs, 2 table leaves & pads, china hutch & side cabinet. Beautiful Condition! $2,000/OBO. NE Ptld | (503)231-4754

Christmas!!
Beautiful ivory color Samick, upright, like new, with matching bench. | $4500 503-598-9309 - Tigard

Health Care Equipment

RALLY 4-wheel motorized scooter, like new! New was $1,900, sell for $900 OBO. (503) 674-0109

Shower bench-$35, support for tub-$40, mount support bars-$20, Folding walker-$40, Bedside toilet (brand new)-$80, Oak entertain center-$200. (503)528-4715 - PDX

Lawnmowers

AL'S MOWERS Guaranteed used Gas, Hand & Electric mowers,

Tune-ups & Repair Trade-Ins Welcome! Call 503-771-7202 8828 SE Division Street

Machinery & Tools

GENERATOR: Briggs & Stratton, 5 hp, used only once. $200. (503) 522-1702

SHOP VAC -

Wet-Dry/Contractor. Heavy Duty, portable 5 gallon, 5.5 HP. All accessories included, excellent condition. $50.00. Call (503) 803-5527, please leave

Miscellaneous for Sale

TREE SPRAYER, 25 gal., with hose & nozzle - $125. STOCK TANK, 100gal $50 RUFF-HOUSE (large dog house) $45. (503)543-6394

Miscellaneous Wanted

COIN COLLECTOR Cash paid for older U.S. or foreign coins. I will travel to you if you cannot travel to me. | (503)407-7269

WANTED: DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Can pay up to $20.00 per box. Call Sharon -

r box. Call Sharon - 5 0 3. 6 7 9. 3 6 0 5 WANTED: Indian Artifacts, Arrowheads & Beadwork. Call 503-663-0937.

WANTED; Danish modern , teak, mid century designer furni-ture & accessories!

Musical Instruments/ Entertainment

503-317-7009

GIBSON MANDOLIN, 100 years old, in beautiful shape. Sounds wonderful! Includes hard case. $1,900. 503-987-1320 - Scappoose

Sell it today in the Classifieds.

Call 503-620-SELL (503-620-7355)

Agriculture

ADELE: Rumour Has It, I'm a real sweetheart who just loves people once I know I can trust them. I'm a gorgeous grey tabby who loves to pose for the camera! Despite being named after a famous singer, I'm a quiet cat who would love a quiet cat who would love a quiet home to call my own. Then everything would be Right as Rain. I'll Be Waiting right here for you. Please call 503-292-6628 and ask for Adele or visit: www.animalaidpdx.org for more information..

BETTINA: A young dilute Calico who wears her festive Halloween colors 365 days a year. Her muted grey and orange is medium length and she keeps impoulate care of it. She is length and she keeps immaculate care of it. She is super friendly and outgoing - a great girl for an active family. Come meet Bettina and her friends this Friday and Saturday from 11-4 at The Oregon Cat Project, 342 B Ave, Lake Oswego. It's an "Adults Only Weekend" with adoption fees running between $10 and running between $10 and $40 through the luck of the draw. For more information: TheOregonCat.Org

BRITTANY pups, Purebred. Very cute, happy & healthy. Great family pets. | 503-666-8582

Carmella is a heart stopper - not only does she have the cutest face ever, but she and her siblings are also manx (no tails). They look like fuzzy little bears when they tumble and play. They want to invite you to The Oregon Cat Project's The Oregon Cat Project's Kitten Spooktacular where over 150 kittens will be available for adoption. The event is Saturday, Oct 27 at the Hotel Monaco in Downtown PDX from 11-4 and will be the largest event of its kind ever held in Portland. Come check out Carmella and her friends of every size and friends of every size and color. For more informacolor. For more infortion: TheOregonCat.Org

ENGLISH BULLDOGS

AKC registered, first shots. born 8/6/12.. Call BRADY'S BULL-DOGS: 541-280-6268

APPAREL/JEWELRY

WE BUY GOLD Sterling Flatware -Silver-Pocket Watches

The Jewelry Buyer 20th N.E. Sandy PDX 503-239-6900

www.jewelrybuyerportland.com M-Fri. 9:30-5 Sat 10-4

CHLOE: Weighing in at only 10 pounds, Chloe is quite the dynamo! She is full of energy and is a ton of fun to be around. Chloe's a youngster, born 9/20/10, and a diamond in the ruff. She is sharing a home with other dogs and a cat and gets along with and wants to play with eve-ryone! Please call Animal Aid 503-292-6628 or visit Web www.animalaidpdx.org for

Pets & Supplies

FELLA: I get a lot of compliments on my unique style. I'm mostly smoke/charcoal color but smoke/charcoal color but I have a silver lining/ to play; I've got so much energy and love to give! Some people say I've got it all: the softest fur, the loudest purr, good health, and heart melting cuddles. The only thing I'm missing is a home to call my own and caring people to love me as much as I would me as much as I would love them. Please call 503-292-6628 and ask for Fella or visit our website: www.animalaidpdx.org for more information.

GERMAN SHEPHERD PUPPIES, AKC, Born 9/17, hand raised, sire and dam on site, Active, intelligent and "oh, so cute." Come and pick your puppy. $600. Picture on request. Leave Msg. 360-262-9674. GERMAN SHEPHERD PUPPIES/ADULT MALE

RARE OPPORTUNITY East/West DDR working international championship

ilineage: Heavy bones; Strong head type; Great pigmentation; Strong working drive.
2 litters, males and females/10 weeks old Dark mahogany, black and tan, sables. Excellent temperament, kid and adult handled. Adult male lineage: Heavy bones;

is obedience trained PUPPIES: $850.00 $2500.00 ADULT MALE: $3000.00 (to qualified nome). Visit our website for more information.
Zimmethif@gmanShepheris com

nmerhoffGermanShepherds.c SANDY/ESTACADA, OREGON AREA 503-686-0217 503-637-3163

HOAGIE & OLIVIA: Meow! We're the yin and yang of kitties! Olivia is the lively playful one and I'm. Hoa gie, the smooth, suave and debonair half! Although I must admit I do enjoy chasing the laser light be-tween snuggles. You'll never lack for love or attention when you adopt us. We are hoping to celebrate the New Year at home with you! Please call 503-292-6628 option 3 or visit our website: www.animalaidpdx.org for KITTENS: CFA registered chinchilla silver Persian kittens. Grand Champion linage, show quality. 14 weeks, male and female $500. Call 360-823-9425.

LAB PUPS AKC registered, incredible bloodlines, super hunters and great family dogs. Yellow & black pups available. Ready for Christmas. $1,200. Mark @ (509) 961-6411

SAMPLE SALE

20322 NOBLE LN FRI & SAT: 9-3

PLEASE NOTE:

Abbreviations destroy the intent of your advertise-ment. Your advertisement should be attractive and easy to read. Let us help you put together your advertisement. Call us today

503-620-SELL(7355)

WEST LINN

GRESHAM ESTATE SALE PORTLAND'S LARGEST GARAGE "Swan Song" 850 NE THIRD ST SALE FRI, SAT, SUN: 11-4 Antiques, collectibles, Haviland China, books! LPs, Cloissonne', Kerosene lamps, tools, Everything!!!

To place your Community Classifieds

OREGON'S LARGEST 3-DAY GUN & KNIFE SHOW

1 (800) 659-3440

fall produce & seasonal decor. Located 5 miles south of Powell on SE 242nd or 1 mile north of HWY 212 on 242nd. 503-667-9138 No Insecticides 503-658-4640 or Fungicides. Just Great Taste!!

THOMPSON FARMS

Fresh Picked

FRUITS & VEGETABLES

Visit our Pumpkin Patch

for an abundance of pumpkins,

GRESHAM

'Make A Difference

LAKE OSWEGO GARAGE SALE
5545 KILCHURN AVE
FRI-SAT: 9-4p
Furniture, house & yard items, Holiday decor, books, Collectibles, and miscellaneous.

Hundreds of Sales NOV 3: 8 am-5 pm PORTLAND EXPO CENTER Sellers & Shoppers Wanted www.portlandgsale.com

advertisement, call 503-620-SELL(7355).

October 19, 20 & 21 Portland Expo Center (I-5 exit 306B) Fri: 12-6 Sat: 9-5 Sun: 10-4 Admission $9

www.CollectorsWest.com

Pets & Supplies

LUCINDA: Woof! Are you looking for tail wagging fun, looking for tall wagging fun, a wiggle butt, and love all in one package? It's me! Lucinda's my name and I haven't met anyone I don't like and my foster mom thinks I would do well with children and would make a great family don I am a new great family dog. I am a petite gal at less than 20 pounds so I don't require a lot of space. No fancy hair-cuts or grooming needs, just a nice daily walk, good food and someone to love is all I really need. Please call 503-292-6628 or visit: www.animalaidpdx.org for more information.

ORANGE JULIUS: Sweet ORANGE JOLIOS: SWeet and creamy, he will become your very favorite treat. He goes by Jules for short, this flamepoint Siamese cross can be shy in new situations,but he warms un quickly. He likes new situations,but he warms up quickly. He likes other cats and dogs and this young man would make a great addition to a cat loving family. He can be seen with about forty of his favorite friends this Friday and Saturday from 11-4 at The Oregon Cat Project, 342 B Ave, Lake Oswego. It's an "Adults Only Weekend" with adoption fees running between $10 and $40 through the luck of the draw. For info: TheOregonCat.Org

SARA: Rescued from a neglect situation, Sara was very shy & scared when she arrived at the shelter. After some patience & attention she's blossomed into an adoring girl. She would love to spend her second chance at life, giving you all the love she can! Please call 503-292-6628 or visit our vebsite for more info: www.animalaidpdx.org

WANTED: GUARDIAN FOR BEAUTIFUL ESSENTIALLY FREE

We are looking for guardian homes". One or a medium/standard, chocolate non-shed girl and one for a small, non-shed parti or red, boy or girl! Service/Therapy Quality. Interested? Check out our Web site:

or call 503-522-5210

Acreage/Lots

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE

All real estate advertised herein is subject to the Federal Fair Housing Act, which makes it ille gal to advertise any pref erence, limitation or discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, handicap, familial status or national origin, or intention to make any such preferences, limitations or discrimination State law forbids dis rental or advertising of real estate based on factors in addition to those protected under federal law. Oregon federal law. Oregon State law forbids dis-crimination based on marital status. We will not knowingly accept any advertising for real estate which is in violation of the law. All per sons are hereby formed that all dwelli advertised are available on an equal opportunity basis.

WANTED LOTS & LAND Builders want finished lots or land to develop. Nancy Gregg 503-720-6117 ngregg@realtytrust.com Realty Trust Group, Inc

Condos/Townhouses

For Sale PORTLAND SW:

OPEN HOUSE 10/14 & 10/21, 12-4p Split level, fenced, covered patio, new oven, plumbed with natural gas, sunken lv rm, oak floors, ceiling fan, china cabs & newer roof. Resort amenities incl golf, covered pool, mtg hall, gardens, etc. View slideshow: RMLS #12253187

Property #94706 www.homesbyowner.com 503-639-0292

> GET FAST RESULTS THE CLASSIFIEDS CALL NOW!

CALL 503-620-SELL

Homes for Sale

HAPPY VALLEY:

View!!! Top of Mt Scott contemporary w/view of West Hills, on 1ac w/barn, ideal for family & entertaining, 60' garage, landscp w/3 waterfalls, $475,000. Also avail, 5 other view lots Butte Mt.Scott. 503-887-0070.

Newberg $237,500 Like new Craftsman style Great Room plan W/oversized 3 car garage!
Knotty Alder Cabinets, Granite Tile counters.
Maintenance free land-Maintenance free land-scaping w/paver patio, nightscape lighting, fire pit & synthetic turf, perfect for outdoor entertaining! http://tinyurl.com/DonnaDr

Derek Colby Realty Advantage 503-481-5174

tensive rémodel in 2011 3 Full master suites, 3.5 baths. Large corner lot. Great Investment Property! $474,500. Contact Susan, Hunter Properties, LLC. 541-389-7910 or 541-410-8084 (cell)

CANBY/WILSONVILLE NEW HOME ~ $329,900

Brand New 1 Level 2021sf Great Room plan w/3 car garage & lots of upgrades, vaulted ceilings, slab coun-ters, Alder cabinets, SS applces, hdwd floors & more! 10 minutes to Wilsonville high tech. See details

http://tinyurl.com/1482Elm Derek Colby Realty Advantage 503-481-5174

Manufactured Homes/Lots

FACTORY SPECIAL New Home, 3 bdrm, 1296 sq ft, $54,900. Finished on site JandMHomes.com (503) 722-4500

HERITAGE VILLAGE 3 New Homes $69,500 - 3 Bd/2 Ba love-in ready, 1440 sf. Financing Available,

123 SW Heritage Pkwy Beaverton OR 97005 Beaverton OR 97005 Call 888-313-6331 CAL-AM HOMES www.cal-am.com Offer Expires - 11/15/12 仚

2 ba mfd home w/high-end finishes sits on 15K lot w/Mt Hood view! Lots of gardening space w/cherry tree & variety of berries. 2-car garage w/shop. TONS of Extras!!! ML#12053684.

$204,000. Call Gradine Storms, Broker, RE/MAX Equity Group. 503-495-4932.

OREGON CITY Approved 55+ community. Great home, lots of extras, must see Garage 3 bdrm plus den. $69,900 JandMHomes.com (503) 722-4500 BEST!!!

Homes for sale in our Quiet, tranquil 55+ park.

Near Shopping & services near bus line. In-home companion pets welcome. You'll LOVE our Lifestyle! 16745 SE Division. Call for Special deals & details. 503-806-7118.

PRICE REDUCED!!!

3 Bedroom 2 Bath 1377sf Ground set Manufactured Home in a Great Park with a very LOW SPACE RENT! 503-652-9446

SHOP ONLINE New & Used Repos JandMHomes.com 503-722-4500

WrightChoiceHomes.com MRIGHT CHOICE

!-VIDEO'S-! Pictures & details Oregon's friendliest and Most informative website Huge selection of MANUFACTURED & MOBILE HOMES. Family Owned Since 1992 503-652-9446

Apartments for Rent

*** Show Your Apt Rentals in Community

Classifieds Classifieds ie rental marke moving again! Call Sherry Carsten

503-546-0755 for information, rates special promotions or fo help in writing an ad. We can help! scarsten@commnewspaper

Houses for Rent

ESTACADA

2 & 3 Bdrm , Laundry Hook-up, Kitchen appliances, Storage Shed. Includes water 8 ewer. Ask about our No Deposit Option! Sec 8 OK

emv2007@usa.net

email for details

503-630-4300

Miscellaneous Rentals

OREGON CITY: HALL RENTAL

& personal use. Amenities include: Stage, kitchen & licensed beverage service Affordable rates! Veterans Memorial Bldg 104 South Tumwate Oregon City 503-655-6969

Vacation Rentals

2 blocks from beach FALL & WINTER
DATES Available, Call to reserve 503-636-9292

Boats/Motors/ Supplies

BAYLINER CUDDY 4-cyl Mercruiser Inboard/Out Drive Has Hummingbird Fish Finder, tie down cover, Porta-Potti and more. Runs excellent! $6,460 | 503-543-7881

SEASWIRL,1978, 18 ft., Inboard boat. Garaged. Includes trailer, boat canopy & 105hp QMC motor. $3,325 | (503)620-3666, (503)799-2286

Cars For Sale

CHRYSLER, New Yorker, 1994 - Io mi 82K, leather, pwr locks & windows, auto. Maroon, good brakes/tires - $2000. | (503)543-6394

FORD TAURUS SE 2006: power windows and locks with 72.000 miles. Runs great! $6,000/OBO. Call, 503-290-9357

HONDA ACCORD EX-L 4 DOOR SEDAN, 2004. Su-perb condition, only 54k Automatic, leather, rmi: Automatic, learner, power steering, windows and locks. AC, keyless entry, security system, cruise, anti lock brakes, AM FM stereo CD charger, sun roof, Alloy wheels, near new tires. Everything in excellent working, order, Call cellent working order. Call Mike at 503-699-1046 for appt. $12,995.

HONDA, CIVIC LX, 2007. 1.8L, 4 cyl engine, Galaxy Grey, 2dr coupe, 5spd, FWD, 79K miles, Custom wheels, studded snow tires (add'l $500 - used one sea son). Well maintained, no accidents & non-smoker. $12,800 - Negotiable. 310-498-6204

Cars For Sale

MERCEDES-BENZ SL500, 2003, Hardtop convertible. Excel condition! Special Launch Edition, Designo Edition, includes suede headliner and other upgrades. Sport and handling package. Black leather interior/launch edition champagne exterior. Fairly new premium tires. Regularly serviced by a Mercedes specialist garage 89.800 miles. | $18,950 (503)317-8427

MERCURY SABLE LS Premium, 2002 Equipped w/some upgrades not avail on all Sables incl. Duratec 24-valve high torque engine. Adjustable pedal ht., fog lights, leather seats, digital electronic climate control, A/C, heated mirrors, allov wheels, kevless & remote entry, powered Sun Roof, dual 12V outlets 160K mi. | $2,800 (503)397-5511

> Mini Vans & Passenger Vans

loaded! DVD player, four Captain's chairs, fold-down backseat bed, seats 7 Excellent condition! $3500 (503)636-3087

Pickups

CHEVROLET Silverado, 2005: 4 x 4 crew cab, 1,500 LS V8 5.3 liter, 2007. loaded, excellent, 78K mi. $15,500. 503-828-2793. or 503-648-0271

> RVs & Travel Trailers

38.6' DUTCH STAR Motor Home 2001: DIESEL Home 2001: DIESEL PUSHER. Excellent condition, new reconditioned roof, 6 new tires, 4 new batteries, all oak cabinetry, patteries, all oak cabinetry, 33,832 miles, lots of extras, tow bar included, satellite dish, Thousand Trails membership avail. Must sell due to health, $50,000 or offer. Call 503-543-4492 or 503-705-6096.

Ultra-lite Limited Edition

300BHWE. $19,599 FIRM. Hate to sell but have a baby on the way! Harvest interior, dark cherry cabi-nets, Sleeps up to 9, front bdrm Queen Bed (aftermarket residential mattress), 2 Slides, Rear fold-out couch & fold down bunk w/additional entertainment area dining area, fold-out co area, banquet area, additional couch dining/entertainment area, 19" LCD TV, AM/FM/CD with interior & exterior speakers, electric tongue jack, electric leveling jacks, exterior gas stove, full cover. Located in Gladstone, OR. 503-723-9009.

FLEETWOOD. SOUTH-FLEETWOOD, SOUTH-WIND, 1997 - 34', wide body, Class A. Onon gen-erator and new brakes. $16,625 or trade for Class B RV. Call: 503-803-0480

RV-Itaska 1985 27ft 31000 mi everything works.No leaks no smokers or pets. Sleeps 5. $3000 OBO Call

2009 Starcraft 2406 $6.850 OBO. Queen and double beds, indoor & out-door showers, stove, frig, hot & cold water, heater Excellent condition, Call Ron @ 503.543.7089

TRAVEL TRAILER. 1981 21' with awning, been un-der cover, sleeps six, self contained, $2,500. (503) 658-2257

> Sport Utility Vehicles

with sun roof, Z-71, 117k mi, off road pkg., newer titow pkg. and many r extras. $9,999 call

Chevy Avalanche 2003

FORD EXPLORER, 2004, Silver, V-6, Tow Pkg, All Power, CD, CC, very good condition, up-to-date maintenance. 118K miles. $6.500/obo. (503)706-4686

Service Direct

Home & Professional Services

SERVICE Professional Services

Attorneys/Legal Services

DIVORCE $135. Complete preparation. Includes chil-dren, custody, support, property and bills division. No court appearances. Di vorced in 1-5 weeks possible. 503-772-5295 aralegalalternative divorce@usa.com

SERVICE Home Services

> Building & Remodeling

NOTICE:
Oregon Construction Contractors' Law
(ORS 701)
Requires anyone who contracts for construction work to be licensed with the Construction Contractors' Board. An active license means the contractor is bonded and insured. Verify the contractor's CCB li-cense through the CCB Consumer Web site: www.ccb.state.or.us Call 1-503-378-4621

> JAMES F. WIEDEMANN CONSTRUCTION
> Remodeling, Windows,
> & Doors, Decks, Fences, Sheds. 20 yrs exp. L/I/B CCB

Chimney Services

503-784-6691

BIRDS CHIMNEY SERVICE 1-800-CHIMNEY Cleaning & Repairs 503-653-4999

Cleaning/Organizing

Personalized care of your home! 13-yrs exper. Honest & Organized. References Available. 503-657-2877 503-539-0704 (cell)

Cleaning/Organizing

HOUSEKEEPING

Debi's Personalized Cleaning. 26-Years!!!
Honest, Reasonable.
Due to Economy,
Need WORK!!
503.590.2467

Concrete/Paving

CONCRETE FLATWORK Everything Concrete Excavation/Retaining Wall ccb#158471 503.297.6271

NW Construction, Inc. CONTRACTORS NW Decorative Etched or Stamped & Beyond Pools •Decks •Patios

Retaining structural walls •Driveways Since 1978 CCB#31044

503-760-2997 www.cnw-inc.com

Decks

Total Quality Deck Restoration "No job too small" Strip, sand, stain, repair Power Washing Drive-DECK JLS

Restoration 503-312-1622 Licensed, Bonded Insured #171558

TESLA

Electrical

Electric Company Full Service Electrical Fair Rates, Fast www.teslapdx.com 503-724-1175

Fences

Straight & Sturdy Fencing Post setting, rails installed or complete job #27194 503-639-5792 John Floors

HAIGHT'S FLOORS When Quality Matters Fine Wood Floors Since 1991. Let us work with you on your next project. New floors, remodel and refinish, prefinished. We do it all! Licensed, Bonded Insured CCB#76782 w.haightsfloors.com 503-771-2589

> Handyman/ Handywoman

HANDYMAN MATTERS Locally owned, nationally recognized. Specializing in small to medium jobs #191473

> 503-621-0700 Hauling

FATHER AND SON HAULING "Fast, Honest, Reliable & Hardworking" Junk, Yard & Building Debris; Attic, Garage & Rental Clean-outs.

Rick, (503) 705-6057

Gerry Dean's Cleanup (503) 244-4882

Maintenance ** AFFORDABLE ** Quality Maintenance &

Cleanups TURF TENDERS

Landscape

COMPLETE SERVICE •Mowing •Trimming Pruning: hedges, shrubs, ornamental & fruit trees.
 Fertilization •Weed control •High grass •Aeration•Bark •Bed work •Clean-ups •Maintenance programs

FALL CLEANUP Let me help you get your yard ready for FALL

Check out my rates! Call Dave, (503) 753-1838

Landscape Maintenance

GARCIA MAINTENANCE READY FOR FALL Mowing, trimming, weeding, bark dust. Leaf pickup, (503) 774-2237

MOW •CUT •EDGE •LEAF CLEANUP •MORE! Average Price, $30. (503) 550-8871 / 503-708-8770.

YARD DEBRIS HAULING •Rototilling •Trimming •Bark Dust •Gravel •Yard Maintenance. Free est, 7 days. (503) 626-9806

Painting & Papering

KENT'S PAINTING Fine qual, int/ext, free each #48303.503-257-7130

MB PAINTING

*Interior / Exterior *Clean quality work *Cabinets/woodwork

Free est. CCB#56492. www.mbpainting.us Call Matt @ 503-640-0632

> Plumbing & Drainage

All Jobs, Large & Small Senior Discount CCB#194308 503-867-3859

Roofing/Gutters

Senior Discount

GUTTER GETTERS Gutter Cleaning, Install & Repair, Roof Repairs, Fence & Awning Repairs & Handyman. CCB#195040 Low rates • Steve 503-260-6280

Find a Friend

Find a loving, furry companion at the Pacific Northwest's largest cat-only shelter. Come Visit Us!

14175 SW Galbreath Drive Sherwood, OR 97140 (Located Across From the Sherwood DMV)

(503) 925.8903 :: catadoptionteam.org

COMMUNITY CLASSIFIEDS * YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD MARKETPLACE * 503-620-SELL (7355) * 8:30am - 5:00pm * www.Community-Classifieds.com

We live in an area which is known for very cold winters. Our facility is nearly 7000 square feet in area. When we began to utilize the first unit we were amazed to see how even the heat was for the entire living room area. We ordered a second and a third unit which now warms the entire home. Much to our surprise we are saving over $250 a month and had the lowest expense for heating we have ever experienced here. I would heartily recommend your products to anybody who is interested in really nice, even heat in their home and also interested in saving on their utility expenses.

Dennis Crystal, Troy, MT (Retired Airline Pilot)

Enclosed you will find printouts of our electric bill and gas/heating/cooking bills for 2007 - 2008. Our gas company, AmeriGas, stated that more money was saved than would show up because of the cost going up. We would turn the gas on early in the morning and turn it down to 60 degrees; We would use the EdenPURE® heaters from then on and they provided such warmth and cozy heat. Many of our friends have informed me recently that they are going to purchase these heaters for their homes this winter.

How it works:

Gloria D. Smith, Boydton, VA (Retired Elementary Principal)

EdenPURE reopens Ohio factory creates 250 new jobs

New models shipped direct from warehouse at 49% savings

Richard Karn, North Canton, Ohio

I was fortunate enough to attend the grand opening of the new EdenPURE® factory in North Canton, Ohio. The new plant brought hundreds of new jobs back to Ohio and reversed the common practice of sending Midwest manufacturing jobs to China. Now, Eden-PURE® continues to ramp up production for the coming Winter with exciting new models and hundreds of new employees as this Made in America success story continues to grow.

American Labor, American Quality

With over 3 million portable heaters sold EdenPURE® is the best selling portable infrared heating system in North America. However, like any classic, EdenPURE® has dozens of would-be competitors who create Asian copies at low prices using cheap, foreign labor. Don't be fooled by these imitations. Look for the EdenPURE® logo and the Made in North Canton, Ohio stamp, Save like millions of others on your heating bills and say "NO" to cheap foreign imitators. I spoke with Neil Tyburk the Chief Designer and President of EdenPURE®'s North Canton plant who is very direct in his beliefs. "We have better designs, better materials and a better work force. We can kick their butts in only advantage they have is it." cheap labor."

Save up to 49% on 2013 EdenPURE®s

Now readers can save up to 49% ($229 the largest savings ever on new EdenPURE®s). EdenPURE® is not just the best-selling portable heating system in North America. As an EdenPURE® owner I rank EdenPURE® #1 for quality, safety and efficiency. And now is the perfect time to save like never before on our expanded 2013 EdenPURE® line made in our brand new North Canton, Ohio facility.

With two models Eden-PURE® can meet all of your heating requirements 365 days a year. We receive thousands of letters from satisfied customers who share their heating testimonials many of which you can view at our website edenpure.com. This Summer we even followed up with EdenPURE® customers from 5 years ago like Gloria Smith (see her original testimony above) who are still just as enthusiastic and in some instances saved thousands of dollars versus costly propane.

Gloria Smith Interview May 20, 2012

"My name is Gloria Smith and I am a retired principal from Boydton, Virginia. I've been using EdenPURE® Heaters for 5 years. I think I saved at least $15,000 over a period of 5 years. And that's proven with my bank statements because it's documented. And I feel really great about using the EdenPURE®

Heaters." "Many people have called me from all over the country when they have seen the in- are expected to remain at along the line he had picked up

Never be cold again

As Al Borland on Home Improvement I was the man with all the answers. However, as Richard Karn I still look for money saving and efficient heating in my home. I have an EdenPURE® Infrared Portable Heater in my California home and like millions of others found it to be a supersafe, reliable source of portable heat all year long.

fomercials on TV. I've enjoyed talking to them and I want everybody to save money in these hard economic times. I believe in paying it forward, so when you experience someproduction and quality. The thing good, you want to share

Stay Comfortable 365 Days a Year

"Never be cold again" is the EdenPURE® promise. Eden-PURE® provides you insurance against the cold all year long. Stay comfortable on those unseasonably chilly evenings no matter the season. I live in California but believe me it gets cold at night. Keep your expensive furnace turned down until it's absolutely necessary. And if we are fortunate enough to experience a mild winter as many of us did in the Midwest last year, you keep your furnace off all season and save even bigger.

New, More Efficient

The engineers at Eden-PURE® listened to their millions of customers and somehow managed to improve the #1 portable heater in North America. Through old fashioned American ingenuity the new EdenPURE® line is more efficient to save you even more

The EdenPURE® Personal Heater now heats a larger area, an increase from 350 square feet to 500 square feet. That's a 30% increase in efficiency! And EdenPURE® is proud to introduce the 2013 Model 750. The new Model 750 is perfect for larger areas and heats up to 750 square feet. But the best thing about the Model 750 is the price. We priced the Model 750 at only $50 above the Personal Heater. This means you receive a 33% increase in performance for only $50.

We all know heating costs

All of the testimonials are by actual EdenPURE® customers who volunteered their stories, and were given another EdenPURE® heater as thanks for their participation. Average homeowners save 10% to 25%.

That's American engineering at its best!

record levels. The cost of heating our homes and apartments will continue to be a significant burden on the family budget. The Eden-PURE® can cut your heating bills and pay for itself in a matter of weeks, and then start putting a great deal of extra money in your pocket

Super Safe Infrared Heat Now remember, a major cause of residential fires in the United States is carelessness and faulty portable heaters. The choice of fire and safety professional, Captain Mike Hornby, the EdenPURE® has no exposed heating elements that can cause a fire. And a redundant home protection system that simply shuts the EdenPURE® down if it senses danger. That's why grandparents and parents love the EdenPURE®. The outside of the Eden-PURE® only gets warm to the touch so that it will not burn children or pets. And your pet may be just like my dog who has reserved a favorite spot near the EdenPURE®. You see the EdenPURE® uses infrared heat. And just as pets enjoy basking in a beam of sunlight they try to stay close to Eden-PURE®'s "bone-warming" infrared heat.

The Origin of EdenPURE® a Missouri Rancher's Dis-

American's love to tinker. We are a nation of inventors from Benjamin Franklin to Thomas Edison. A Missouri horse breeder named John Jones was no exception.

Jones lived in a large drafty old farmhouse with his family of five. They stayed warm on cold Missouri nights with an old coal furnace and plenty of a large sheet of cured copper. Jones stored the large copper sheet in his basement near the coal furnace he labored to fill every chilly morning.

Now Jones was always collecting scrap to use in his latest inventions and somewhere

Heats floor to the

as ceiling.

same temperature

Jones noticed something peculiar. The coal furnace warmed the copper sheet and as the furnace cooled down the copper sheet stayed warm. In fact, the copper sheet stayed warm for many hours and heated much of the large base-

As Jones continued to develop a portable infrared heater he knew the copper was the secret ingredient that would make his heater different from all the rest. His copper heating chambers combined with the far infrared bulbs provided an efficient wave of "soft" heat over large areas. The breakthrough Eden-PURE® infrared heating chamber was born.

The Health Secret is in the Copper EdenPURE®'s engineers have taken Jones' original concept through revolutionary changes. EdenFLOW™ technology uses copper heating chambers to take the energy provided by our special SYL-VANIA infrared bulbs and distribute our famous soft heat evenly throughout the room.

Now our copper isn't ordinary. It's 99.9% pure antimi-crobial copper from an over 150 year old American owned company in Pennsylvania. Researchers have discovered copper as an antimicrobial is far more effective than stainless steel or even silver. That's why our special antimicrobial copper is marked Cu+ and used in hospitals on touch surfaces. So your EdenPURE® heater is continuously pushing soft, healthy, infrared heat throughout your room.

How to Order

During our 2013 introduction you are eligible for a $202 DISCOUNT PLUS FREE SHIPPING AND HANDLING FOR A TOTAL SAVINGS OF $229 ON THE EDENPURE® MODEL 750 AND A $175 DISCOUNT PLUS FREE SHIPPING AND HANDLING or reject order requests at the will be refunded. No quesdiscounted price. See my attached savings Coupon to take advantage of this opportunity.

$192 ON THE EDENPURE® PERSONAL HEATER.

The made in North Canton, Ohio EdenPURE® carries a 60-day, unconditional no-risk This special offer expires in guarantee. If you are not total-10 days. If you order after that ly satisfied, return it at our exwe reserve the right to accept pense and your purchase price tions asked. There is also a 3 year warranty on all parts and

RICHARD KARN'S SAVINGS COUPON

The price of the EdenPURE® Model 750 Heater is $449 plus $27 shipping and the price of the Personal Heater is $372 plus $17 shipping, but, with this savings coupon you will receive a $202 discount on the Model 750 and a $175 discount on the Personal Heater with free shipping and be able to get the Model 750 delivered for only $247 and the Personal Heater delivered for only $197.

The Personal Heater has an optional remote control for only $12. The Model 750 remote is included in the price.

- Check below the number you want (limit 3 per customer) ☐ Model 750 with remote, number ☐ Personal
- Heater, number ☐ Optional Personal Heater Remote $12, number
- To order by phone, call TOLL FREE 1-800-315-1257 Offer Code EHS7112. Place your order by using your credit card. Operators are on duty Monday - Friday 6am - 3am, Saturday 7am - 12 Midnight and Sunday 7am - 11pm, EST.
- To order online, visit www.edenpure.com enter Offer Code EHS7112
- To order by mail, by check or credit card, fill out and mail in this coupon.

This product carries a 60-day satisfaction guarantee. If you are not totally satisfied return at our expense, and your purchase price will be refunded – no questions asked. There is also a three year warranty.

ADDRESS
CITY	STATE	ZIP CODE
Check below to get disco	ount:
☐ I am ordering within	10 days, therefore	I get a $202 discount plus Free shipp
Model 750 Heater.		·
☐ I am ordering within	10 days, therefore	I get a $175 discount plus Free shipp	ing and my price i	is only $197 for the Personal Heater.		·
☐ I am ordering past 10	days, therefore I	pay full price for the Model 750 or Per	sonal Heater plus	shipping and han dling.	1	11 0
Enclosed is $ in:	☐ Check ☐ Mone	ey Order
(Make check payable to l	EdenPURE®) or c	harge my:
☐ VISA ☐ MasterCard	☐ Am. Exp./Op	tima
☐ Discover/Novus Account No
Exp. Date/
MAIL TO: Edenl	PURE®
Offer	Code EHS7112

7800 Whipple Ave. N.W.

Canton, OH 44767

277086.101812

Brandin Cooks of Oregon State and receiving partner Markus Wheaton have combined in five games for 75 catches, 1,123 yards and eight touchdowns this season.

TRIBUNE PHOTO:

OSU: Star receivers nearly wound up playing elsewhere

From page 10

to say, 'Yes sir, we feel like we're one of the best (duos) in the country.'

What will keep us doing that is working hard. We can't get big-headed or overconfident or complacent. We have to keep working like it's the first week. our motto during the offseason was to make sure we keep getting after it, come together and do something spe-

Wheaton has an even more modest response.

"I feel like we have two of the best quarterbacks in the country" in Sean Mannion and Cod Vaz, Wheaton says. "That helps us a lot. We don't have to do too much. We run our routes and the ball just falls in our laps most of the time."

Wheaton and Cooks are as close as siblings, by all ac-

"They are like brothers," Brennan says. "There's a bigtime mutual respect there. You should have seen them working together in the offseason, catching balls and running routes. They ran every day. They were unbelievable that way.

"When 'Cookie' first got here, he looked up to Markus because he was a playmaker on our side of the ball. And Markus is such a good guy, he's easy to like. They've both been pretty fun to be around." Wheaton says it's simply a matter of paying it forward, something that has been done through a great line of receivers during the Mike Riley era at Oregon State, from James Newson to Mike Hass to Sammie Oregon), but I came on a visit he says. "We put in a lot of Stroughter to James Rougers to the current duo. "Brandin and I have spent a lot of time together," Wheaton says. "When he first got here, it was me, him and James. As James helped me, we helped him, and we all grew together. "He is like my little brother. We do everything together in thoughts the weight room. I'm his lifting Neuheisel's pistol offense, then partner. I stay on him; he stays on me sometimes. On the field and in the meeting room, I'm trying to teach him all the little things that I didn't know when I was getting started.'

Cooks considers Wheaton a role model.

"I call Markus my big brother," Cooks says. "Words can't explain how close we are when it comes to football — even in life, period.

"He has been through everything. He's a senior, I'm barely a sophomore. His little tips have been huge. I really thank him for that. He has been great about it. Love him to death."

The two have different personalities. Cooks is the life of the party. Wheaton is as pleasant as a Maui sunset but not as effervescent

"Brandin has a great way about him," Brennan says. "He is very smart and has an opinion that's valuable and fun to listen to. He likes to have a good time, joke with the guvs and have fun. When he showed up as a freshman, he was immediately in with the group. He was instantly well-received and respected and fell right in. That personality of his is a big part of that.

'Markus is not as outgoing as Cookie, but he still has a great personality, and his teammates really like being around him. He's not quiet — just not quite as effusive as Cookie is."

Wheaton and Cooks both nearly wound up elsewhere. Wheaton was headed to Oregon — where cousin Kenny was once a star defensive back before changing his mind.

"I was real close to going (to here, fell in love with the program and Coach Riley," Wheaton says. "I loved the offense they were running. Then when I came for my visit, I loved the town and Coach Riley sealed the deal.'

Cooks de-committed from UCLA when he had second about Rick still considered Washington before deciding on Oregon State.

"I was real heavy with (the Huskies) before I learned that Coach Riley is just amazing," Cooks says. "He sold me right away. He didn't have to use special tactics. I just liked the way the players came together as a team. That's what's special about Oregon State. And I felt like I'd fit great into our pro-style offense." Wheaton ranks fourth on the OSU career receptions list with 177, behind only Rodgers, Hass and Newson. Wheaton needs 44 more catches to pass Rodgers (222) and become the school's all-time leader. Wheaton is also fifth on the OSU list with 2,314 yards. He won't catch Hass (3,924) or Newson (3,572) but needs only 310 yards to pass Stroughter (2,623) and Rodgers (2,582) and move up to third on the receiving yardage list. Cooks has already surpassed his 2011 numbers, when he caught 31 passes for 391 yards and three touchdowns as a true freshman. Like Wheaton, he possesses great speed and quickness. "Brandin is a hard guy to tackle in space," Brennan says. "He has great stop-and-start ability, good hands and can play the ball outside the framework of the body. Put that together with his motivation and personality and mindset, you have a really good player.' Wheaton was bitterly disappointed at not making a bowl game the past two seasons. He is thrilled the Beavers have turned it around his senior

"It's working out perfect," work to make sure this year went well. We're not even halfway through, but it's looking good right now. We're going to do what we can to get that next win and try to keep it rolling."

kerryeggers@portlandtribune.com Twitter: @kerryeggers

Scoresheet: Speed thrills Pumpkin Ridge golf pro

From page 10

take some time to smell the flowers and take in the scenery, it's Bandon Dunes.

Christopher Smith has a different point of view.

A teaching pro at Pumpkin Ridge Golf Club in North Plains, Smith is in the Guinness Book of World Records for the best round of speed golf. In 2005, at Jackson Park in Chicago, he shot a 65 in 44 minutes (a speed golf score of 109). Yes, he played

Smith is now 49 and battling arthritic hips, but he is one of top contenders to win the first Speed Golf World Championships Saturday and Sunday at Bandon Dunes.

He and 13 others will tee it up – quickly — in the 36-hole elite division (total purse $50,000, with $18,000 to the winner and $10,000 to the runner-up). Fortyfive golfers are in the amateur division.

CBS plans to air a 30-minute show on the tournament next April in a coveted TV time slot - right before the third round of The Masters.

Smith is excited about the publicity speed golf is getting. "It's easier from a mental standpoint and even from a golf swing standpoint than traditional, or slow golf, where people tend to over-analyze and overthink," he says.

Smith is considered one of the top teaching pros in the country; he was the 2004 Pacific Northwest section PGA Teacher of the Year. The former UC Santa Barbara player has written for Golf Digest and authored a book, "Tve Got 99 Swing Thoughts But 'Hit The Ball' Ain't One," subtitled, "Pick Up The Pace To Pick Up Your Game."

He says even tour pros — including friend and fellow Portland-area pro Ben Crane, notorious for his deliberate style - probably would play better if they played faster. "Ben would be a great speed golfer. He's really fit," Smith says.

According to Smith, science and performance experts have shown that we don't need to take our own sweet time in order to play well.

"It's been shown that we receive about 11 million bits of information per second through all our senses — and a large majority of that for humans is visual," Smith says. "If we're receiving that much information, to read a putt?"

In speed golf, Smith carries a light bag with only six clubs (driver, 5-wood, 5-iron, 8-iron, gap wedge and putter), wears running shoes ("golf shoes are way too heavy"), takes no practice swings, uses no yardage book or distance finder, sprints between shots and reads greens only as he is approaching them and his ball.

"It's two-thirds golf, one-third running," he says, adding that "the good golfer will always beat the fast player."

Predicting what score it will take to win at Bandon Dunes

"The weather is a crapshoot - it could be perfect or it could be a hurricane," Smith says. "We've got several mini-tour players, PGA professionals and guys who used to play on different tours, so we're really eager to see what they all do. If somebody could shoot around par, or a little better, and do it in 55 to 60 minutes each day, I think that would be up there.

■ Adam Bean of Puget Sound, a sophomore from Lincoln High, won the 11-team Pacific Lutheran Invitational by four shots this week. He shot 73-70—143, 1-under-par, at Chambers Bay Golf Course, site of the 2015 U.S. Open.

■ Wilson

High's Mike

Clopton, whose Trojans won the 5A title in 2012, has been named national high school Division II baseball coach of the year by the American Baseball Coaches Association and Diamond Sports Company. Clopton will receive his award Jan. 4 at the ABCA national convention in Chicago.

Greg Lord, coach of 6A champion Oregon City, also will be honored with the Division III regional coach of the vear award.

■ Winterhawks coachCLOPTON

GM Mike Johnston says one thing that's difficult about taking a junior hockey team by bus to Manitoba and Saskatchewan for six games in nine nights — as Portland did this month — might surprise you. "Believe it or not, the challenge is to keep the players busy," he says. "If they're sitting in a hotel room, they lose energy. It gets boring when you sit around." So the Hawks kept their players as engaged as possible on their recent trip, and the team nnished with a solid four wins, sweeping the last three despite having to play four times in five nights. One of the wins was 5-2 over previously unbeaten, untied Prince Albert.

Highlight of the idle-time activities had to be the team curling tournament on Thanksgiving Day in Canada. One of the curling "captains," defenseman Troy Rutkowski guided his team (which included Tyler Wotherspoon, Derrick Pouliot and Dominic Turgeon) to first place in the bonspiel for the second year in a row.

■ Johnston says the biggest pleasant surprise through 11 games is defenseman Josh Hanson: "He's taken a huge step at (age) 18." The entire defense has played well,

Happy birthday

Johnston adds.

Oct. 23, 1972 — Tiffeny Milbrett (age 40)

Oct. 21, 1978 — Joey Harrington (age 34)

Oct. 22, 1989 — LaMichael James (age 23)

Oregon sports history

Oct. 22, 1910 — Charles Taylor sets University of Oregon football records that still stand, with 10 touchdowns and 14 PATs in a 115-0 victory over Puget Sound. The Ducks later finish the season with a 4-1 record, losing their finale 5-0 to MAAC (Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, now Multnomah Athletic Club).

Oct. 22, 1994 — Kenny Wheaton returns an interception 97 yards for a touchdown in the final minute as Oregon beats ninth-ranked Washington 31-20 at Autzen Stadium and gives Duck fans the highlight video and audio that have been replayed, oh, maybe 1,248,487 times, and counting.

Oct. 22, 2003 — Dee Andros, "The Great Pumpkin" who coached Oregon State football from 1965-75, dies at 79 in Corvallis. Andros, an ex-Marine who was athletic director at OSU from 1975-84, was known for his Power-T offense, his 1967 "Giant Killers" team, his colorful speeches and pep talks, his 9-2 record in the Civil War, and more.

Oct. 22, 2009 — LaMarcus Aldridge signs a five-year contract extension with the Trail Blazers.

Tweets of the week

Great TEAM win today! How bout them beavers! Cody Vaz "@c_vaz14

(posted shortly after Vaz's quarterback play helped OSU win 42-24 at BYU)

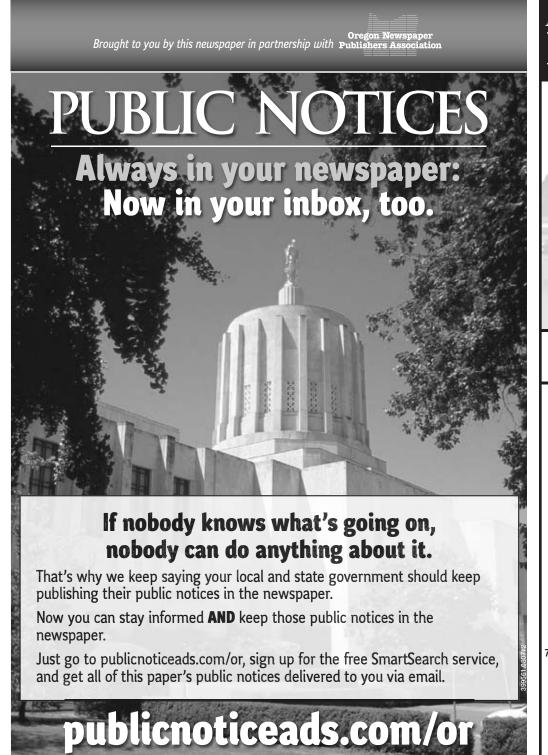

Too blessed to be stressed 100 anomied to be disap pointed

Too devout to pout I'm too redeemed to be steamed Damian Lillard "@Dame_

Lillard

stevebrandon@portlandtribune. com, Twitter: @sbrandonsports

Enter to Win Your Explore the Gorge Adventure

Two Grand Prizes • Two-night stay at the

- Hood River Inn
- Dining Certificate for the Riverside
- Sunday Brunch Scenic Train
- Ride on the Mount Hood Railroad.

30 Second Prizes • 5 lucky weekly winners will receive a VIP Pass from Baja Fresh!

Hood River Inn

11685 SW Pacific Hwy

Tigard, OR

Two Grand Prize Winners will be drawn on November 9th! Entrants can win weekly prize giveaways from our local participating partners.

_Email_

necessary. Entry forms are available at or may be mailed to Circulation. Gorge Adventure. 6605 SE Lake Road. Portland. OR 97269. Last day to enter Gorge Adventure is archies ricessary, in yourns are available at or imply be mained to include the property could be provided by the property of the property of

1053 NW Civic Dr

899 NE 25th Ave

Hillsboro, OR

503-718-0030

7421 SW Barbur Blvd, #190 Portland, OR 503-595-0399

Blvd Beaverton, OR 503-277-2252

Clackamas OR

503-652-4448

1505 NE 40th Ave Portland, OR 9757-E SE Sunnyside Rd 503-331-1000

Gresham, OR Lake Oswego, OR 503-667-1687

503-620-6732 503-352-1350 10090 SE Washington St 7801 NE Highway 99 Vancouver, WA

Portland, OR 503-595-0550

17805 SW 65th Ave

360-823-8001

12286 SW Scholls Ferry Rd Tigard, OR 503-590-9789

PDXSports

Thursday, Oct. 18

College football: Are the 6-0 Oregon Ducks for real? You know. No. 2-in-the-nation real? We'll find out more on this when the Ducks play at 26th-ranked Arizona State (5-1), today at 6 p.m. (ESPN). Then comes Oregon's tuneup game, Oct. 27 at home against 1-5 Colorado), before the big clash at No. 11 USC (5-1) on Nov. 3.

Munich '72 remembered: Dan Alon, one of five Israeli Olympic athletes who survived the terror attack on his team at the 1972 Munich Summer Olympics, will speak at 7 p.m. at Mittleman Jewish Community Center in Southwest Portland. General admission tickets are free: reserved tickets are recommended and are $10 to $25. Call 503-977-9947 for information. Alon, a fencer, has written a book, "Munich Memoir" about the attack by a Palestinian terrorist group that killed 11 Israeli team members.

College volleyball: Portland State takes a 9-1 Big Sky record into a 7 p.m. match with Eastern Washington (0-10, 0-21 overall) at

The Vikings suffered their first conference loss on Friday, 3-0 at Idaho State (also 9-1), as they were outhit for the first time in Big Sky play. They rebounded with a sweep at Weber State behind Aubrey Mitchell's eight kills and Kaeli Patton's six service aces.

The split left PSU 65th in the NCAA RPI rankings, with Northern Arizona 69th and Idaho State 75th.

Prep soccer: The Grant High girls, 6-3-0 and ranked second in Class 6A by the Oregon School Activities Association, will play host to 5A Cleveland (5-5-0) at 4:15

Grant's boys team, 5-1-3 and ranked first, goes to Cleveland (3-3-5). Kickoff is 7 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 19

Golden State plays at the Rose Garden, 7 p.m. (KGW 8). Warriors point guard Stephen Curry looks good after ankle surgery, with 24 points in 25 minutes Monday against Denver.

Prep football: No. 1-ranked in the OSAA formula, Central Catholic (5-2) can clinch another Mount Hood Conference title with a win over Barlow (2-5 and 40th out of 42 Class 6A teams) at Mt. Hood Community College.

No. 3 Aloha (7-0) visits No. 8 Jesuit (5-2) in a key Metro League battle. No. 29 Grant (3-4) is at No. 30 David Douglas (3-4), and No. 34 Centennial (1-6) is at No. 36 Lincoln (1-6) in other 6A games.

The PIL 5A has No. 12 Wilson (6-1) at No. 32 Madison (4-3),

TRIBUNE FILE PHOTO: NICK FOCHTMAN

Ty Rattie has a team-high seven goals, and 12 points in 10 games for the Portland Winterhawks.

with the Trojans on the verge of sewing up no worse than a tie for first place; Franklin (1-6) at Benson (0-7), Jefferson (0-6) at Roosevelt (5-2), and new school Ridgeview (5-2, No. 7 in 4A, 40 points per game) of Redmond at Cleveland (3-4). Also in 5A, St. Helens (1-6) treks to Parkrose

Also Friday, No. 2-ranked La Salle (5-2) plays at No. 20 Estacada (5-2) in a 4A game, and 2A No. 6 Portland Christian 7-0) plays host to No. 18 Nestucca (3-2). All games start at 7 p.m.

College soccer: The Portland State women (5-2-1, 16 points) play their final Big Sky regular-season game at 1 p.m. at Hillsboro Stadium against Sacramento State (3-3-2, 11 points). The Vikings are all but headed to their four-team conference tournament for the sixth year in a row, but a win Friday would help their chances of hosting the tourney as the regular-season champ.

Concordia's 17th-ranked men (9-0-0 Cascade Collegiate Conference) have a 6 p.m. home game with Oregon Tech (1-7-0). Warner Pacific's men (4-4-1) take on College of Idaho (1-7-0) at David Douglas High at 1 p.m.

College cross-country: Oregon State plays host to UP, PSU, Warner Pacific and others for the Beaver Classic at 10 a.m.

Saturday, Oct. 20

College football: It's Homecoming in Corvallis, as eighth-ranked Oregon State (5-0) plays Utah (2-4), 7:30 p.m. (ESPN2).

Portland State (2-4, 1-2 Big Sky) visits 12th-ranked Cal Poly (6-0, 4-0), 6 p.m. (CSN), to meet former coach Tim Walsh and his Mustangs QB, Andre Broadous from Grant High.

Fourth-ranked Linfield (5-0) has a 1 p.m. date at Lewis & Clark (4-2). No. 19 Willamette (6-0) is at Pacific Lutheran (3-2), 12:30 p.m.

Western Oregon (4-2 Great Northwest Athletic Conference) has won four in a row going into its game at Simon Fraser (2-4), 2

Winterhawks: Seattle (5-3-0-0) returns to Portland (7-3-1-0) for a 7 p.m. game at the Rose Garden. The Thunderbirds beat the Hawks 5-2 there in the Western Hockey League season opener on Sept.

Portland is coming off a solid road trip through parts of the Eastern Conference. The Winterhawks won four of six games in nine nights, with one of the losses in overtime, giving them nine of a possible 12 points on the swing.

'Our new players have integrated well into our skating, puck-moving, puck-possession team," coach-general manager Mike Johnston says. "It's still a long process — they're going to be up and down a little but they can all play the style we Goalie Mac Carruth returned to the team after a stint in an American Hockey League camp and allowed two goals in two games, with one shutout and two wins, to earn Canadian Hockey League goalie-of-the-week honors.

"Having a veteran goaltender is really important - it helps your team mentally," Johnston says.

Carruth is one of Portland's three allotted 20-year-olds. With his return, the Hawks released goalie Cam Lanigan, also 20.

"Cam did a phenomenal job for us," Johnston says. "Mac is ready to play at the pro level, but it's more difficult for a goalie to step in, especially during a lockout year, when there are more players."

Johnston calls Carruth and Brendan Burke, 17, a "great tandem," and is sticking with his preseason pronouncement that Burke will have a big role. "He's going to play a lot more than he did last season and is going to be our goaltender of the future," Johnston says.

Ty Rattie, Portland's leading scorer last season, got going with seven goals and four assists in the last five games.

"Everybody in the league was wondering what happened to Tv Rattie. Well, nothing happened to him," Johnston says. "He's played well every game, he just wasn't rewarded in the first couple. And we have six new guys on our power-play (teams), which has been reflected in our (lower) scoring. You also have to take into account that Ty was playing before with highly talented guys, and now he IS the guy. Teams are trying to get their best line or defense against him, and he's getting more checking pressure."

Seth Jones, the highly touted WHL rookie who will be a high NHL draft pick next spring, continued his solid play on defense, while adjusting to the speed of league play and contributing two goals and three assists

College volleyball: Big Sky co-leader PSU (9-1) meets Sacramento State (3-7) at 7 p.m. at Stott Center.

College soccer: The Concordia men play host to College of Idaho at 6 p.m., and Warner Pacific's men welcome OIT to David Douglas at 1 p.m.

Golf: The Oregon Golf Association Players Championship is today and Sunday at Columbia Edgewater Country Club.

Prep volleyball: West Linn hosts a major state tuneup tournament, with Central Catholic, Jesuit, Clackamas and Lake Oswego among the entries.

Sunday, Oct. 21

Timbers: Portland's last chance to get a road win this season comes at 4 p.m. at Vancouver (Root Sports). The Timbers are 7-16-9, 30 points, with two games remaining; the playoff-hopeful Whitecaps are 11-12-9, 42 points.

Monday, Oct. 22

Blazers: Utah visits the Rose Garden, 7 p.m. (KGW 8). The Jazz were 3-1 in the preseason going into Wednesday's game at the Los Angeles Clippers.

Tuesday, Oct. 23

Prep soccer: Grant's boys play Lincoln at Delta Park at 4:15 p.m. They tied 1-1 on Oct. 9. Also, Lincoln's girls play host to Grant at 7 p.m. The Generals beat the Cardinals 3-0 on Oct. 9.

Eggers: Confidence up

From page 10

try to keep the streak alive." Walsh has four assistant coaches with deep Portland ties. Three of them played for him at Portland State — Saga Tuitele (co-offensive coordinator/line), Juston Wood (wide receivers) and Neil Fendall (secondary). A fourth, Aristotle Thompson (slotbacks/recruiting coordinator), is a former star tailback at Jesuit High.

"For them, I'm sure there's some emotion involved with this game," Walsh says. "And I know Andre is fired up. He knows a lot of those (Portland State players). He wishes the game were being played in Portland."

I always thought Walsh was underappreciated during his time at Portland State, when the Vikings were 90-68 and always competitive despite being underfunded and with facilities less than ideal. It's not an easy place to win. Walsh's successor, Nigel Burton, has found that out, though he has improved his chances by upgrading facilities and working hard at recruiting in-state.

Now Walsh, 57, has re-invented himself running the tripleoption at Cal Poly. He might not admit it, but I'll bet there'll be more than a little emotion on his part Saturday night as he goes against the program he coached for so many years.

kerry eggers@portland tribune.com

TicketsWest outlets, RoseQuarter.com, or by calling 877.789.ROSE (7673). For more info please visit RoseQuarter.com

Costa: 'Football brain' shows on TV

From page 10

point of keeping a bond of trust with them. Hence, some details remain private, even though he is on the other side — part of the media. "You have to do that," he says of keeping some things confidential. "There's a lot of information I'm provided with because I have friends who are in the locker room everyday. But I don't share that information, because it's not supposed to be out there.

"It's not my job to break that information. That's not the type of media member I am.

"It's my job to share my experiences and break down complex things, put things into layman's terms so people can understand them better.

Kamens says he was imon the Comcast show.

"He's got a great football brain, and we're lucky to have him," Kamens says.

When Costa is not in the Comcast studio, he works with youth and prep football players. A product of private coaching coming out of his hometown of Hilmar, Calif., Costa has launched what he unofficially calls "Nate Costa Train-

"There was a niche that needed to be filled," Costa says, referring to a lack of private coaches in Oregon. "I figured I learned from the best (the UO coaches), and I had a lot of knowledge to share with these guys in Oregon and I might as well be the guy to fill that role."

Costa estimates that he has 25 clients in Portland and Eugene ranging from age 9 to 18.

pressed with Costa's first year He enjoys being able to pick and choose the coaching styles that he liked best in high school and college.

"I get to coach them in my own way," Costa says. "I don't have a head coach who's above me and telling me to teach them certain things. I am the head coach. I get to use the things I like, and I get to leave out the parts that I didn't like."

The work could be a gateway for Costa to get into college coaching. For now, though, he is cautious about taking that "I look at the college coaches and see the lifestyles they live as far as the strain it puts on their family because of the traveling," Costa says. "And that's why I'm not so eager to jump into that at this point. This is just a way for me to taste it — and so far, so good."

His knees are still not as healthy as most people's. He cannot yet play a full game of pickup basketball.

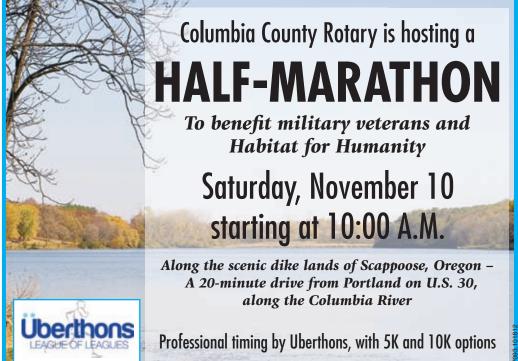

"It's something I can continue to work on," Costa says. "It's still a struggle for me on a daily basis. But I'm not going to give To be closer to some of his clients as well as the Comcast studio, Costa has moved from Eugene to Beaverton. And the stars have finally aligned. "I really like coaching," he says. "I like the impression that you can have on the young athletes and that I can help them in their lives. "And one thing that I worried about going into law enforcement was that I was going to be going away from my (Ducks) family. You take certain paths in life, and this path has led me back into that brotherhood.'

ATTENTION RUNNERS – SAVE THE DATE!

Registration at www.uberthons.com/rotaryhalf

Sports Tibue PAGE B8 Portland Tribune THIRSDAY OCTORER 19, 2019 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 2012

THE BESTP

Beavers' receiving duo Wheaton, Cooks become like brothers at OSU

By KERRY EGGERS The Tribune

CORVALLIS — West Virginia has Stedman Bailey and Tavon Austin, Baylor owns Terrance Williams and Tevin Reese, and Southern Cal boasts Marquise Lee and Robert Woods.

But there may not be a more potent 1-2 punch of receivers in college football than Oregon State's Markus Wheaton and Brandin Cooks.

In five games, Wheaton, a 6-foot, 180-pound yards and six touchdowns in Go to portland-tribune.com for Kerry Eggers' take on the OSUcoach Mike Riley's pro-style Utah game in "Kerry says." His pick: Bea-vers 27, Utes 13. For complete Oreerage, go to port-landtribune.com after the game.

Kerry says

offense. Cooks, a 5-9, 180-pound sophomore from Stockton, Calif., has 34 catches for 659 yards and a pair of scores. The votes out of Corvallis gon State-Utah cov- are going to the men of Orange as the eighth-ranked senior from Chandler, Ariz.,

has 41 receptions for 564

Beavers (5-0 overall, 3-0 in Pac-12 action) prepare to play host to Utah (2-4, 0-4) at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Reser Stadium. "I think they're the best twosome in the country, but I'm biased," Oregon State receivers coach Brent Brennan says. "I'm with them every day, and I see them work.

"There are lots of good wideouts and tandems in our conference. Every team has one or two guys who can really play at that position. But I believe in those two guys." So does Jordan Poyer, Oregon State's senior cornerback who ranks among the best nationally at his position, too.

"They're the top receiver tandem in the country, hands down — I'd bet on it," Poyer says. "I go against them every day in practice. They make me the player I am.

They're super-talented, but more than anything, they compete. That's been the whole mindset of this team compete and make everybody better. That's exactly who they are.'

Cooks ranks second nationally in receiving yardage per game and 22nd in receptions per game. Wheaton is sixth in the nation in receptions and 10th in receiving yardage. West Virginia's Bailey (55 catches, 766 yards, 14 TDs) and Austin (67 catches, 761 yards, 8 TDs) have huge numbers in six games. Baylor's Williams (37 for 830) and Reese (23 for 499) and USC's Lee (54 for 681) and Woods (36 for 360) have put up major stats in six contests,

How do Cooks and Wheaton figure they measure up?

"When people ask, we're going to be confident about it," Cooks says. "We're going

See OSU / Page 8

KerryEggers

ON SPORTS

Cal Poly football has PSU flavor

plays host to Portland State Saturday night in San Luis Obispo, it will be an emotional time for Tim Walsh. Right?

"I've not tried to play it down," says Walsh, the fourthyear Cal Poly head coach who ran the PSU program from 1993-2006. "But I have a philosophy on that.

"The game is for the players. It's our 2012 team playing (the Vikings') 2012 team."

Going against his former school "is in the back of your mind, but the emotional part of it is where we are at this point in our season.' For Cal Poly,

Senior Markus

Wheaton and fellow Oregon

State receiver made for Brandin Cooks, a sophomore, have arguably the top

pass-catching combo in the country this season in the Beavers' climb to No. 8 in the national rankings.

TRIBUNE PHOTO:

JAIME VALDEZ

can't do something, you just happen for a reason. And I'm happy with the direction I'm going in right now. I am truly

Costa was offered the job on "Talkin' Ducks" largely because of the ability he showed handling interviews as a play-

Costa needed to learn a few

TV things about eye contact and energy, but he quickly took

Nate has brought an expert insider's opinion and experience," says Dave Kamens, executive producer at CSNNW. "I found him to be such a nice guy, and he comes across that way in television, which you can't

The Ducks still have players

See COSTA / Page 9

with whom he shared a locker room, and Costa has made a

"Having been in the huddle, to the new job.

really teach.'

enjoying what I am doing.'

"It's cliché to say, but things can't do it.

it's a comely spot. The Mustangs are 6-0 and ranked 12th in the FCS in their first Big Sky year.

After going 4-7, 7-4 and 6-5 in his first three seasons, Walsh appears to be establishing the program he envisioned at Cal Poly. The Mustangs are averaging 38.2 points in the tripleoption offense that Walsh embraced during his second and final season as offensive coordinator at Army in 2008.

"We're pretty good," Walsh

A big part of that is quarterback Andre Broadous, the 6 - f o o t, 210-pound senior out of Grant High. has columns during passed for the week at portland

605 yards and tribune.com rushed for 292 yards and four

"Andre is the catalyst," Walsh says. "His numbers aren't as good as a year ago, but he has more of a target on his chest. In our offense, the quarterback has to make progression decisions instantly in the option game. You have to decide to give (the ball) to the job operating the offense. He has unselfishly distributed the Last Saturday in a 56-28 rout of Northern Colorado, Broadous ran for 68 yards and completed 9 of 12 passes for 195 yards and a pair of scores. Cal Poly is averaging fewer than 13 passes a game.

"When we throw, we're pret-

Slotback Deonte Williams is Cal Poly's other big offensive weapon. The 5-10, 205-pound senior has rushed for 757 yards and nine TDs. The Big Sky offensive freshman of the year at Northern Arizona in 2008, he transferred to Sierra (Calif.) College the next year, then signed with San Diego State, but didn't qualify academically. Williams wound up at Cal Poly and has become the Big the preseason pick to finish third in the FBS Mountain West — 24-22 at Laramie in its

"That has a lot to do with our success," Walsh says. "Our confidence level went far up after that game.'

The Mustangs were supposed to be pretty good this season, but not this good.

"If you'd asked me in July if we'd be 6-0 at this point, I'd say probably not," Walsh says.
"We're way ahead of pace, so to speak. Now we're going to

See EGGERS/ Page 9

More online Read other Read other Kerry Eggers
columns durin

nine touchdowns and fullback or pull it out. "He has done a tremendous ball to a lot of guys.'

ty efficient," Walsh says.

Sky's No. 2 rusher. Cal Poly beat Wyoming — second game Sept. 15.

Costa's new play cal II: IV, coacnin your body tells you that you

Ex-Duck QB doesn't let bad knees get in way of new careers

By STEPHEN ALEXANDER The Tribune

Star-crossed is one of the most haunting phrases in the English language. It means to be opposed by fate. No term so perfectly describes Nate Costa's career with the Oregon Ducks.

vears at the U quarterback.

first to Jeremiah Masoli

and then to

Darron

Thomas. Costa had all the

be a starter.

But, partly five

Ιn

More online

To read Jason Vondersmith's predictions for the Oregon-Arizona State game, go to "Jason says" at portlandtribune. com. His pick: Ducks 44, Sun Devils 31. ■ Complete coverage of the UO-ASU game also will be at potential to

portlandtribune.com

after the game.

one game. After a knee injury midway through the 2010 season ended Costa's playing career, he was ready to start the next chapter of his life. He was on his way to living his dream of being a police officer when fate dealt him another blow. Costa, who was sworn in as a your body is not going to allow

Public Safety Academy. 'My entire education throughout college was pointed in that direction," he says. "It was tough to be told that you to do this."

A little later, though, fate finally began to smile on him. He became a broadcaster on the Comcast SportsNet Northwest day of training at the Oregon show "Talkin' Ducks" and started a private coaching practice for quarterbacks and

> "I wish I could have continued with my law enforcement career," Costa says. "But when

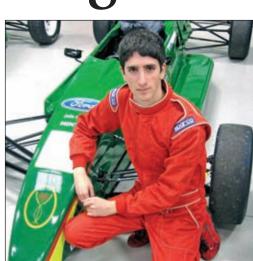

Jason Scukanec (left) and host Jordan Kent for a college football show on Comcast SportsNet Northwest. COURTESY OF

Nate Costa

(middle) joins

COMCAST SPORTSNET NORTHWEST

receivers.

COURTESY OF MARK DRAGHICESCU

Two years out of Westview High. Mark Draghicescu is majoring in motorsport engineering and trying to advance his open-wheel racing career overseas.

Young driver takes spin in England

ark Draghicescu, a 20-year-old college student, is trying to get his budding career on the

The 2010 Westview High graduate will be one of many aspiring race car drivers from around the world competing in the 40th annual Formula Ford Festival Oct. 27 and 28 at historic Brands Hatch near London.

Draghicescu, who lives and attends school in Derby, England, has a ride next weekend with 23 Racing, a local team, but he could

SCORESHEET use a good showing to land sponsorship that would enable him to race in the Formula Ford series next year.

ormula One stars Jenson Button and Mark Webber are among the previous Festival winners. Draghicescu wants to be an F-1 driver someday. The festival is one of many early steps that will have to be made by a Portlander who got hooked on the sport with his first rental kart seven years ago. "The sensation of pushing yourself and a car to the edge is difficult to explain," he says.

At Westview, the 6-foot, 155-pound Draghicescu swam and ran track. He also played piano and guitar for several years. But they all take a back seat now to driving a race

"I can't think of (all the) reasons why I enjoy it — it's the noise, the speed, the adrenaline, the nerves, competing not only with others but vourself, the continuous challenge, even in practice." The Formula Fords go more than 140 mph on the straightaways, "and it's quite fun when you're only a few inches away from your competitors," At Derby University, he shares a student hall flat with five other students. This is his second year of college there, and he is studying for a degree in motorsport engineering. "It's a unique course, as much of the learning is done within the technical facility," he says. "There's a lot of hands-on and practical experience."

■ If there is one place where most golfers generally don't want to hurry through a round, where they want to

See SCORESHEET / Page 8