Welcome

Denny Doyle
Mayor

I hope you enjoy the newly designed 2013-14 Beaverton Community Guide. It's a fine publication!

As I reflect on how much we have accomplished together, I am honored to serve as your Mayor. Our city continues to strive to represent The Best of Oregon. Recently, we received national recognition for our sustainability efforts and have secured millions in federal grant dollars to support downtown revitalization, community health efforts, and brownfield redevelopment. And we are not done!

Just as our city has seen positive changes, you may have noticed our Community Guide has seen some, too. This year, Tualatin Hills Park & Recreation District and the Washington County Visitors Association have partnered with the Beaverton Area Chamber of Commerce and the city — helping grow the success of this beautiful publication. This effort is just another shining example of Beaverton's collaborative spirit!

This year, the city will continue to focus on strengthening our partnerships — because no organization can meet today's challenges alone. That is why our nationally-recognized Beaverton Community Vision program is bringing together more than 60 partners to help us reach our goals. Today, I am happy to report that 91 percent of the community vision priorities are underway. For a 20-year plan to have accomplished so much in just three years shows that the city and its partners are committed to making Beaverton better.

Speaking of charging ahead, Beaverton is proud of Nike's recent decision to expand its world headquarters in Washington County. Nike continues to be a leader in job creation, and generates excellent economic opportunities in our region and in our state.

In Beaverton, we will continue to drive our economic development strategies forward to make Beaverton the most attractive and competitive community in the region. We have added some impressive tools to increase our competitiveness. And people are noticing! We've added nearly 650 acres, voluntarily, to our city in the past five years. Businesses and land owners want to join our city, work with our community, and grow and expand their opportunities. They know what we know, that Beaverton is truly The Best of Oregon!

Lorraine Clarno
Beaverton Chamber President/CEO

Welcome to the 2013-2014 Beaverton Community Guide. There are so many new and good things going on organizationally in our Chamber and in our community — things are going to be very different here in the next 5 years. Did you know the Beaverton Chamber, in an independent study, was ranked the number 1 Social Media Friendly Chamber in the state? 69th in the nation? We are strategically and deliberately evolving our programming and activities to be relevant and cutting edge for our members.

The Community Vision plan continues to evolve and make differences each day. More than 90% of the action items are underway or complete (and this is a 20-year plan). Our enterprise zones have been expanded and have resulted in job creation and revitalization in the heart of our community. Nike is staying at home and growing at home! Our City is moving its general services to the South Office building at the Beaverton Round and the retail space is filling up. The South Plaza is under construction and will be gorgeous by the end of summer. Creek revitalization is underway and so much more. Beaverton is growing up.

This Guide is a tremendous tool to help you support your locally owned and operated businesses. Shopping local is important....it is, in fact, vital! Please reference this guide and frequent our members and advertisers. They believe in Beaverton and I know you do too!

If you have a business in our area and want to join forces with an active, positive, energetic association of business and community leaders dedicated to improving the quality of life in the Beaverton area.....we'd love to have you! It feels good to make a difference.

Community

Beaverton is a welcoming, active, and diverse community.

More than 90,000 people call Beaverton home. Our citizens enjoy an unparalleled quality of life with excellent schools, numerous recreational opportunities, shopping, and a tremendous regional location. The city benefits from tremendous cultural diversity, with one in four people being born outside the United States. Beaverton is the safest city of our size in Oregon.

Award-winning community outreach.

The city has received both national and regional awards for public involvement and communications. Our public information program won top honors from the City County Communications and Marketing Association (3CMA) for its video highlighting Beaverton as The Best of Oregon. Our Beaverton Community Vision program was recognized for its successful multilingual outreach efforts. Priorities in the plan include revitalizing Beaverton's downtown, improving mobility, building community, and much more.

Beaverton's next great places.

The city is growing. In 2012, the city annexed a 544-acre area known as South Cooper Mountain. This area is integral to fulfilling the city's future housing needs, with more than 3,500 housing units envisioned in the area. The city is working on a concept plan that will be complete in 2014.

We also have exciting developments to the north. The successful build-out of the 26-acre 45° Central, designed for sustainability and active living, is underway. And plans are progressing for a planned unit development on 80 acres of J. Peterkort property, north of Highway 26. The site is envisioned to accommodate a mix of residential and commercial uses.

Our sustainable community.

The City of Beaverton's sustainability program strives to minimize negative environmental, social, and economic impacts by supporting low-carbon economies and lifestyles, energy efficiency and security, health and well-being, and ecosystem stewardship, while serving as a leader and community partner to meet the current and future needs of the city. For more information about sustainability projects and initiatives throughout Beaverton, visit www.BeavertonOregon.gov/Green or email Green@BeavertonOregon.gov.

Vibrant Downtown

Beaverton Farmers Market

On any given Saturday from May through November, the Beaverton Farmers Market is the place to be. The library parking lot is transformed into a vibrant marketplace enjoyed by thousands of people from around the region. The market also operates on Wednesday nights from mid-June through August, and has expanded to include a winter market on some weekends.

Beaverton City Library

Beloved by all, the Beaverton City Library's main branch is the single-busiest library in the state and growing! The downtown library circulates more than a quarter of the county's total items in circulation. For kids, the library has more than one million books and other items, and offers storytimes attended by more than 10,000 children.

The library is also a showcase for the city's participation in the Department of Energy's Better Buildings Challenge. The city recently received recognition from President Obama for its accomplishments. The low-cost energy savings at the library have led to the reduction of 113,636 kWh of electricity and gas since August 2012. A 17.6 kW solar array on the library roof generates over $6,700 in annual revenue.

City Park – the Heartbeat of Beaverton

City Park, with the iconic fountain that invites residents all ages to cool off in the summer, is the heart of the community. Each year, the city sponsors outdoor events and activities for all ages at the park, including outdoor movies at Flicks by the Fountain, and Ten Tiny Dances which showcases innovative performances.

First Fridays in Downtown Beaverton

The Beaverton Downtown Association, in partnership with the city, hosts a First Friday series from May through October. Participating businesses extend their hours to offer a variety of activities from food tasting, musical entertainment, discounts, and demonstrations.

Round Revitalization

Plans are underway to relocate City Hall to The Round. The move is estimated to be complete by mid-2014. In addition, the South Plaza at The Round will be constructed over the summer of 2013, fulfilling two specific community vision actions: to create more open public plazas in the downtown and to support public art installations.

The "Three Creeks One Will" sculpture designed by Devin Laurence Field is 37.5 feet tall and eight feet across. It pays homage to the generations of people who have worked on the land, as well as the natural amenity of the three creeks that meet in Beaverton's downtown.

The city has also worked with ScanlanKemperBard (SKB) on parking lot improvements in the area to make The Round more accessible for visitors.

Beaverton Creekside District

At just under 50 acres, the Beaverton Creekside District is a small area in Beaverton's downtown. It is located at the confluence of Beaverton's three creeks and sits at the core of the Regional Center's transit systems. It is the natural focal point for a revitalized downtown Beaverton.

With the help of a $1 million Sustainable Communities Challenge grant from the U.S. Department Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the city is focusing on a downtown creeks plan, a district transportation plan, and a district housing and redevelopment plan. Together, these three components will guide planning and public investment to assist owners in improving the district.

New Downtown Walking Map

Through a $5,000 grant from the Washington County Visitors Association, the City of Beaverton released a new downtown Beaverton walking map and online downtown map. The map will show key assets such as art, historic buildings, and sustainability features, as well as walking routes within the downtown.

Open for Business

Beaverton's Economic Development Program

The City of Beaverton has a team of economic development professionals whose mission is to work collaboratively to support local business, attract new jobs, create entrepreneurial opportunities, and add value to Beaverton's economy. Over the past couple of years, the team has been focused on building Beaverton's business toolkit — to bring home incentives that help both small and large businesses locate and grow. Learn more about any of the city's programs listed on these pages by visiting www.BeavertonOregon.gov.

Storefront Improvement Program

The city offers business and property owners of commercial buildings in a portion of downtown up to $20,000 in matching grant funds to improve their facades. Additionally, Banner Bank has partnered with the city to offer low-interest financing for these commercial upgrades.

New Market Tax Credits

The city is actively pursuing development opportunities to use new market tax credits in the downtown. The program provides tax incentives to investors in low-income communities or areas of economic stress in order to promote economic improvements through the development of successful businesses.

Vertical Housing Development Zone

The vertical housing program is a partial property tax exemption for new mixed use development in the downtown. To qualify, a project must have non-residential development on the ground floor and residential development on the floors above.

Enterprise Zone

The city offers eligible businesses cost-effective investment opportunities aimed at improving employment, spurring economic growth and diversifying business activity. A condition of eligibility is based on a minimum $1 million investment either through expansion, new development, and/or approved equipment. Eligible businesses locating or expanding in the enterprise zone can receive exemption from property taxes for a short period of time.

Brownfields Redevelopment

The city, in partnership with the state, offers brownfields redevelopment assistance. The city works with property owners to determine if a site is in need of cleanup, and then connects the property owner with information regarding legal issues, steps for mitigation, funding, and other tools available. The city recently was awarded two U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) grants, totaling $400,000, to support the program.

Federal HUB Zone Certification Program

The City of Beaverton has three census tracts in which small businesses are eligible for access to more federal contracting opportunities. Administered by the U.S. Small Business Administration, the program benefits include: a competitive sole source contracting with the federal government, and a 10 percent price evaluation preference in full and open contract competitions, as well as subcontracting opportunities.

Responsible

Fiscal Responsibility

Beaverton is unique among governments, in that the city does not utilize its full taxing authority, and city leadership strives to live within its means. Beaverton has not increased its property tax rate in four years. The city's finance department is nationally recognized for its good work. The city has added new business outreach support programs, including workforce training dollars, enterprise zones, micro lending programs, small business assistance, and more.

City Hall Relocation

In early 2013, the City Council decided to relocate City Hall to a city-owned building at The Round. All departments currently operating out of City Hall are expected to move to The Round, with the exception of the police and court. The move is an integral part of the city's strategy to cost-effectively address long-standing overcrowding and operational challenges at the current City Hall.

The city purchased an office building at The Round in 2012 for $8.65 million. Between the purchase price and the estimated expenses for moving and tenant improvements, the city will be able to relocate city services for considerably less than the price of building a new City Hall. These cost savings are important as the city now focuses on the need for an updated police and public safety facility.

Police and Public Safety Building

Continuing to be recognized as one of the safest cities in the Pacific Northwest is a tremendous point of pride. The Beaverton Police Department is nationally recognized for its innovative programs. Our city thrives because people feel safe to enjoy the community.

The need to expand the police, court, and emergency operations remains a top priority. A volunteer advisory committee recommended that the city establish a new public safety facility. Today, the police are sharing an office building never designed for public safety functions. The building also does not meet legally required standards for emergency service providers.

The recent decision by the City Council to move City Hall to The Round creates the opportunity to dedicate the entire current City Hall building to public safety, consolidating services that are currently housed in space the city leases at other locations. It allows the city to take a building it already owns, and repurpose it to create a new building that will better serve the public for years to come.

A remodeled building will look very different and work more efficiently than the current facility, which was not designed as a police building. In addition, the city already owns the current City Hall building, which means instead of spending $8-$10 million of our budget to purchase property, the city can spend those savings on additional needs for the department and benefits for the public.

Together we're investing in a cleaner future.

At Clean Water Services, we support healthy rivers, streams and wetlands through strong local infrastructure, high standards of energy efficiency and constant innovation in the field of water resources management.

Beaverton Schools

The Beaverton School District is nationally recognized for its high student and staff achievement and innovative programs. Beaverton is the third largest school district in Oregon with 51 excellent neighborhood schools and 24 learning option programs serving nearly 40,000 students. Our goal is for every student to graduate with many options and be prepared for post high school learning. In Beaverton, WE expect all students to excel. Highly qualified teachers and staff are dedicated to providing outstanding, challenging educational opportunities that prepare students to be college and career ready. The district enjoys strong community support with parents, citizens, community partners and businesses donating countless volunteer hours and services to help each student succeed.

Tualatin Hills Park & Recreation District

Connecting people, parks and nature

The award-winning Tualatin Hills Park & Recreation District covers 50 square miles of the greater Beaverton area and offers year-round recreational opportunities to about 230,000 residents.

Something for everyone

We respond to the needs and interests of our residents, offering professionally designed and managed programs for all age groups and skill levels. These include soccer, basketball, gymnastics, dance, swim lessons, arts and crafts and much more. We have six recreation centers and eight swim centers (six indoor, two outdoor). For those seeking nature, we maintain more than 90 park sites with active recreational amenities, 60 miles of trails, and 1,400 acres of natural areas.

And thanks to a $100 million bond measure passed by voters in 2008, the district is continually improving and adding to the community's recreational opportunities.

Youth activities

Are you looking for ways to get the kids away from video games? We can help. Our K-12 programs include team sports such as football, soccer, T-ball and basketball. We also provide classes such as tennis instruction and learn-to-swim training by certified instructors. And don't forget our summer camps and assortment of nature programs.

Adult programs

Team sports aren't just for kids. So come on out and play! We also offer adult league programs for softball, soccer, basketball, and volleyball. Many of the softball and volleyball leagues offer co-ed options. Our recreation centers have challenging workout equipment and host a variety of health and fitness classes to meet your needs.

Just for seniors

Individuals 55 years of age and better can enjoy the Elsie Stuhr Center on Hall

Boulevard near downtown Beaverton. The Stuhr Center's program offerings include health and fitness instruction, arts and crafts, and a vast array of social events, activities and classes geared to the interests of active, mature adults. Stop by and experience for yourself the quality of people and services that make this place special. Or call the center at 503/629-6342.

Fun for families

THPRD brings people together, especially families. Our parks, trails and natural areas are all free to use. The same goes for our three lakes – Commonwealth, Progress and Bethany – where fishing is a popular pastime. And consider this: In many of the classes we offer, parents and their children can participate together.

Special events

Our centers host a wide variety of fun events for kids and adults throughout the year. Check out the calendar on pages 26-27

Park District is focused on education, too

THPRD offers self-improvement classes on a wide variety of recreational topics for everyone from toddlers to seniors. Each year, the district provides about 3,000 unique classes.

for events such as Fall Festival at Cedar Hills and Holiday Bazaar at Garden Home. Take the kids to a dive-in movie at one of the pools. And experience nature up close with Bug Fest or Newt Day at the Tualatin Hills Nature Park Interpretive Center.

Se habla Español

Por favor llame al 503/645-6433 para asistencia en Español.

Registering for classes

Registering for classes and purchasing passes is easy at THPRD. For details, see our activities guide at www.thprd.org or pick up a printed copy at any THPRD center. You can also call 503/645-6433. Every qualifying district resident has the opportunity to participate in fee-based recreational activities regardless of his or her financial situation.

Just visiting the area?

Even if you don't live here, you can still use THPRD facilities. Drop in and pay a one-time fee to go swimming or play some hoops. The recreation and aquatic centers have locker rooms and showers.

For more information

Visit us online at www.thprd.org for class schedules, activities and all the information you need, including maps to guide you around the district.

Follow us on twitter: www.twitter.com/thprd. Or "like us" on Facebook; just enter THPRD in the Facebook search box to view page choices.

Summertime is fun time with THPRD

Oregonians love summer. And why not? After enduring months of gray and weeping skies, we get to pursue our outdoor passions in the warm embraces of the sun. Summer and THPRD go hand in hand. We offer an array of activities – many of them free – from June to September that bring people together and make life better in our district. Of added importance, these activities create healthy, fun and meaningful memories for children of all ages.

Here are just a handful of the opportunities that your Park District provides each summer:

Party in the Park, our biggest community event of the year, happens the last Saturday in July at the Howard M. Terpenning Complex (HMT), 158th & Walker Road. It's a daylong festival of fun with the Beaverton International Celebration, Family Triathlon, The Classic at T-Hills car show, inflatables, climbing walls, arts and crafts, sports, music and more. Admission is free, and so is almost everything inside.

Our family-oriented Concerts & Theater in the Park series is another community tradition. Each year starting in early July and continuing into late August, neighborhood parks across the district come alive with a variety of musical styles. Spread a blanket or set up a chair and watch the kids dance at these free evening events.

Looking for ways to keep the kids busy during summer vacation? Well, look no further! We offer a huge variety of camps to meet every interest, including sports, nature, recreation and aquatics.

Our colorful Rec Mobile and Nature Mobile bring arts and crafts, games and environmental education to low-income children who aren't able to travel to THPRD facilities themselves. Look for them at major community events, too.

Need a great place to play or watch baseball, softball, tennis and other sports during the summer? There are games galore at HMT, Sunset Park and the PCC Rock Creek Recreation Facility.

But that's not all. There's swimming at the Somerset and Raleigh outdoor pools, picnicking at the Jenkins Estate, and escaping the heat among the tall trees of the Tualatin Hills Nature Park. At Big Truck Day in August at the Conestoga Recreation & Aquatic Center, little ones take delight in honking the horns of mammoth tractor-trailer rigs.

Summertime is definitely fun time with THPRD. For more information, visit www.thprd.org or call 503/645-6433.

Endless appeal

Oregon's Washington County

Oregon's Washington County, one of the Pacific Northwest's hidden gems, and the city of Beaverton is the gateway to this destination that is full of surprises at every turn. This burgeoning destination mixes suburban amenities with serene natural and agricultural settings, and boasts a multitude of celebrated attractions and amenities such as wineries, nature parks and preserves, golf courses, produce farms, outdoor recreation and much more.

Rural and Agricultural Landscapes

Farms are abundant in the area, providing visitors with hands-on experience at dozens of "u-pick" farms with crops ranging from berries and fruits to nuts and flowers.

A drive through the region's agricultural areas, via the Vineyard & Valley Scenic Tour Route, which starts in Helvetia and winds through rural landscapes to Sherwood, takes travelers by many of these farms, vineyards and wineries, as well as by alpaca farms and a bison ranch that sells fresh bison meat, jerky and other products.

While the region's largest all-agricultural farmers market in the region is right here in Beaverton, and draws locals and visitors alike, farmers markets are extremely popular throughout Washington County. Most cities and communities that make up Washington County host a weekly market, each one with its own offerings and personalities.

Wineries and Wine Tasting

Oregon's Willamette Valley is known for its exquisite Pinot Noir, and Washington County is home to more than 30 wineries. This growing wine region has continued to thrive with new wineries entering the landscape each year, and the varietals produced include much more than Pinot Noir. Cool-weather varietals, such as Riesling, Gewürztraminer and Pinot Gris, as well as Chardonnay, grow well in this region.

Annual wine events provide visitors and residents with the chance to discover new wineries, or revisit favorite ones. Each April, the North Willamette Vintners host its North Willamette Wine Trail, a self-guided tour of dozens of wineries throughout Oregon's Washington County offers a diverse selection of activities, from bird watching, cycling and kayaking to berry picking and wine tasting.

Washington County for wine tasting, entertainment and hands-on activities.

In October during "crush," the North Willamette Harvest Trail is a day-long guided educational tour of three wineries. Guests learn about the art of wine making, from vineyard to bottle, and the day ends with a grand tasting featuring about a dozen wineries.

In addition to these county-wide events, several wineries host their own events, such as live music, movies and dinners.

Outdoor Recreation and Adventure

Washington County is an outdoor adventure destination, complete with activities ranging from bird watching to zip-lining. Wildlife watching is plentiful throughout Washington County, as the destination has several protected wetlands and nature preserves that are available to the public with walking trails, viewing spots and interpretive centers.

Several miles of biking and hiking trails are available throughout the county. Cyclists will find the Freeride Trail—designed by and for mountain bikers—at L.L. “Stub” Stewart State Park a thrilling experience. Not-to-be-missed is the newly-designated Tualatin Valley Scenic Bikeway, a 50-mile cycling route for intermediate and advanced riders (cyclists of all abilities can enjoy the 21-mile Banks-Vernonia State Trail, also part of the bikeway).

Outdoor recreation isn’t limited to hiking and cycling. Water recreation spots and paddling sites, including Henry Hagg Lake and the Tualatin River, offer a multitude of experiences and opportunities, including picnicking, nature walks, kayaking and canoeing, disc golf and more.

Western Washington County is home to many outdoor pursuits, such as Tree to Tree Adventure Park, an aerial ropes course and zip-line park with a 1,280-foot zip, and Campbell’s 3D Archery, a family-run archery park complete with 3D targets.

Golf is another popular pastime here, and Washington County has 12 public and semi-private golf clubs, ranging from executive nine-hole to championship 18-hole courses. High-profile courses, such as The Reserve Vineyards and Golf Club and Pumpkin Ridge Golf Club, have hosted some of the biggest professional names in the sport, in addition to some of golf’s most prestigious professional and amateur events.

Whether you live here, or are just visiting, explore the diverse array of attractions and activities that await in Oregon’s Washington County. For more information, visit the Washington County Visitors Association’s official destination website.

Beaverton Last Tuesday –Summer Concert Series

Live music, arts and crafts vendors and fine dining at The Round. An outdoor celebration of great music, art and food, enjoyed by all age groups. The Last Tuesday series is on the last Tuesday of June, July and August, in the public plaza at The Round.

Beaverton Celebrates with Ten Tiny Dances

An experiment in confined space. Ten Tiny

Dances is a performance series dedicated to fostering inventive dance/performance art and providing an accessible performance experience for a diverse audience — all on a 4-by-4 foot stage. Spectators visit five unique stage sites where they experience a total of 10 dances performed by a mix of contemporary and traditional/ethnic dancers and choreographers. 2013 marks the fifth annual for this summer celebration of Beaverton's diversity.

Beaverton's Sculpture Installation Program

Temporary art installations in Beaverton's public art collection remain on display for two years, generate a sense of place, and welcome visitors to Lombard Plaza and Progress Lake in Beaverton.

Beaverton's Annual Visual Arts Showcase

Held at the Beaverton City Library, the Visual Arts Showcase is a juried show, highlighting the incredible talents of more than 80 Oregon artists in a wide variety of media, including oils, acrylics, watercolor, sculpture, fine craft, mixed media, printmaking, and book arts. 2012 marked the 30th anniversary for this event. Look for the next Showcase event in August 2014!

The Beaverton Arts Commission's mission is to enhance, unite, and celebrate our diverse community through art.

“The nation behaves well if it treats its natural resources as assets which it must turn over to the next generation increased, and not impaired, in value.” Theodore Roosevelt

Parks & Golf

There’s plenty to do in Beaverton, and you can thank Elsie Stuhr for that.

Stuhr, a P.E. instructor, and other citizens foresaw almost 60 years ago that the Beaverton area would grow. They sought the creation of park and recreation services for children, adults and families. They pushed for an initiative to create a recreation district.

“Parents soon realized that while there was a more informal atmosphere in the suburbs, there was also a lack of recreational facilities for families, and no one seemed to be planning for future open space,” Stuhr wrote.

In 1955, voters approved the initiative creating the Tualatin Hills Park & Recreation District.

Today, THPRD serves about 230,000 residents. The district’s features include six recreation centers, three sport complexes, two nature parks, eight swim centers, three historic sites, a senior center, nearly 500 athletic fields and courts, three skate parks, and three lakes. The district also sponsors recreational and competitive league sports and special-interest classes.

THPRD maintains 90 park sites with active recreational amenities. The district owns and/or maintains 2,200 acres of parks, with a park located within a half mile of every home. It also boasts 60 miles of trails and 1,400 acres of natural areas.

While THPRD provides a regional network of parks and recreational facilities, the city also provides places for children and families to stretch and enjoy life in Beaverton. One of those is Veterans Memorial Park, located in a two-block area between Seventh and Ninth streets, and Washington and Watson avenues.

The hugely popular City Park Fountain, located in Beaverton’s City Park (between Watson Avenue and Hall Boulevard, and Fourth and Fifth streets, and across from Beaverton City Library) opens at the same time, in May, as the Beaverton Farmers Market. Fountain hours are daily, 8 a.m. to dark, and it shuts down for the season either in tandem with the Farmers Market or when the weather cools off significantly.

Top 10 parks in the beaverton area

Howard M. Terpenning Recreation Complex: This award-winning, 92-acre complex is a beehive of recreational activity, receiving about 8 million visits per year. It offers facilities for tennis, aquatics, basketball, soccer, softball, and other sports as well as two skate parks, an indoor walking/running track, trails and natural area.

Jenkins Estate: This 68-acre country estate on Cooper Mountain features a log home dating from 1912 and a refurbished stable suitable for business meetings and social events. The beautifully landscaped grounds are used frequently for weddings.

Cooper Mountain Nature Park: Opened in mid-2009, this 230-acre park offers a nature house and 3 ½ miles of trails through various habitats, including a small prairie and stands of Oregon white oak. Don’t miss the spectacular view of the Chehalem Mountains.

Tualatin Hills Nature Park: This 222-acre wildlife preserve is an oasis of solitude just minutes from the hustle-bustle of downtown Beaverton. It has an interpretive center and five miles of trails through forests, creeks, wetland, ponds and meadows.

Bethany Lake Park and Rock Creek Trail: Park amenities include a large lake for fishing and wildlife viewing, information kiosk, and picnic tables. Bike or walk the paved path for miles past playgrounds and green space.

Raleigh Park and Swim Center: The heavily-wooded park has ball fields, tennis courts, play equipment, and more. Enjoy a picnic or go for a swim in the 25-yard outdoor pool (summer only).

Somerset Park and Swim Center: Cool off at the 25-yard outdoor pool (summer only), then play some tennis at the adjoining park or watch a ball game. Or turn the kids loose for fun on the play equipment.

Greenway Park: This 87-acre park snakes through south Beaverton, offering not just sports facilities but wetlands and wildlife habitat, too. Try your hand at disc golf on the nine-hole course, THPRD's first.

Commonwealth Lake Park: This site spans more than 20 acres and is a popular fishing hangout thanks to its well maintained dock and easy access to the water. A paved trail encircles the lake for walkers and joggers.

Hyland Forest Park: This heavily wooded 30-acre site has been described as "a welcome breath of wilderness in the suburban heart of Beaverton." The trail system not only offers exercise but good sightseeing (wildflowers in spring, leaves in the fall).

Serving Beaverton for the past 20 years

Greetings from the Beaverton Area Chamber of Commerce!

At our last board meeting, I was looking at the back of my name placard which states the chambers mission statement. The statement reads “The Beaverton Area Chamber of Commerce strategically leads business development and retention, advocates sound public policy and provides innovative member services to sustain and enhance our vibrant and diverse community.” The statement is there to remind each Board Member of our goals and to help guide our decision making responsibilities.

As the Chair of the Board, I have come to value that statement and can safely say that each member of the Board works hard to fulfill our mission. This Resource Directory is an example of that mission and is a reflection of the wonderful members who make up our Chamber.

I would like to thank all our members, the advertisers and our staff for creating this Resource Directory. Without your efforts we would not be able to provide such a quality tool to maximize our community connections and services.

We are entering exciting times with the economy in recovery and our community continuing to grow. We value our members and will continue to add services that will enhance business and add to our great City of Beaverton.

If you are not part of the Chamber we invite you to join. I promise you will not regret it!

Sincerely,

Ken Madden

Celebrating Serving Businesses since 1953!

The Beaverton Area Chamber of Commerce is a not-for-profit private business organization that recognizes the importance and value of working together to achieve a healthy business climate and thriving community.

Strengthening the local economy is our number one priority. We do this by promoting our community, speaking as the voice of business to government, and providing strategic networking and partnering opportunities.

We also serve as a resource and reference desk to our community. Our Visitors Center meets, greets and serves more than 2,200+ annually in our front office. Thousands of phone and email inquiries each year provide a wonderful opportunity for us to share our community with current residents and great referrals for our members.

Please call 503-644-0123 or stop by the Beaverton Chamber at 12655 SW Center Street, Ste. 140, weekdays between 9am and 5 pm or visit our website www.beaverton.org for information about our outstanding community. June – August, our office closes on Fridays at noon.

Be Bold. Be Business.

Beaverton Chamber Committees, Events and Programs

The many volunteer committees within the Chamber are responsible for our successful events and other endeavors. We could not bring our membership such a comprehensive program without them! Committee members are all Chamber Members or employed by a Chamber Member, and enjoy the benefits of an excellent learning and networking experience.

The Ambassador Committee is the Chamber's most visible volunteer group. Members host ribbon-cuttings and chamber events, recruit and welcome new members and serve as the liaison between the Chamber and the business community.

Auction Planning Committee is responsible for the Annual Holiday Auction and Online Auction donations and event planning.

Business Advocacy Council - members review and take positions on a range of business related legislation and issues and vote to approve any legislative positions that align with the board-approved public policy platform.

Candidate Endorsement Council - The CEC mission is to promote a vibrant business environment by endorsing candidates who support sound public policy that strengthens the business community and the free enterprise system.

direct*CONNECT - The Chamber's internal, structured, exclusive referrals/leads group(s) Golf Scramble Committee plans and executes the Annual Golf Scramble, promotes the event, finds sponsors, players, and volunteers to make this event possible.

Leadership Beaverton engages a diverse network of citizens and business leaders that are inspired and empowered through education and awareness to take action to improve their communities.

Political Action Committee promotes a healthy business climate, supports Beaverton's economic vitality, and encourages members to participate in the governmental process.

Rooftop Hullabaloo - celebrating business landmark anniversaries including the Chamber's and the City's 60 and 120 years in 2013.

#DRIVEN Committee - The mission is "To be a catalyst for connecting the next generation of leaders with local business, community and each other."

Mission Statement

The Beaverton Area Chamber of Commerce strategically leads business development and retention, advocates sound public policy and provides innovative member services to sustain and enhance our vibrant and diverse community.

Two Beaverton Chamber programs dedicated to growing future Community and Business Leaders!

Beaverton YEA! – Young Entrepreneurs Academy

YEA! provides a focused introduction to the business world, combining a dynamic, proven curriculum with the experiences of local leaders of industry, community members, educators and entrepreneurs.

The goal of all YEA! classes is for each student to successfully launch their own business.

Each fall 24 middle and high school students are accepted for the program, which runs from November through June.

Mission

Develop and deliver experience-based entrepreneurship programs to young people to:

- Enable them to transition successfully to adulthood;

- Help them to pursue their dreams by harnessing their creativity and energy;

- Help them transform their ideas into tangible enterprises that create economic and social value for a better world;

- Develop the character of tomorrow's leaders based on personal principles and values;

- Enable educational institutions and Chambers of Commerce to provide successful and effective entrepreneurship programs for middle and high school students;

- Create a culture of innovation in schools and communities across the nation; and

- Foster the entrepreneurial mindset in young people, educators, and community members.

To participate in these programs go to www.beaverton.org/bold or call 503 644 0123.

Leadership Beaverton

Since 1997, Leadership Beaverton has prepared 283 citizens to improve our community through service and participation.

This one year program provides training through interactive community learning experiences and service projects.

Leadership Beaverton grew from a desire for more knowledgeable volunteers, board members and elected officials in the city.

Each summer 25 students are accepted for the program, which runs from September through May.

Mission

To engage a diverse network of citizens and business leaders that are inspired and empowered through education and awareness to take action to improve their communities.

"If you're ready to learn more, experience more and be more involved in your community – Leadership Beaverton is for you! Your journey through this challenging program will make you a better person, a more knowledgeable volunteer, a more effective leader...and you'll discover some great new friends along the way!"
